HOWL DOWN OPA MOVE TO STALL FUEL OIL PROBE

House Group Backs Illinois Inquiry.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—Demands for a legislative investigation of the federal fuel oil rationing program in the state gained power today when the house executive committee recommended that the house of representatives concur in a senate joint resolution seeking the inquiry.

Three officials of the office of price administration state headquarters appeared suddenly at today's hearing in a vain attempt to block the resolution. The vote was 20 to 3, with one member voting "present." Tomorrow the resolution will be offered to the house for adoption.

The hearing was punctured by chuckles and table pounding as representatives voiced their indignation at burocratic regulations which have chilled thousands of Illinoisans in a state which boasts its own oil fields.

Question East's Benefits.

As did former President Herbert Hoover recently, the resolution raised the question of whether the drastic cut in home heating benefits the east coast, which lacks means of transporting the oil.

A. D. Hovey, Kenneth H. Lemmer, and W. L. Hoffman of the OPA office here contended there have been few complaints, but were howled down by representatives who have heard hundreds from their constituents.

"Probably their fingers are so cold that they can't write their complaints," Reed F. Cutler, Lewistown, majority leader in the house, suggested to the OPA officials. "Near my town there are 340 trailers housing workers who are building an army camp and from 75 to 200 have consulted my own law firm about getting enough fuel to make their places livable."

Admits Situation Bad.

Hoffman admitted that the trailer situation near all war plants is bad, but said a new order effective today has been issued to remedy it.

Questions about the OPA formula which takes into account square feet of floor space but not ceiling heights were fired at the OPA officials. These had been arrived at nationally, in Washington, without any special study having been made in Illinois, they admitted.

"In old houses we suggest insulation," Hovey said, "or conversion to coal."

"I've got the fourth oldest house in one of the oldest towns and I can't convert to coal," Cutler retorted.

Raps Washington Ideas.

"There are a lot of screwballs in Washington who don't know the situation in Illinois," Rep. Clinton Searle [R., Rock Island] said.

Rep. Leo D. Crowley [R., Peoria] said that the situation is a "monstrosity" and asked the OPA men to explain a "degree day," which is used in rationing calculations. The explanations convulsed several members.

Representatives Lottie Holman O'Neill [R., Downers Grove] and Nick Keller [R., Waukegan] declared that housewives are determined to find out the facts regarding Illinois fuel oil rationing.

In the vpting a Democrat, J. L. Wellinghoff of Belleville, joined the Republicans.

BRITISH AREN'T BITTER TOWARD US: MRS. F. D. R.

New York, Feb. 2 [Special].—The British people perhaps think Americans are queer and "talk funnily," but they have no bitterness or prejudice against us, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said today in a talk before the English Speaking union.

"American and British boys have to be made to understand each other," she said. "We should take more interest in how we teach history. It would do a lot toward helping us make a better peace." She added that many American service men sent to Great Britain are prejudiced against the English because history is not taught intelligently in American schools."

Anti-British prejudice is being overcome once American boys have enjoyed British hospitality and have come to know the British population, Mrs. Roosevelt said.

MAJOR DRIVE TO TAKE SOLOMONS OPENED BY JAPS

Both Sides Suffer Losses, Navy Says.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—The Japanese have launched another major effort to retake the Solomon Islands, the navy announced tonight, and American forces have engaged them in what may be the greatest sea-air battle of the Pacific to date.

Both sides have suffered some losses, the communique said, but information regarding them was withheld.

The official statement described the battle as "a number of sea and air actions" and added that "to reveal details at this time would endanger the success of future operations in this area."

The fact the information about losses was considered sufficiently valuable to withhold was generally considered to be an indication that heavy blows were suffered by the American forces.

Claim Five U. S. Ships Sunk.

At the same time there were signs that heavy blows have been dealt the Japanese. Tokio, in making the first announcement Monday of the action, claimed to have lost only 10 planes and to have sunk two American battleships and three cruisers, and damaged another battleship and cruiser, all by air action.

[A Japanese broadcast Monday said Japanese planes had attacked a "powerful allied fleet" steaming northward toward Guadalcanal last Friday. A Jap squadron commander crashed his burning plane into one battleship, the account said, and torpedo planes sank another battleship and two cruisers. The allied fleet was said to have retreated southeastward. The next day the Japs attacked the fleet again, sinking a cruiser that escaped Friday, said Domei. Three out of 20 Grumman planes which tried to protect the fleet were shot down, the Japs claimed.]

A navy spokesman was asked tonight whether he had anything to add to the communique.

"Yes," he replied emphatically, "you may say that the Japanese claims of United States losses are grossly exaggerated and their own losses understated."

"Major Effort," Says Navy.

Stating that "increased activity on the part of the Japanese indicates a major effort to regain control of the entire Solomons area," the navy did not identify the location of the actions. The Tokio claim, given by Navy Minister Shimada to the Japanese diet, fixed the location as east of Rennell Island, about 100 miles south of Guadalcanal.

A midafternoon communique, making no reference to the current battle, said an American destroyer had shelled a number of barges at enemy held Cape Esperance, on the northern tip of Guadalcanal. Those might have been used either in new landings or in coastal movements by the hard pressed troops ashore.

American sea forces in the area were believed to be considerable, and the American hold on the island was described only last week by Navy Secretary Knox after a visit to Guadalcanal as secure. Knox confidently predicted that the remnants of organized Jap resistance would be wiped out in 30 days.

Near MacArthur Base.

If the fighting occurred south of Guadalcanal as Tokio said, not only aircraft from Guadalcanal but also from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command in Australia could be brought into full use. The closest Jap air base in the Solomons, on the other hand, is at Munda, 190 miles north.

A Japanese cargo ship was damaged severely and five American planes were lost, the navy announced earlier today, in air attacks on enemy bases in the Solomons.

Air fighting included an attack last Tuesday on a Jap cargo ship at Tarawa in the Gilbert Islands, more than 1,000 miles from Guadalcanal. The ship was hit three times by bombs from a force of Flying Fortresses.

A force of dive bombers and torpedo planes, with Wildcat fighter protection, assaulted the enemy air base at Munda and two dive bombers failed to return. Three Flying Fortresses were officially described as "missing" from a second raid Monday in the Shortland area, which was intercepted by 20 enemy Zero fighters. A fourth was badly damaged.

Slays Model; Sets Fire to Apartment

Killer Slashes, Beats Friend of Nick Dean

A titian haired beauty, who had a notable career as an underworld and night life sweetheart, was murdered yesterday by a killer who beat her with a blackjack, slashed her throat, and then attempted to burn her body in her apartment at 512 Addison street.

The victim was Miss Estelle Evelyn Carey, 34 years old, former girl friend of Nick Circella, alias Nick Dean, the gangster and labor racketeer who is now serving an eight year term in federal prison for conspiracy to extort more than a million dollars from motion picture executives.

Named in Weymer Divorce Case.

Several years ago Miss Carey's name figured in the divorce case of Earl M. Weymer, 900 North Michigan avenue, who is the head of an ornamental iron construction company. Weymer's telephone number, found among her papers, led police to question him at the Town Hall station last night. He said he had dined with Miss Carey last Sunday night, but had not seen her since. He agreed to appear at the inquest today.

Miss Carey's body was found by firemen who forced their way into her apartment after neighbors noticed smoke seeping from the place. The well furnished apartment was a shambles, the furniture scorched.

Battered Body on Floor.

Her body lay on the dining room floor. There were five cuts and severe bruises on her face. Her left eye was cut, her nose broken, and her lips smashed.

There were bloodstains on the kitchen cabinet and sink. A blood stained bread knife, a blood spattered rolling pin, and a 10 inch blackjack lay on the kitchen floor. Broken glass from a dining table ornament and a whisky bottle littered the floor.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan and Supervising Capt. John P. Ryan sought to learn whether Miss Carey's association with Circella held the key to the mystery. In a bedroom hiding place they found a key ring which held a safety deposit key. The police, who plan to examine the safety deposit box, wondered if it might be a Circella cache left in Miss Carey's custody.

"Betrayed" Talk Recalled.

The police also recalled that Miss Carey changed the color of her hair about the time Circella was arrested on Dec. 1, 1941, after a long search by agents of the federal bureau of investigation. There was talk at the time that he was betrayed to the G-men by an associate.

Police admitted that this line of investigation was only one thread in the tangled skein of Miss Carey's career. Letters, telegrams, notebooks, and other papers in her apartment showed she had many men friends. One batch of letters from a suitor who appeared to be violently jealous caused a flurry of excitement until the author of the letters was located in a southern army camp. He explained that he had not seen Miss Carey since last August.

Believe She Knew Killer.

There was considerable evidence that Miss Carey knew the man who killed her. Police learned that she

FACTOR GIVEN 10 YEAR TERM IN WHISKY FRAUD

Sobs at Sentence by U. S. Judge.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Feb. 2 [Special].—John [Jake the Barber] Factor, spectacular Chicago speculator and promoter, was sentenced to 10 years in prison and was fined $10,000 in federal court here today for his part in the "million dollar" whisky warehouse receipts mail fraud case.

John Factor.

This was the first prison sentence ever imposed on Factor, whose fabulous financial manipulations have kept him in the international limelight for two decades.

Ten co-defendants also were sentenced, their fines ranging to $10,000 and their prison terms ranging to 10 years. The sentences of some of the defendants were suspended. All had pleaded guilty.

Seven Other Chicagoans Sentenced.

Seven of those sentenced, in addition to Factor, are Chicagoans. The others sentenced are Maxwell P. Oxman, Chicago, 10 years and $2,500; Henry Bernstein, Chicago, 7½ years and $5,000; A. A. Slater, Chicago, 5 years and $1,000; Sidney Davis, Chicago, 4 years and $500; Sam Seinfeld, Chicago, 3 years and $500; Sidney Epstein, Chicago, 5 years and $500; Leo Bernstein, Chicago, 18 months and $500 suspended fine; Edward A. Sloane, St. Paul, Minn., 5 years; Joseph Konwiser, New York, 2 years and $1,000 suspended fine, and Frank Husak, Cedar Rapids, 18 months and $500, both suspended.

The group was accused of swindling 250 residents of 12 midwestern states out of cash, securities, and warehouse receipts with an aggregate face value of $1,200,000 thru a fake whisky bottling scheme. Possessing neither bottling plants nor licenses, Factor and his associates sold and exchanged purported bottling contracts, the government charged.

Factor Branded Head.

Federal Judge Robert C. Bell of Minneapolis, Minn., said in imposing sentences that the defendants never intended and never were in a position to pay back money they had obtained.

"Factor was the head of the business," Judge Bell declared. "He controled the business and the bank accounts. The defendants are intelligent men, capable of running substantial businesses. They did not engage in these acts with intent to return investments made with them."

Reviewing Factor's career, the judge said a report by a court probation officer showed he had been involved in oil leases in Arkansas, Florida real estate, and a Chicago bucket shop, and that he once had settled a federal income tax claim by a payment of $120,000.

Factor wept as he received his sentence and told the court he had been induced last November to change his plea from not guilty to guilty because he had received threats against his life. Later he said he thought the threats came from friends of Roger Touhy, the Chicago gangster, who owed a 99 year sentence to Factor's testimony that the gangster kidnaped him for ransom in 1933.

"Afraid" to Stand Trial.

Factor said he had not dared stand trial with the "threats" hanging over his head, as he would have been looking around fearfully during the several weeks the trial would have been in progress. Asked whether he would appeal, he said: "What for? The sentence speaks for itself."

Once a barber, Factor grew up in Chicago in the vicinity of Maxwell and Halsted streets and became known as a heavy speculator during the early prohibition era. He invaded the London financial markets in the late '20s and the British government later sought his extradition from the United States on charges his schemes had cost Britishers 7 million dollars. He escaped extradition by a reputed payment of $1,800,000. He has testified he paid $70,000 for his release when kidnaped by the Touhy gang.

Canned Goods Rationing to Start March 1

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—Rationing of canned and frozen foods on a point basis will start Monday, March 1, the office of price administration announced today. The rationed goods, as previously announced, are canned, bottled, and frozen fruits and vegetables, soups, juices, chili sauce, catsup, and dried fruits.

Retail sales of these items will be suspended at midnight Feb. 20, eight days in advance of the start of actual rationing. During the week of Feb. 22 a nation-wide schoolhouse registration will be held for distributing ration book No. 2. Blue stamps in this book will be used for canned goods rationing and red stamps for meat rationing, to start later. Details of the registration will be announced by local OPA offices.

48 Points Per Month.

The first ration period for canned and frozen goods will be the month of March and each holder of book No. 2 will have 48 points to spend during the month. Point values will vary with different products and sizes, but will not be announced until after retail sales are frozen.

To register for book No. 2 consumers must present book No. 1 and declare the amounts of "excess" canned goods they held as of Feb. 21 and the excess coffee held on Nov. 28, when coffee rationing started. One member of a family may register for the entire household.

The OPA has previously ruled that consumers may keep ration free five cans of 8 ounces or larger for each person and all cans less than 8 ounces—chiefly baby foods. Coupons worth eight points will be deducted from book No. 2 for each 8 ounce or larger can, regardless of the size or type of product.

Supplies Must Be Declared.

One coupon will be torn from book No. 1 for each pound of coffee held on Nov. 28 in excess of one pound a person.

Amounts of canned goods and coffee in excess of the ration free allotments must be stated on a declaration sheet to be presented at the time of registration. One declaration sheet for canned goods and one for coffee may be submitted for an entire family.

Copies of the sheets will be available at local ration boards and OPA offices, but reproductions printed in newspapers may be used instead. These copies will be made available to newspapers for reproduction Feb. 15 and later.

In tearing out coupons for excess canned goods stocks, not more than half the point total of blue stamps will be removed from book No. 2, which contains blue coupons totaling 384 points. The book contains 24 stamps each of 8, 5, 2, and 1 points. The 8 point coupons will be removed for excess stocks.

Restaurants Register Later.

If the removal of half the point total from the book does not account for all excess goods, the remainder will be recorded on the face of the book and will be deducted when the book is renewed.

Restaurants, hotels, hospitals, and other institutions will register for their allotments of canned and processed foods during the first 10 days of March. The basis for their allotments has not been announced.

Retail stores and wholesalers will register April 1-10. At that time they will be required to report their sales of rationed goods for March and inventories as of March 31. They will then be granted "allowable inventories" stated in terms of a certain number of points.

SALVAGE AGENCY'S PLEA FOR FEATHERS STARTS 'EM FLYING

The civilian defense salvage office found itself in the middle of a pillow fight yesterday, with the feathers flying thick and fast. Last week its publicity staff sent out a release asking citizens to donate their spare feathers. They were to alleviate an alleged shortage in the softer types of army and navy bedclothing.

The response was immediate. Yesterday a parade of patriots tried vainly to donate bundles of feathers at the salvage office, 130 North Wells street, while some 25 bedding manufacturers protested.

Dave Herbst of the salvage staff heard all complaints and ruled as follows: New feathers are frozen by the war production board, but used feathers are free of regulations. The feather donation appeal, which he said was the work of a "new employé," is rescinded and citizens should sell their surplus feathers to the junkman. All parties seemed pleased—especially the office salvage collectors, some of whom said they were allergic to feathers.

Washington's Housewives Soon Can Buy Horsemeat

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—Horse meat will be offered to the housewives of the nation's capital this week. The first shipment of 1,900 pounds of horse flesh is to be offered by a local store Thursday. It is sold in cuts similar to those of beef. Boston, Mass.; Newark, N. J., and several other cities in the east already have had horse meat on sale.

Says Glamor of Errol Flynn Enticed Girls

Los Angeles, Feb. 2 (AP).—The state, referring to Errol Flynn as "the great glamor boy of the screen," concluded a day-long plea to a Superior court jury today by demanding that it send the actor to the state prison.

Deputy District Attorney Thomas W. Cochran, urging conviction of the film star on charges of statutory rape involving two teen-age girls, told the jury:

"Why should there be any different law for Errol Flynn and some unknown man down on Main street if he committed the crime of statutory rape? If he's guilty, it's just too bad and he should receive the same punishment."

Charges Glamor Misused.

Referring to Peggy La Rue Satterlee, 16 year old Hollywood showgirl who charges Flynn twice violated her during a cruise to Catalina island in August, 1941, the prosecutor went on sternly:

"Here is a young girl, healthy and happy, with normal instincts. She meets the great glamor boy of the screen, the great Errol Flynn, and is selected by him to accompany her on his beautiful, palatial yacht to enchanting Catalina island.

"You have seen his charm and magnetism, both on the screen and here on the witness stand. The trouble is, he uses his great acting ability for reprehensible purposes."

Emphasizes Girls' Story.

The prosecutor asked what motive there could have been for either of the complaining witnesses—Miss Satterlee and 17 year old Betty Hansen—to "get up on the witness stand and tell something that was false."

Cochran declared the defense "can't overcome" the medical testimony of Dr. Etta Gray, juvenile hall physician, who told the jury of examining Miss Satterlee the day after the yacht trip.

He declared Flynn's lawyers also cannot prevail over the "lock and door evidence" in the charge involving Miss Hansen, former Lincoln, Neb., girl, who testified Flynn was intimate with her in an upstairs "blue bedroom" after a dinner party in a Bel-Air home last Sept. 27.

"She probably was all eyes, probably very much impressed, coming from mediocrity, from a modest family in the middle west and meeting the glamor man of all glamor men—Errol Flynn," the prosecutor said.

Defense Attorney Jerry Giesler will begin his final argument tomorrow afternoon. The case may go to the jury Thursday.

TREADMILL TRAINS TROOPS FOR ARCTIC, DESERT OR JUNGLE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—Uncle Sam has a new version of a "magic carpet"—a treadmill on which men still in the United States can figuratively march thru the deserts of Libya, the jungleland of Guadalcanal and the frozen wastes of the arctic.

A sample of it was shown to newsmen today at the navy's new medical research institute at Bethesda, Md., where doctors are studying the problems of acclimating men to changes in meteorological conditions as they move from the homeland into various theaters of war.

The treadmill is placed in a windowless room which has walls of cork six inches in thickness. Apparatus is being installed that will allow operation of the treadmill under temperatures ranging from the heat of the tropics to the cold of the far north, and there will be other apparatus for simulating conditions of humidity in various places where men already are fighting or may fight.

WOUNDED YANKS SAY EQUIPMENT WINS IN AFRICA

'Need Best Guns, Tanks, Planes for Victory.'

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 2.—President Roosevelt's statement that everything is going "extremely well" in North Africa does not jibe with reports of the Tunisia fighting given by American wounded who have just arrived at a United States base hospital in England.

Even the United States army's official newspaper, Stars and Stripes, devoted about two columns under a front page streamer headline, "Equipment Wins in Africa, Say Wounded," to recording the impressions of American soldiers of the German panzer units.

They described the seasoned and experienced enemy forces in Tunisia as being superbly equipped with armor and guns and as being careful and resourceful fighters tough to beat. The verdict of one group from the first United States armored outfit to fight the panzers was: "You must know how to fight them. You must have the best tanks and guns and the best air support." It was stated this was available "most of the time" but "not always."

Paper Sounds Warning.

Despite the Churchill-Roosevelt conferences and the Russian victories, the Daily Express warned editorially against hopes that the German morale or the strength of Germany's army is cracking.

"The 62 ton tanks in Tunisia and the bigger U-boat fleets in the Atlantic speak for the power of Germany's war industry," it said. "Flaws are present in Nazi Germany, but they will not show openly until we fall upon her with the allied strength which Churchill described at Cyprus as incomparably the strongest ever marshalled in the whole history of the world."

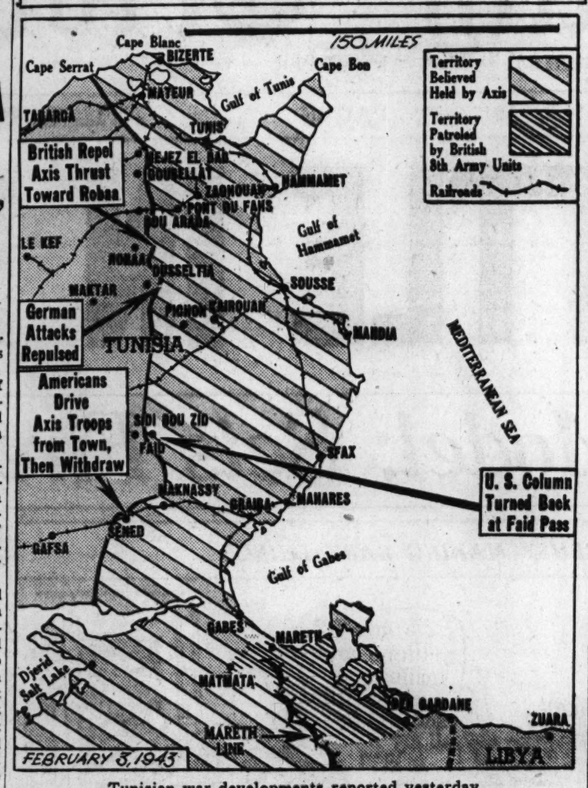

Wounded Still Smile.

AT A U. S. ARMY HOSPITAL BASE, Somewhere in England, Feb. 2 (AP).—Swathed in bandages and some minus an arm or leg, but generally still smiling, the first contingent of American soldiers wounded in fighting the Germans in Tunisia have arrived here.

To the first correspondents permitted to interview them they quietly described bitter fighting with Nazi units who resisted with the desperation of men with their backs to the wall.

The casualties were in the second hospital ship carrying American wounded from North Africa.

War Developments in Tunisia

Tunisian war developments reported yesterday.

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP).—The first activity by advance elements of the British 8th army which crossed the border into Tunisia last week was reported tonight by the Algiers radio, indicating that Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's forces may be getting ready to strike at the axis army of Marshal Erwin Rommel from the south.

Algiers reported that British units were patroling between Ben Gardane, an important axis airport inside the Tunisian border from Tripolitania, and Matmata on the western side of the Mareth line, behind which some of Rommel's forces are believed to be fortified.

Earlier, a British communique in Cairo disclosed that artillery of the 8th army was blasting a path toward Tunisia from Zuara [35 miles east of the Tunisian border] and that patrols were active there. At the same time American units struck blows from the west.

An allied announcement said United States combat teams, moving fast and fighting well, drove eastward out of Gafsa and southward from Sidi Bou Zid. Effecting a liaison, they fought their way into Sened, 20 miles west of Maknassy, repelled counterattacks, and withdrew after completion of their tactical mission. Maknassy is 33 miles from the coast.

The announcement set forth no official reasons for the retreat, but military observers here said it probably was because the enemy was simply in too strong force in southern Tunisia for the Americans to risk continued occupation.

An allied spokesman said the thrust against Sened "was purely a raid, and we withdrew after accomplishing our purposes."

Another American column to the north met even heavier resistance at Faid pass and was turned back. Still farther to the north the British repelled an axis attempt to extend lines toward Robaa.

German attacks east of Ousseltia have been repulsed in fighting marked by artillery action, a French high command communique reported.

Faid pass, won by the Germans over the week-end in a six-mile thrust toward Sidi Bou Zid, was described by the allied spokesman as "a place of tremendous importance, it is apparent that the Germans plan to hold it."

Meanwhile, allied air forces whittled steadily at the axis air strength, with the 12th United States air force destroying 12 planes and the British downing two.

GIRAUD SUMMONS COUNCIL TO STUDY DE GAULLE DELAY

ALLIED HDQ., North Africa, Feb. 2 (AP).—Gen. Henri Giraud today summoned the French imperial council to discuss the negotiations with Gen. Charles de Gaulle. The negotiations appear stagnated because of the delay of the French leader in London to fulfill the Casablanca agreement by sending Gen. Georges Catroux as his representative to Algiers.

It was authoritatively stated that Giraud was preparing to send Gen. Jean Marie Bergeret, his assistant high commissioner, to the United States to speed arms shipments.

HARD CAMPAIGN FACES ALLIES IN AFRICA THEATER

Rommel's Army Far from Being Beaten.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—The campaign in North Africa was described as a sparring rather than a slugging match today by a highly informed military authority. It was emphasized that Marshal Erwin Rommel and his Afrika korps are far from groggy and that the American people should not expect a sudden knockout blow.

Far from being demoralized, Rommel is entrenched in excellent positions and is splendidly equipped—some equipment, it is reported, superior to that of opposing British and American forces.

Called Masterful Retreat.

More and more military observers are acknowledging Rommel's retreat was as great a military operation as Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's 1,200 mile advance across the desert.

It was estimated that Rommel had between 125,000 and 150,000 men in Africa before the retreat and that what losses he suffered have been filled by replacements. These losses, it was said, were much smaller than the extent of the retreat would lead the uninformed to believe.

British sources have estimated that Rommel lost half of his army in the retreat from Egypt to Tunisia. If so, military authorities here believe that Rommel made the losses up with men brought to Tunisia from Sicily and Sardinia. Most of such reënforcements, except for airmen, would probably be Italian.

Of some ten divisions of men only four are German—two armored and two infantry divisions. The remainder of his army—perhaps two armored and six infantry divisions—are Italian, according to available information.

Allied Forces Larger.

Against this army Montgomery had between 150,000 and 200,000. Not all of these, however, were brought into action on the advance across the desert, but they will soon be available now that Tripoli with its shipping facilities is in British hands.

No official report of the size of the American and British forces in the west has been released. It is generally agreed that the American forces are larger than Rommel's, and substantially so if the all-British 1st army in West Africa is included.

Military observers here feel that Rommel's retreat across 1,200 miles of desert to arrive almost intact with his army in order to prepare and take up positions against two armies, both larger than his own, may be regarded in the future as one of the most able maneuvers of the conflict.

Shorter Supply Line.

Rommel has the advantage of a shorter line of supplies than either of the armies confronting him. The American supplies must come from across the Atlantic to Casablanca or Algiers and then to Tunis. Supplies for Montgomery's army must come around or across Africa by air. Few ships run the gauntlet of axis bombers and subs in the Mediterranean.

The axis forces can be supplied via Sicily or Sardinia from Italy. The short flight from Sicily would enable large air reënforcements to be sent to Rommel rapidly should he need such aid. Other axis reënforcements can be thrown into Tunisia.

At present Rommel is being favored by rains in the north. In this region there is some 60 inches of rainfall a year, nearly all of which comes in the first of the year. The rainy season is now drawing to a close.

Western Line Strong.

Rommel's western line, from Cape Serrat on the Mediterranean coast down to northwest of Sfax, is regarded as stronger than positions held by the American forces and British 1st army troops opposing them.

In the vicinity of Mateur in the north, two efforts to dislodge German troops in the Green and White mountains by brigade attacks failed. In the south two similar attacks early in December failed to dislodge the axis troops in mountain strongholds in the neighborhood of Mejez-el-Bab.

From these attacks the Americans gained a wholesome respect for the enemy. Possibility of divisional assaults was considered, but was discarded as too costly.

Some are of the opinion that the decision was made to leave the heaviest attack to Montgomery owing to the experience of his army and more favorable terrain. This would leave the forces in the west the task of containing Rommel's army so that it could not escape westward.

No Heavy Fighting.

At the war department it was said that there has been no heavy fighting in the west; that the American and British forces are merely sparring. There has been some sharp fighting such as that by which American troops pressed into Sened yesterday, but there have been no large scale operations.

Time is favoring the allies, because each day they grow stronger and better equipped and draw their lines tighter about Tunisia. Some observers feel that time has not acted wholly in favor of the allies—that each day Rommel holds Tunisia enables axis forces to fortify the European coast of Europe and thus protect what has been termed "the soft belly of the axis."

Air Equipment Lacking.

Military observers here acknowledged that the early model American tanks were inferior to the German Mark IV. tanks. However, the newer tanks, which mount a 75 mm. gun in a turret instead of at the side, is the equal of the Mark IV. Lighter armored British Valentine and Crusader tanks have been no match for the German vehicle.

In the air the American forces have at times lacked everything but courage, audacity, and skill. Some German fighters are faster than American models, the medium German bombers are at least as good as American models, and the American forces have been lacking dive bombers.

In artillery the two forces have been fairly evenly matched, but far more experience in war has enabled the Germans to use their weapons more advantageously, particularly the famed 88 mm. guns.

Teamwork at Wheel of Truck

No Longer Lonely

Mrs. Patricia Kane, 27 years old, was lonely when her truck driver husband was away from home, so she applied for a job with the same company. Now Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kane are partners on the Chicago to Los Angeles, Cal., run for National Van Lines. She thinks she probably is the only woman to have the 2,300 mile run.

"I love being a driver because, besides doing my bit to help win the war, I see so much of the country and meet so many of the people who live in it," she explained. "The other drivers treat me like a sister and are very kind."

Mrs. Kane insists that the men call her Patricia, ruling out Pat because that's too masculine. The Kanes live at 2217 Sheffield avenue. Mrs. Kane has about four days between long two week runs. She uses the time to wash, iron, and clean house. Her husband loads the trailers for another trip.

CHICAGOANS PUT A TOUCH OF HOME ON ENGLISH BASE

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 2.—It is hard to imagine Chicago with its wide boulevards and long lake front in this rolling English countryside, but two Chicagoans are doing their best here to vivify memories of home. At an air force ordnance post, signs at the barracks and along the roads carry such familiar names as Michigan avenue, Roosevelt road, Cubs field, and White Sox park.

The signs were painted by Sergt. Robert Patejunas of 1500 West 51st street and Corp. John Yasevich of 4044 South Rockwell street. They say their tasks are easier if performed amid recollections of their native city.

The post mess hall originally was a stable, but Patejunas and Yasevich, both of whom paint as a hobby, have made it attractive by painting pictures of airplanes and patriotic insignia on the walls. One table top is decorated with a sketch of a flaming bomb—the ordnance department insignia.

Powder Plant Town to Get $80,000 U. S. Built School

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—The federal works agency informed Rep. William H. Stevenson [R., Wis.] today that a one story six room school house costing about $80,000 would be built at Merrimack, Wis., for children of persons working at a powder plant there.

RUMANIAN KING GIVES NO THANKS TO ALLIES IN AXIS

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 2 (AP).—King Michael of Rumania in a proclamation to his people Jan. 1 withheld any word of appreciation for Rumania's axis allies and had no reproach for their enemies, it was disclosed today in copies of the text received here. The 21 year old king confined his remarks to praise for his soldiers and his people and the faithfulness of his government "in defense of their country and independence." He also prayed for peace.

RUSSIANS FINISH 'LIQUIDATION' OF 330,000 GERMANS

Stalin Praises His Troops in Order of the Day.

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP).—"Carrying out your order, troops on the Don front at 4 p. m., Feb. 2, finished the rout and annihilation of encircled enemy troops at Stalingrad."

The foregoing message, the Moscow radio said tonight, was sent to Premier Josef Stalin at 6:30 p. m. today by Marshal N. N. Voronov and Col. Gen. Constantin Rokossovsky, Red army leaders.

Stalin then issued an order of the day to Voronov and Rokossovsky and their troops congratulating them "for their excellent military activities" in smashing completely Adolf Hitler's trapped axis army of 330,000 troops at Stalingrad.

More than 500,000 Casualties.

This raises the Russians' announced toll of axis casualties on the Volga river since last fall to more than 500,000 in dead and captured alone. [The siege of Stalingrad began last Aug. 25.]

A special bulletin broadcast by the Moscow radio said 91,000 troops, including a field marshal, 23 generals, and thousands of other officers, had surrendered in the last three weeks to the Russians.

A Sunday announcement said more than 100,000 had been killed in 20 days, and an official communique last Dec. 31 said 175,000 had been killed and 137,650 captured in the preceding six week period beginning on Nov. 19 when the big Red army winter offensive began.

This represented a total of 503,650 axis troops who either lost their lives or were captured since mid-November, on the basis of Russian announcements. It does not include axis casualties in the preceding three months of fighting that raged along the Volga and inside Stalingrad.

Complete "Liquidation."

"Today troops on the Don front completely finished the liquidation of the German fascist troops encircled in the area of Stalingrad," the special communique said.

"Our troops broke the resistance of the enemy encircled to the north of Stalingrad and forced him to lay down his arms."

[The German radio last night acknowledged the end of the trapped Nazi army, but said the battle had cost the Russians more than 300,000 men.]

War Trophies Listed.

The soviet bulletin said "trophies still are being counted in one of the biggest battles in the history of wars," but listed this booty captured since Jan. 10, when the final push began:

Fifty-six locomotives, 1,125 railway cars, 750 planes, 1,150 tanks, 6,700 guns, 1,462 mortars, 8,135 machine guns, 90,000 rifles, 61,102 trucks, 7,369 motorcycles, 480 carts, tractors and transports, 320 radio transmitters, 3 armored trains, 235 ammunition and arms dumps, and a large amount of other equipment.

Reds Push Forward on Russian Front

Developments reported yesterday from the Russian front are told in the captions on the map.

REDS APPROACH ROSTOV; TIGHTEN ARC AT KHARKOV

Resistance of Germans Reported Weaker.

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—The Russians beat forward upon Rostov early today from a point within less than 40 miles of that most vital of Adolf Hitler's southern positions and gained slightly in a tightening semicircle before Kharkov in the Ukraine. The great soviet offensives looked more formidable than at any time since their beginning two and a half months ago.

The invader held only the northwestern corner of the Caucasus and in all that vast area only about 400 miles of railway lines remained in his control.

German resistance appeared to be running down southeast of Rostov in the Caucasus. There Russian troops, after recapturing the town of Mechetinskaya and others nearby, advanced toward the Sea of Azov.

The midnight communique said the Russians advancing up the Tikhoretsk-Rostov railway occupied Pavlovskaya, only 75 miles below Rostov. Other units wheeling southwestward from Tikhoretsk captured Korenovskaya, only 35 miles from Krasnodar. Another Russian column is within 40 miles of Rostov in a drive paralleling the thrust from Tikhoretsk.

On the Kharkov front the Russian offensive took the form of a five headed drive on a strong fixed arc. At the upper tip, at Novy Oskol, the Russians were within 87 miles of Kharkov. The next position was Volokonovka, 72 miles away; then Valuki, 78 miles away; Urazova, 75 miles away, and two points near Svatova, 95 miles to the southeast on the Kupyansk-Voroshilovgrad railroad.

Pokrovskoye and Nizhne-Duvanka, two cities north of captured Svatovo on the Kupyansk-Voroshilovgrad railway in the Ukraine, fell to the Russians, the midnight communique said. This placed the Russians 27 miles from Kupyansk, a rail junction on the line leading to Kharkov.

THREE INJURED BY EXPLOSION IN WAR PLANT

An explosion last night rocked the block long building of the Western Shade Cloth company, on Jefferson street between Cullerton and 21st streets, blowing out all doors and windows in the one story structure and injuring three men, one of them a passer-by. All received first aid and were sent to their homes.

Steve Klis, 53 years old, who was walking to his home at 2019 Jefferson street, across from the plant, was cut by flying glass. Frank Benuska, 17, of 1645 Miller street, and Steve Kramarik, 19, of 1609 Ruble street, working inside the plant, were burned on the face and hands.

There were 45 employés working on a night shift when the blast occurred. Fire Chief John Hughes of the 8th battalion said the explosion probably resulted from a spark in a drier which ignited varnish and lacquer fumes. The company manufactures window shades and has war contracts for other articles. Chief Hughes estimated damage at $1,000, mostly in broken glass.

WOMAN CHIROPRACTOR DIES.

Mrs. Helen Keifer, 65 years old, 3831 Fremont avenue, a chiropractor, was found dead in her office at 3837 Broadway last night, apparently the victim of a heart attack. Mrs. Keifer had practiced on the north side for 24 years.

158 JAPS KILLED OR CAPTURED IN PAPUA CLEANUP

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, Feb. 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—One hundred and fifty-eight Japanese stragglers have been killed or have surrendered since the close of the campaign in Papua, the high command announced today.

The communique also announced that for the fourth successive day allied bombers attacked Rabaul, New Britain. Vanakanau airdrome was heavily bombed and strafed. Open bay, also on New Britain, was bombed and machine gun fire was directed at three Jap power launches filled with troops, causing "substantial losses."

On Lolabau Island heavy bombers blasted a 3,000 ton cargo vessel towing two barges.

CIVILIAN SEAMEN INQUIRY OPENED BY HOUSE GROUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—A special house naval affairs subcommittee today opened an investigation into reports of widespread insubordination among civilian sailors on merchant ships in war zones.

The committee met in executive session with Maj. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, who directed the marine offensive on Guadalcanal, as the first witness. It is understood that Gen. Vandegrift plans to make a public statement to the committee later in the week.

Calling of Gen. Vandegrift indicated that the reports of three Akron, O., marines, as related in a copyrighted story in the Akron Beacon-Journal recently, were to be investigated.

The marines had told how wounded and half starved fighters on Guadalcanal had had to unload a supply boat because the merchant sailors, said to be members of the Communist dominated National Maritime union [CIO], refused to work on a Sunday.

Despite public denials by high naval and marine officers that any such incident occurred, Committee Chairman Warren G. Magnuson [D., Wash.] said the investigation would continue as scheduled.

He said he has asked the naval judge advocate for a report on all the laws that govern the movement of ships in the war zones and the status and duties of civilian seamen on such ships. It was learned that the reports to be made by the navy department may reveal other cases of insubordination among the merchant seamen. Members of Magnuson's committee have disclosed that naval officers at various times have complained about the insubordinate attitude of the civilian sailors.

JAP PLANES RAID U. S. POSITIONS IN ALEUTIANS TWICE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—The navy reported today that Japanese planes attacked American positions in the western Aleutian Islands on Sunday and Monday, but caused no damage.

This was the first attack reported on United States Alaskan bases since last June, altho on Jan. 28 two Jap planes bombed American ships.

PUERTO RICANS ASK ELECTIVE ISLE GOVERNOR

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 2 (AP).—In a conference unprecedented in Puerto Rican history, leaders of the three major parties met today and agreed to urge congress to amend the organization act to permit the islanders to elect their own governor.

The meeting, held at the invitation of Senate President Luis Munoz-Marin on the eve of the legislative session, produced a joint statement on behalf of all parties except the Socialists calling on congress to take the step. Attending were Munoz-Marin, Sen. Celestino Iriarte, representing the union of Republicans [main opposition party], and José Ramirez Santibanez, leader of the Liberal party [allied with Munoz-Marin's Populares in the legislative majority].

The meeting was held after Iriarte challenged Munoz-Marin on his position, and Munoz-Marin agreed to join forces provided his opponents agreed not to use it as a move against Gov. Rexford G. Tugwell. Iriarte agreed, but the Socialist leader, Lino Padron Rivera declined.

R. A. F. Night Bombers Strike at Nazi Targets

LONDON, Feb. 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—R. A. F. bombers attacked Germany last night for the first time this month, it was stated authoritatively today. In the last previous raid, last Saturday night, they struck in western Germany.

TREKS 8 MONTHS THRU JAP LINES AIDED BY CHINESE Guerrillas Lead American Safely to Chungking.

CHUNGKING, Feb. 2 (AP).—A hair-raising tale of escape from the Japanese and an eight months' trek with Chinese guerrillas from Peking to this Chinese capital was told today by G. Martel Hall, American manager of the National City bank branch in Peking. Hall, who is 48 years old, has spent 24 years in China. His wife and family now are at his home town of Nacogdoches, Tex.

Hall traveled with his Chinese protectors by a winding route thru Hopei, Shansi, Shensi, and Szechwan provinces to arrive here on Jan. 26. On foot and on pony-back, aided by a perfectly organized guerrilla "underground railroad," Hall and his party traveled thru a maze of Japanese-occupied cities and passed within a few yards of patrols without a hitch.

Hall, who had foreseen the outbreak of hostilities between the United States and Japan, had made prior arrangements with the guerrillas to take him to free China, but was not able to start his journey until May 21.

Always Well Protected.

The bank premises were overrun at the outbreak of the hostilities and Hall once was menaced by a Japanese bayonet, but he was not molested. Later a guerrilla chieftain in a long gown which concealed his Mauser pistol was able to bring him word of the scheduled departure.

"The Japs often were only a few hundred yards away from us," Hall said, "but we were so well protected it didn't matter.

"On the darkest nights the guerrillas made their way over steep mountain trails where a slip would have meant death. Once we traveled for 40 miles over mountain trails between sunset and dawn."

Hall said he was struck by the political consciousness and sympathy of the people even in the most remote villages. Everywhere the party received help and everywhere the people refused pay.

An 80 year old farmer told Hall: "Welcome! America is our ally."

Return with Jap Booty.

Hall said that farmers thruout the countryside had killed their dogs so no bark would warn the Japanese of guerrilla or troop movements and that often as he stopped at guerrilla headquarters he saw raiding parties go out and return with Japanese booty—"anything in the world from a part of a steam engine to tinned oranges."

"The Japs never dared leave the occupied towns at night because they knew the guerrilla slogan: 'Every cartridge must mean a Jap,'" Hall said. "But the guerrillas were more plentifully supplied with hand grenades, which are their favorite weapons."

Hall said the inhabitants of oft bombed Sian and Chengtu, thru which he passed, lived in dome shaped caves and collected all the scrap iron they could from exploded bombs, "their only steady source of supply; and they would risk their lives to salvage a dud."

CHILD DIES OF BURNS.

Barbara Moses, 7 years old, colored, 359 East 60th street, died in Provident hospital last night of burns suffered Monday evening when her dress caught fire at the gas stove in her home.

EXPLAINS WORK OR FIGHT ORDER TO 3-A DRAFTEES

McNutt Tells Boards to Call Fathers April 1.

Able bodied draft registrants, 18 thru 37 years old, yesterday were ordered to work for the war or fight, regardless of dependency. By the end of 1943, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war manpower commission, told the house military affairs committee in Washington, D. C., 10 out of every 14 physically fit men will be in uniform.

Paul V. McNutt.

Earlier in the day McNutt instructed draft boards to begin April 1 to draft men in 70 nonessential jobs or services whether or not they have dependents, including children.

As an alternative, McNutt told married men with children that they could gain continued deferment by switching to necessary jobs in one of the 36 activities listed as essential by the man power commission and offered the assistance and guidance of the United States employment service to help them.

Get 30 Days to Change Jobs.

Men now in nonessential jobs who change to other employment before April 1 will not be reclassified 1-A automatically, but will be called for induction in the usual way, McNutt said. Those who register with the employment service for a change to jobs essential to the war or the civilian economy will have 30 days in which to change before they are reclassified 1-A.

McNutt said the present list of nondeferrable jobs is only the beginning of an ever expanding list. At selective service headquarters in Washington it was said that virtually all activities will be listed either as essential or nondeferrable within a few months.

Need 9 Million Farm Workers.

McNutt also told the committee about 9 million full time farm workers will be required this year and that another 3 million will be needed for the harvest season.

Testifying in Washington before another senate committee, Claude Wickard, secretary of agriculture, agreed to make a county by county survey of the farm labor supply of the nation.

Under the new program, which will result in elimination of the 3-A classification — men with dependents — those who remain in nonessential jobs will be called in the draft even tho they have children and ahead of married men without children who are working at essential jobs.

The list of nondeferrable jobs includes all in 19 manufacturing, eight wholesale and retail trades and nine services. Twenty-nine job classifications are nondeferrable regardless of the activity in which they are found.

Occupations Affected.

In the first group are:

MANUFACTURING—Curtains, draperies, and bedspreads; pleating, stitching, tucking, and embroidering; trimmings, stamped art goods, and art needlework; cut, beveled, and etched glass; cutware; glass novelties; mosaic glass; stained, leaded, ornamented, and decorated glass; jewelers; fixings and materials; jewelry, lapidary work, ornamental gold and silver leaf and foil [non-industrial]; silverware and plated ware [non-industrial]; costume jewelry and novelties; decorative feathers, plumes, and artificial flowers; frames, mirror and picture; greeting cards and picture post cards; jewelry cases; and signs and advertising displays.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL TRADE—Antiques; beer, wines, and liquors; custom tailors and furriers; candy, confectionery, and nuts; florists, jewelry, novelties, and tobacco.

SERVICE—Automobile rental service; dance, music, theatrical and art studios and schools; gambling, interior decorating, night clubs, parking lots, photographic studios, Turkish baths, massage parlors, clothing rental, porter service, and social escort services.

The job occupations listed as nondeferrable regardless of the activity in which they may be found were:

Bar cashier, bar boy, bartenders, bathhouse attendants, beauty operators, bell boys, bootblacks, bus boys, butlers, charmen and cleaners, cosmeticians, custom tailors, custom furriers, dancing teachers, dishwashers, doormen and starters, elevator operators [passenger and freight, excluding industrial freight elevators related to production], elevator starters [passenger and freight], errand boys [including messengers and office boys], fortune tellers, including astrologer, clairvoyant, mediums, mind readers, palmist, etc.; gardeners, greenskeepers, groundkeepers, housemen, hairdressers, lavatory attendants, messengers, errand boys, office boys, newsboys, night club managers and employés, porters [other than in railway train service], private chauffeurs, soda dispensers, ushers, valets, waiters [other than those in railway train service].

The 36 activities which have been classified as essential include production of aircraft and parts, ships, ammunition, agriculture, food processing, forestry and lumbering, construction, coal mining, metal mining, nonmetallic mining, smelting and refining, production of metal shapes and forgings, metal finishing, production of industrial and agricultural equipment, machinery, chemicals, rubber products, leather products, textiles, military apparel and work clothing, petroleum and gas, finished lumber products, transportation equipment, transportation services, material for packing and shipping, communication equipment, communication services, including newspapers and radio broadcasting, heat and light service, repair services, health and welfare services, education, governmental service, technical, scientific and management services.

Four Excuses Acceptable.

Instructions sent to local draft boards listed four reasonable excuses for temporary idleness or for failure to change from a nondeferrable to an essential job after April 1.

These include illness of a registrant or a member of his immediate family, physical disqualification, reasonable vacation, and compelling circumstances that would not permit a change of employment without undue hardship to the registrant or his dependents. Draft officials said these circumstances would warrant only temporary deferment in some cases and permanent deferment in others.

He said the army plans to have 8,200,000 men and officers by the end of the year and that the navy, marine corps and coast guard will attempt to have 2,200,000 in uniform, making a total of 10,400,000 in military service. The WMC estimates that 3,200,000 men will have to be shifted from nonessential jobs to war industry in the same period.

Boards Told to Use Common Sense.

Draft boards were instructed to use common sense in reconsidering the reclassification of registrants in jobs listed as nondeferrable, but even this instruction was not expected to delay a renewed drive in congress for enactment of legislation to bar induction of married men with children as long as childless married men are available.

Twelve Chicago offices of the United States employment service are open for registration of men in nondeferrable jobs who desire to get into essential jobs before April 1 to preserve their draft deferment. Seven more offices are located in the suburbs.

Men who wish to switch jobs should go to the office nearest their homes and make application for an essential job. Their skills and abilities will be listed and classified and they will be notified as soon as there is an opening.

The Chicago offices are located at 5306 Lawrence avenue, 4556 Kenmore avenue, 4207 Armitage avenue, 913 Montana street, 4812 Madison street, 1606 Adams street, 817 Exchange avenue, 4711 South Park way, 453 West 63d street, 751 East 63d street, 56 East 110th street, and 8657 Commercial avenue.

Suburban offices are located at 1536 Otto boulevard, Chicago Heights; 4810 Cermak road, Cicero; 1033 Davis street, Evanston; 616 West Burlington street, La Grange; 807 Madison street, Oak Park, and 106 East Liberty street, Wheaton.

TWO CHICAGOANS ARE ENLISTED IN CANADIAN ARMY

Maj. J. G. Troup, a Canadian army recruiting officer who came to Chicago yesterday to interview Canadian born applicants living in this area, disclosed that George E. Christensen, 3816 Washington boulevard, and Wilbert R. Bluett, 6551 South Morgan street, have enlisted. Maj. Troup, in charge of recruiting in 16 states, including Illinois, said an agreement between the United States and Canada provides that Canadian civilians who have not received their first citizenship papers may volunteer for Canadian army service.

Courage, Comrade— WE'RE COMING BACK!

LISTEN, our French comrades of the old A.E.F.! Listen, brave "poilus"—you who rocked the Hun back on his heels at the Marne, you who said "they shall not pass!" at Verdun, you who went over the top with our own boys at Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne!

Listen again to the voice of the old A.E.F.!

We're coming back! Side by side with our Allies, including the French troops in Africa, we're going to drive the Nazis out of France!

We know of your sacrifices in this war. We know you lost over 100,000 killed, over 300,000 wounded—in one month of desperate battle! We know of your cities destroyed, of your women and children machine-gunned on the roads.

And we know of over 1,000,000 French soldiers—sons of our old comrades—wasting away in German prison camps! You could have had these men back with you—if you had traded your honor for them—if you had not scuttled your fleet at Toulon—if you had not gone into battle once more in Africa, side by side with our boys.

THIS IS OUR PLEDGE!

Comrades, this Group of A.E.F. Veterans has taken the sacred obligation to bring help to those prisoners!

Our occupation of North Africa completely cut off the supply of food packages which were being shipped from there to the French prisoners. The least we can do is to try to replace them.

AMERICANS! We appeal for your moral support! With all our hearts we say to you that we cannot turn our backs on the suffering of these men! We have the organization—our great and humanitarian American Red Cross. We have the money—French funds in this country. We have the ships—seized French vessels.

All we need is the WILL! Our British Allies recognize the plight of their soldiers in German prison camps. They send a 10-lb. package of food every week to every one of their prisoners—over 6,000,000 packages have been sent in all.

AMERICA MUST HELP HER OLDEST FRIEND

France cannot help her prisoners but we can. The way is open, through the International Red Cross, the organization which distributes food packages to all United Nations prisoners in Germany.

If, with all your hearts, you agree with us, will you sign and mail the coupon below directly to the Red Cross in Washington? Our great Red Cross is owned by the American people. You are the American people. You can help decide if these men will live or die!

American Red Cross, Washington, D. C.

TIME AND PLACE OF INVASION SET, F. D. R. INDICATES

Hints Details Agreed on at Casablanca.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—President Roosevelt today clearly indicated the time and place of the long awaited European attack on the axis had been fixed at his conference in Casablanca, French Morocco, with Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain.

At his first press conference since his return Sunday, the President emphasized that the meeting was essentially a military, naval, and air conference and had reached unanimous agreement on ways and means of bringing the axis forces to "unconditional surrender."

Sun-tanned and in high spirits over his 16,965 mile journey to Africa, Mr. Roosevelt told 200 newspapermen that the conference was concerned with the answer to a vital paragraph of his message to congress on the state of the world.

Quotes from Message.

"I cannot prophesy," he quoted himself. "I cannot tell you when or where the united nations are going to strike next in Europe. But we are going to strike—and strike hard. I cannot tell you whether we are going to hit them in Norway, or thru the Low Countries or in France, or thru Sardinia or Sicily or thru the Balkans, or thru Poland—or at several points simultaneously."

After reading the paragraph, Mr. Roosevelt smiled broadly. He then said that the conference was a parley to win the war and its planning was all toward that objective, as much as could be planned in 1943.

The President remarked that he had discovered on his return a number of people thought that Russia and China should have been represented at the meeting. Such mistakes in theory could easily have been obviated if such persons had thought things thru, he said.

Correspondents Puzzled.

Russia is not fighting Japan, he said, and China, although it has declared war against Germany, is so situated geographically that it can do nothing in the way of an offensive against Germany.

Correspondents were more than somewhat puzzled by this explanation. It did not take into account the joint statement of the conferees which said an invitation had been extended to Josef Stalin, soviet dictator, which he had declined.

Asked if he has made any plans for a personal meeting with Stalin, he quoted cryptically: "Hope springs eternal."

Mr. Roosevelt also emphasized that there is no dispute between Gen. Henri Giraud, French North African high commissioner, and Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Free French leader. He said the North African situation is essentially a military problem and "you can't get a dispute out of it."

Planned Hemisphere Security.

The President also discussed his meeting with President Getulio Vargas of Brazil at Natal on his return from Casablanca. This conference, he said, concerned increased Brazilian anti-submarine efforts and the necessity for inclusion of provisions in any future peace which would eliminate any threat to South America from the African coast—1,600 miles away. People in control of the bulge of Africa should understand, he said, provisions will be made to prevent recurrence of a threat to one hemisphere from another.

RED CROSS SENDS 3 TRUCKLOADS OF FOOD TO LIBYA

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—Three truckloads of food for the Italian and Arab civilian population of Tripolitania [Libya] have been sent from Cairo, Egypt, the American Red Cross announced today. The 15,000 pounds of dried milk, rolled oats, and chocolate that were sent will provide an estimated three weeks' supply of food for Italian mothers, children, invalids, and civilian casualties as well as for the Arabs in the area, the Red Cross said. It added that the supplies were sent in response "to an emergency request of the British authorities."

TWO CHICAGOANS WIN MEDALS FOR HEROISM IN ACTIONS IN PACIFIC

Two Chicagoans have received awards for heroism, according to information received here yesterday. Both were decorated for participating in actions in the South Pacific.

Capt. James T. Jarman.

A distinguished flying cross was awarded by the navy to Capt. James T. Jarman, 24 years old, son of A. Jarman of 7408 Coles avenue. Jarman, an army pilot, helped in the Guadalcanal Island offensive last September, when he was a lieutenant.

[In October, 1942, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet at Pearl Harbor, awarded a distinguished flying cross to Jarman. It is possible that the navy's announcements of yesterday is a clerical duplication.]

Judson George Butland, whose Chicago address was not given, was decorated with the navy and marine corps medal by Adm. William F. Halsey, commander of United States naval forces in the South Pacific. Butland is a naval aviation chief machinist's mate.

Another Chicagoan Decorated.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP).—Lt. [j. g.] Morton E. Wolfson of 6843 Clyde avenue, Chicago, today was awarded a navy silver star for gallantry in directing a gun crew aboard a freighter while under attack by 26 German planes. Neither the site nor the date of the battle were given.

GUARDS' ANTICS KEPT GAZES OFF ROOSEVELT AUTO

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—President Roosevelt related with evident relish today an account of antics performed by secret service men in a jeep in order to distract attention from him in North Africa.

The secret service men, he explained to a press conference, were traveling just ahead of him when he motored from Casablanca to Rabat, where he reviewed American troops.

Whenever some one was sighted by the roadside, one secret service officer would pretend to be on the point of falling from the jeep and another would be trying desperately to haul him back in. The idea was that the bystander would be so intrigued by this sight that he would not notice who was in the next car.

CALL OFFICIALS TO EXPLAIN LACK OF VITAL PARTS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—The house military and naval affairs committees today summoned army and navy officers for an executive hearing tomorrow on shortages of fabricated construction parts impeding erection of aviation gasoline refineries, the construction of escort vessels, and the completion of synthetic rubber plants.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson yesterday maintained that America's effectiveness in 1943 against enemy planes and submarines is being sacrificed so that a larger portion of the supply of scarce parts can be allocated to the synthetic plants.

Rubber Director William M. Jeffers, in his fight with the army and navy for a larger portion of the component parts, such as valves, gauges, and instruments, has contended that a lack of rubber might cause a loss of the war thru a breakdown in transportation on the home front. He has been supported in this interdepartmental feud by Director Joseph B. Eastman of the office of defense transportation.

SO PROUDLY WE HAIL...

The Deb, the Post-Deb in War Work

You're the gals who don't have to report to an office at nine in the morning and stay there until five at night—but you're doing it these days, as volunteers. Three years ago, two years ago, your predecessors were making the society columns ring with gaiety. But not you, not now. You're the backbone of the Nurse's Aide corps, the motor corps, the volunteer clerical staffs—the daytime, time-taking jobs that have to be done.

Kathleen Kelly, as chairman of the War Bonds and Stamps Sales Committee of the Junior League, is representative of all of you. She has concentrated on selling War Bonds with the same zeal others of you have given to nursing. She and her sister maintain a War Bond and Stamp booth in a bank—and as though that weren't enough, Kathleen comes to Victory Center on our Ninth Floor as a representative of the Junior League and sells more. For A.W.V.S. she does office work, gathers and gives out hotel information, handles some publicity. And with that third hand some of us discover in these times, she works on two radio programs that are completely staffed by volunteers. One is the Junior League radio theatre's program, "That en ay Live." sponsored by the Council of Social Agencies to further work done on the home front; the other is ' BBM's public service feature, "War Jobs for Women."

Day in and day out you prove your right to wear the uniform of the Red Cross, the American Women's Volunteer Service. Everyone knew you'd roll up your sleeves and dig in—what we didn't know was that you'd find new reservoirs of good old stick-to-itiveness—and Marshall Field & Company salutes you.

FIRST, GET FLEISCHMANN'S BOND

THEN DO THIS!

1. In a mixing glass containing ice cubes put one dash of Angostura bitters.
2. Add ¾ oz. of sweet vermouth and 1½ oz. of delicious Fleischmann's BOND.
3. Stir. Strain into chilled 4-oz. glass. Garnish with Maraschino cherry. Then close your eyes —and drink!

U. S. PLAN: PAY '43 TAX AND PART OF '42 THIS YEAR

24% Pay Roll Deduction Asked by Treasury.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2. — The treasury department urged today that the millions of American taxpayers be required to pay all of 1943 taxes and at least part of 1942's during this year as a means of placing them on a pay as you go income tax basis. The added collections, congress was informed, would offset the need for heavier taxes to meet the 16 billion dollars in new revenue requested by President Roosevelt.

The treasury's advocacy of a pay as you go plan was accompanied by a suggestion of a 24 per cent pay roll deduction [after exemptions] which would include the present 5 per cent victory tax. The additional 19 per cent represents the income tax rates applicable to most of the 44,000,000 taxpayers—those whose incomes after exemptions and credits do not exceed $2,000.

All Must File by March 15.

In testimony lasting the entire day before the house ways and means committee, Randolph Paul, general counsel for the treasury, came out flatly for the pay as you go plan and checkoff or collection at source to replace the present system. His opposition to skipping a year of taxes was in line with previously expressed views of the President and other administration officials.

Earlier the committee approved a resolution stating the nation should understand that nothing congress does in the next few weeks toward revamping the tax collection machinery will alter the necessity for filing regular income tax returns and paying the first quarterly instalment by March 15. Even tho the new tax legislation is passed before that time, the usual returns and payments must be made and a full credit will be allowed taxpayers under any new system, the resolution states.

Fears Favor to High Brackets.

Paul's arguments against forgiving a year of taxes, as is provided by the widely favored Ruml plan for bringing taxpayers up to date in their payments, were based chiefly on the principle that persons with large incomes would profit relatively more than wage earners in lower income brackets where the tax burden is the heaviest anyway.

A married person, with no dependents, having a net income of $2,000 in 1942, owes a tax of $140, or 7 per cent of his income, which is the extent of the benefit he would derive from suspension of last year's taxes, Paul said. In contrast, the treasury representative continued, he would be forgiven $4,152, or 22 per cent, if his income was $10,000, and $854,000, or 85 per cent, if he happened to be in the 1 million dollar net income class.

Admittedly, he said, requiring a doubling up of taxes in the year of transition will result in severe hardship if not an impossible financial situation. In view of this problem, Paul suggested that it might be desirable to postpone one year of taxes and permit payment to be made within a period of years at the discretion of the taxpayer or in regular instalments.

"In the light of the revenue needs of the government and the equitable distribution of the tax burden, complete forgiveness seems very undesirable," he asserted. "Complete doubling up undoubtedly would be too harsh for some taxpayers. Accordingly, deferment of payment of taxes for the transition year to the extent necessary to relieve such hardships appears to be desirable. This is not to say that some discount, or even a certain amount of forgiveness, may not be found to be desirable for the same reason."

Paul emphasized that "very great increases" in government revenue are going to be necessary in coming years. He said it seems more fair to collect "at least to a substantial degree" the tax liabilities which have already been imposed rather than forgive a year's taxes while adding to the burdens on low income groups.

Practically all of the added 16 billions requested by Mr. Roosevelt will have to be syphoned from individuals, whether the levies are on incomes or in some other form of taxation, he continued. Carrying out the request will mean more than doubling the load on taxpayers anyway, Paul said.

Other Principal Points.

Other principal points in the treasury official's dissertation were:

Collection of income taxes at the source on only the basic liability—normal tax plus the first surtax rate, a total of 19 per cent—thus making more than 70 per cent of all income taxpayers fully current. In the beginning, the treasury considers it undesirable to attempt full current collections for everybody at the progressive rates.

Collections at the source should take into account the dependency and marital exemptions so that the amounts derived will be as nearly exact as possible. The taxes collected should be based on the current year's income rather than on the previous year to avoid hardships due to fluctuations and year-to-year differences in income.

Persons with incomes other than wages and salaries, such as farmers, business proprietors and professional men could be put on a pay-as-you-go basis thru filing of quarterly estimates of income and pro-rating their exemptions. Necessary adjustments would be made at the end of the year as in the cases of taxpayers in the high income groups.

ASKS WHY NAVY FAILS TO ORDER WINCHELL TRIAL

Court Martial Regulations Cited by Hoffman.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—A demand was made on the house floor today that the navy department explain to congress why Lt. Comm. Walter Winchell has not been court martialed for contemptuous and disrespectful utterances against the legislative branch and conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] introduced a resolution of inquiry on Winchell's status which requires that Secretary of Navy Frank Knox make a formal reply to the house within seven days.

Helped Smear Campaign.

Winchell, a Broadway gossip columnist and radio commentator, recently returned from an undisclosed mission out of the country. He was one of the leaders in the administration's smear campaign against members of congress before the last election.

Hoffman called attention to section 1534 of title 10 of the United States code:

"An officer who uses contemptuous or disrespectful words against . . . the congress of the United States shall be dismissed from the service or suffer such other punishment as the court martial may direct."

As examples of alleged violations of this statute, the Michigan congressman quoted statements from Winchell's column and broadcasts.

Cites Magazine Story.

Hoffman also pointed out that a false statement by Winchell that Gerald L. K. Smith of Detroit, Mich., was under indictment for sedition is covered by another United States statute calling for court martial of any officer guilty of falsehood. Smith has never been indicted and received an immediate retraction in Liberty magazine where the Winchell statement was published.

The resolution requires that the house be furnished other details regarding Winchell's commission.

NEW LOP SIDED NAZI COMBAT PLANE GIVES PILOT WIDE VISION

Unrestricted vision for the pilot was the controling factor in design of the German Blohm and Voss airplane model 141, probably the most remarkable in appearance of all the combat types in service in the war in Europe, pictures of which arrived in Chicago yesterday.

Other airplanes are symmetrical. Wings are of equal length and shape on each side of the fuselage with the engine in the center in single engine types, or engines spaced equally on each side of the fuselage in multi-engined forms. The BV 141 is asymmetrical. The wings are unequal in length and the pilot cabin and engine nacelle are spaced unequally in relation to the middle of the wing span. The effect is lop sided.

Dr. Richard Vogt, Blohm and Voss chief designer, disclosed recently that the first BV 141 was completed in 1938 and was accepted by the late Ernst Udet, famous German test pilot, who flew it and saw the advantages of the form for reconnaisance. The cabin nose is almost entirely of glass, giving the pilot perfect vision on all sides, above, and below. The rear of the cabin is similarly constructed. The plane is not built in large numbers.

3 CITY FIREMEN ARE INDUCTED AS NAVAL OFFICERS

Three members of the Chicago fire department were sworn in yesterday as officers of the United States navy. The men were given commissions in the engineer's volunteer specialists' class of fire fighters.

Those commissioned are: Capt. Thomas J. Finnin, 5319 Adams street, formerly attached to hook and ladder company No. 26; Lt. Clarence F. Schar, 5451 Eddy street, formerly of engine company No. 14, and Fireman Edward J. Prendergast, 2200 North Lamon avenue, formerly of hook and ladder company No. 2. Finnin and Schar became naval lieutenants and Prendergast lieutenant, junior grade.

The three men will report on Feb. 10 to the navy's fire fighting school in Boston, Mass.

A Message to Victory Gardeners:

FOR GARDENERS of the Chicago area, who this year must grow vegetables as a patriotic duty, we have provided large stocks of seed of the same high quality we have supplied for 66 years.

We cannot expand our store space and clerical staff to the same extent, however, and already it is apparent that the demand will be far greater than we normally handle.

By buying early, before the spring rush, you will insure prompt service and a selection from undepleted stocks.

No one can tell with certainty how great the seed demand may be. Careful planning of your garden and the purchase only of the seed you need will help insure that no one else shall go without.

In Vaughan's Gardening Illustrated for 1943 is embodied a Victory Garden Guide, which includes data enabling you to plan a garden for continuous abundant supply sufficient for your family needs without wasteful surpluses.

had a caller about 1 p. m., when she was talking on the telephone to her cousin, Mrs. Phoebe Zyrkowski of 1751 North Spaulding avenue. Mrs. Zyrkowski reported that she heard Miss Carey's dog barking, and heard Miss Carey say: "The door bell's ringing. I'll have to go. Call me back in an hour."

Mrs. Zyrkowski called back at 2:30 o'clock, but there was no answer. Miss Carey was dead.

Miss Carey shared the apartment with Miss Maxine Buturff, who is one of the owners of Harper's Ladies Specialty shop, 350 North Michigan avenue. Miss Buturff, said she last saw Miss Carey at 8 a. m. before leaving for work.

She could throw no light on the murder mystery, but when she went thru the apartment with police she reported that two fur coats—a full length mink and a full length sable—were missing. Miss Buturff at first could not find Miss Carey's jewelry in its accustomed place, but this was found later in another hiding place. It included a $2,500 diamond bracelet and a large diamond ring.

In this hiding place the police also discovered the safety deposit key.

Clear Up Locked Door Mystery.

Acting Capt. William Drury of the Town Hall station, who led the police to the scene of the killing, was puzzled at first to find both the front and back doors locked, the front door being secured by a safety device that permitted the door to be opened only a few inches. This mystery was solved later when it was discovered that the rear door had a spring lock which fastened automatically as the slayer departed.

Police theorized that the killer was a man Miss Carey knew and that she admitted him to the apartment. They went into the kitchen, where Miss Carey started preparing two cups of cocoa. The cups were found on the kitchen table. One of them contained dry cocoa ready for hot milk to be added. The other cup was half full of the beverage.

Began Quarreling in Kitchen.

Possibly, as they sat in the kitchen together, the slayer suddenly seized Miss Carey and started beating her, police said. Strands of hair were found on the floor between the kitchen and the dining room.

The killer then is believed to have dragged her into the dining room, where the struggle continued. Her body was found partly under a large chair.

Miss Carey's mother and stepfather, John Carey, live in a small apartment above a bakery at 3234 Armitage avenue. Estelle's father, whose name was Smith, died when she was 2½ years old, and her mother, Lillian, placed her in an orphanage.

There Estelle remained until her mother married Carey in 1916. Estelle lived with them and attended Harriet Beecher Stowe school. She left school to work in a silk thread factory, her mother said, and then became a telephone operator.

Later Miss Carey worked as a waitress at several places. She left home in 1930, saying she wanted to make her own way.

"She was a good girl," said Mrs. Carey. "She was always bringing up presents and visiting us and writing to us when she was away. But she was high toned. She didn't want to live in this little apartment.

"I worried about her a lot, and I told her so. But she always replied, 'I can take care of myself'."

"Discovered" by Circella.

Police investigation of Miss Carey's career disclosed that 12 years ago, when she was a waitress in a near north side restaurant, Circella noted her beauty and installed her as the operator of the "26" game in one of his clubs.

In 1938, according to the testimony in the Weymer divorce case, she was a dice girl in the Yacht club on East Oak street. Later she ran the "26" game in the Colony club, operated by Henry [Sonny] Goldstone, whose name appears on her social security card as her employer. Goldstone, who lives at 411 Fullerton parkway, was questioned by the police last night. He said he had not seen Miss Carey for several years.

Baby Girl Born in Coupe as Parents Race Stork

Mr. and Mrs. Alvo McKinney, 2611 West 24th place, and William Rector, 5526 South Talman avenue, McKinney's foreman, lost a race with the stork yesterday. A 7 pound baby girl was born to Mrs. McKinney, who is 26 years old, in Rector's coupe at 35th street and Western, as the three were en route to Englewood hospital. Nurses summoned from nearby doctors' and dentists' offices aided. McKinney and Rector are employés of THE TRIBUNE's receiving department.

WARNS OF PUBLIC IRE AT SNOOPING BY 'CRACKPOTS'

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—Rep. Harold Knutson [R., Minn.] told the house today that voters of his district are losing patience with burocratic pay rollers whom he described as "crackpot chair warmers and snoopers."

Rep. Harold Knutson.

Just 24 hours after Chairman Martin Dies of the house committee to investigate un-American activities had demanded that congress drive "crackpots and radical burocrats" from the government pay roll, Knutson related complaints against burocracy from small business men, farmers, and constituents affected by tire rationing and other governmental regulation, and read a number of letters he has received.

Lists Group of Complaints.

Knutson listed these complaints:

Business men say government questionnaires are bogging them down.

Newspaper editors report they are being swamped with newsless propaganda releases.

Farmers assert that they are being asked for greater production, while the draft and war industry's high wages sap their man power.

Bankers charge that the regional Agricultural Credit corporation—which one of them called Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard's "baby"—is only another setup in competition with business and an unnecessary addition to the agencies already established under the guise of aids to the farmer.

Rap Army of Snoopers.

Citizens in general protest there is no necessity for what Knutson termed "the army of taxeaters that continually snoops about the country trying to get something on some one."

Knutson said that in the light of heavy taxes and the alleged man power shortage, voters "figure that these snoopers could be much better utilized in uniform and at the front."

Knutson said he feared to divulge the names of those protesting lest they be annoyed by snoopers.

FIND NEWLY BORN BABY BOY ALIVE IN ALLEY ASH CAN

A newly born boy baby with a handkerchief stuffed in his mouth was found alive yesterday in an ashcan in the alley in the rear of 409 North Leclaire avenue. The child was about 2 hours old and weighed 8 pounds.

"This was a brutal abandonment," said Sergt. Frank Sheehan of the Austin station. "The mother or some one else left the baby to perish."

The baby was unclothed and in an ordinary shopping bag on top of an ashpile in the ashcan. He was found by Mrs. Freida Weiss, 405 North Leclaire avenue, who heard his cries. She called Mrs. Catherine Tardy of 409 North Leclaire, who wrapped the baby in a blanket. Policeman Thomas Mulvey and Edward Capparelli took the foundling to St. Anne's hospital for first aid and later removed him to St. Vincent's orphanage.

You can aid wartime bus service by planning essential trips for February or March—instead of Mid-Summer

Never in history has it been so important to choose with care the time and occasion for travel. Through the years bus travel has always been very heavy in some months, less heavy in others—and this has held true even in wartime when the demands on transportation are naturally increased. That's why Greyhound has long urged everyone to postpone travel until less crowded periods—and February and March are just such times. Essential trips taken, when possible, in mid-winter will greatly relieve overcrowding in the mid-summer months ahead. You can aid wartime transportation still further by choosing the right day — in mid-week — and the right schedule—the least crowded one. It's wise to take along as little baggage as possible — and to get information on any trip well in advance.

MR. DIES' 40 CRACKPOTS.

Congressman Dies has come forward with a list of 40 men and women on the government pay roll whom he characterized as "irresponsible, unrepresentative, crackpot and radical burocrats." Many of them have been in the government service for years. Many of them have been exposed time after time by Mr. Dies and his colleagues of the investigating committee. Some of them, following the exposure of their Communist and crackpot activities, have been dismissed from the bureaus to which they had been attached only to reappear a few weeks later in other government jobs.

It is preposterous to pretend, as apologists for the New Deal are always doing, that it is only by accident and oversight that such men and women enjoy the favor of the administration. Maurice Parmelee, "the author of numerous volumes, all of them revolutionary in character" as well as of a volume in praise of nudism, was dismissed from the board of economic warfare after being exposed by the Dies committee, only to turn up again in short order as an economist for the railroad retirement board. David Saposs was chief economist for the national labor relations board until congress forced his removal; now he is again in government service, this time at a salary of $8,000 as assistant to the chief of the labor division of the war production board. Harold Loeb, the author of volumes on technocracy, was removed from OPA but is back again as senior economist for the WPB. These are typical items from the record that Mr. Dies has prepared.

These reappointments are not accidents. The retention of these men and the others like them in the public service is not the result of oversight but of determination. Mr. Roosevelt has enjoyed the support of Communists and other radicals and revolutionaries over the years and he means to continue to enjoy it. He distributes his patronage with that idea in mind. He needs these boys. They help him in the purge campaigns. Many of them have the contemptuous attitude toward congress that makes them particularly useful as burocrats when the administration seeks to do something that congress disapproves.

Some of the men listed by Mr. Dies hold important positions in the federal administration. Upon their judgment, the judgment of crackpots, depend in some measure the success of our country in war and the lives of our soldiers.

Mr. Dies says that it is time that congress used its constitutional power over appropriations to rid the government of these men who are a menace to the country's welfare in war and a threat to the survival of the republic. It is to be hoped that congress will heed his warning. The hour is already late.

THE SMEAR PUNISHED.

John O'Donnell, head of the Washington bureau of the New York Daily News, won a $50,000 verdict last week against the Philadelphia Record. The jury which heard the libel suit reached its conclusion on the first ballot. Mr. O'Donnell and his newspaper had earned the wrath of the administration for being isolationist. The Record, the beneficiary of a million dollar loan from the Federal Reserve bank in 1937, was doing the administration's work when it published an editorial denouncing Mr. O'Donnell as a Naziphile, an anti-Semite, and a labor hater. It was that editorial which was the basis of the suit.

Mr. O'Donnell won in spite of the judges who presided. First a mistrial was declared because the Record, in the midst of the hearing, published a statement of the amount of damages claimed. Mr. O'Donnell's lawyers offered to waive the point but, tho the error was committed by the other side, the trial was declared off, and after some delay the hearings had to be started all over again. At once judicial interference was manifest. The new judge sought to persuade Mr. O'Donnell to accept a mild retraction in settlement of his suit.

The Philadelphia newspaper was defeated in its own town, before a judge who could not be suspected of unfriendliness to the Record. In this connection it is noteworthy that President Roosevelt himself, on Dec. 18, not long before the trial was resumed, found occasion to present an iron cross to O'Donnell, an obvious attempt to prejudice his case.

The verdict demonstrates that the people of Philadelphia no less than the people of the rest of the country are disgusted by the smearing tactics of the administration and its partisans. The $50,000 verdict measures the opinion held in Philadelphia of government by slander and intimidation. Mr. O'Donnell's victory was won in an area which is supposed to be peculiarly internationalist. His vindication will encourage all true Americans, everywhere in the country, to continue the fight against those who would subject our country to the dominance of foreign nations and alien doctrines of government.

The Record's petition for a rehearing of the case is shortly to be heard by a panel of three judges, one of them Judge Sloan, who presided over the trial. It may be significant that all three are Democrats and that in normal course the petition would not be considered until the end of the month but, at the request of the Record, is to be given consideration at once. The proceedings will be followed with a good deal more than casual interest.

THE RUBBER BLOCKADE.

Sen. Wheeler has told colleagues on a senate committee that when an American lawyer of sound reputation commented in London last summer that the United States will make its own rubber synthetically after the war the lawyer received a call from the United States ambassador complaining that his remarks were very embarrassing to our government.

Vice President Wallace, who appears more concerned with post-war programs than with winning the war, is suspected of similar views. He has held that we ought to shut down our synthetic rubber plants in order to give the business, in the name of international trade, to the British and Dutch rubber barons whom the Japanese have temporarily dispossessed.

These comments and reports become more significant in the light of the constant stream of obstacles which the synthetic program seems to be encountering, obstacles which have repeatedly forced Rubber Administrator Jeffers to take his case to the public. At present the war production board is giving the highest priority to Mr. Jeffers to finish 43 per cent of the projected plants to make synthetic rubber. The excuse given is that the same materials and articles are required for two other projects of the greatest urgency—the building of escort vessels for the navy to fight submarines and the building of additional plants to make aviation gasoline for the army.

The need of escort vessels is admitted. It is not improbable that the navy department has bungled in delaying construction as long as it did. Similarly, the army may need more gasoline, but, regardless of the urgency of escort vessel and aviation gasoline programs, these programs alone cannot take a tremendous percentage of the production of articles which they must share with the synthetic rubber plants. The country would like to know how much the two programs mentioned do require and to what extent they are being used as a screen for the diversion of the same critical materials from the rubber plants to other and less essential projects.

It is hard to believe that any American, no matter how deeply imbued with harebrained internationalism, would be so traitorous as deliberately to sabotage the synthetic rubber program on which both our success in war and the maintenance of our domestic economy depend. Yet the program is admittedly lagging far behind the rate set for it, and evidence appears from time to time that reasons exist for impeding it.

Mr. Jeffers has given evidence of the greatest sincerity in his efforts to get the program rolling. Congress, when it comes to investigate the situation further, as it must, will undoubtedly find him, at least, completely coöperative.

THE TRACTION REPORT.

While formal action is still to come, it will surprise no one if the Illinois Commerce commission accepts the recommendation of its examiners that the proposed Chicago traction unification plan is so basically unsound that it should be disapproved. Thus, another episode in the 16 years of attempts to reorganize and modernize the Chicago local transportation companies seems to end in futility.

The ponderous delays of the law have been the city's misfortune. By the time any plan for reorganization is agreed upon it is always about five years out of date, both economically and politically. The city has been presented with one traction fantasy after another, with never any very definite guaranties as to where the money was coming from to translate the dreams out of dreamland. This time the reorganization scheme seems to have fallen into the hands of realists.

Mr. Salter and Mr. Kleinman, the commerce commission's experts, assert in their report that if the proposed reorganized and unified traction company were to meet all its obligations—that is if it were to pay interest and dividends on all the securities which are given a putative value under the reorganization, and at the same time set aside modest sums for modernization of its facilities—it would be necessary to raise the all-over average fare charged riders on the system from a present level of 8.3 cents to one of 10.7 cents. Failing such a fare increase, the examiners assert, the proposed company could solve its difficulties only by being bailed out by federal subsidies, by defaulting on its securities, or by reneging on its pledges to modernize its facilities.

From a financial standpoint, the examiners make a strong case against the reorganization plan. From a physical standpoint and that of service to the public it is doubtful whether the acceptance or rejection of the plan makes much difference. As the examiners assert, little could be done to improve service that cannot be accomplished just as easily by operating agreements, with the "L" and surface lines remaining separate corporations. Certainly no extensions or improvements are going to be possible until after the war. A faulty plan can be rejected now at least cost to the public, since time remains to redraft it before any physical improvements can be undertaken.

The only sound reason for unification was that it offered one means of carrying along the elevated lines, which are the financial cripple in the traction picture. The "L" lines cannot be, or at least have not been, operated at a profit, yet there is no one who does not recognize that their continued operation is necessary as a matter of service to local transportation riders. The principal problem to be solved in any reorganization is to determine who is to carry this cripple. Under the plan which it is now proposed that the commerce commission reject, this carrying would be done by the surface lines, and by the public, thru the freeing for indiscriminate use of reserves formerly held for renewals of surface lines equipment.

Editorial of the Day

HELL HOLES AND UNION CARDS.

[Tampa Morning Tribune.]

We are not surprised that the professional labor leaders are expressing their "regrets" at the remarks made by Capt. Rickenbacker on the subject of war production and union labor's possible post-war activities. Capt. Rickenbacker hit the nail on its head when he said to labor, after a tour of war production plants: "If you could understand what our boys are doing in the hell holes thruout the world that our way of life may be preserved, you would not worry about eight hours a day, overtime, or double time for Saturdays and holidays." To that the outspoken air hero added a significant suggestion—that congress take action to insure that our fighting men, when they return from the war, "can be employed by any employer without having to join any organized labor unions."

In that suggestion Rickenbacker touched a tender spot on the epidermis of the professional labor agitator. It is a serious question if organized labor will become so entrenched as the war goes on that when our soldiers and sailors return from the fighting fronts to take their places again in peacetime industry they will find that before they can get jobs they will have to pay fees to dictatorial unions and receive permits from union "business agents." That's the possible [and probable] situation which prompted Capt. Rickenbacker's hint that congress ought to do something to protect our fighting men from that imposition when they come home after winning the war.

You may pooh-pooh the idea—but remember what the prohibitionists did to our fighting men of 1917-'18?

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE.

Loyola university's private earthquake, caused by ice floes bucking the shore line, prompted John T. McCutcheon to ask this column if it remembered any actual quakes in Chicago. He recalled a seismic shudder in the good old days when George Ade was writing 'Stories of the Streets and of the Town," and we trumped it with a midget temblor about 10 years younger.

* * *

At first we thought that an extra-heavy truck was passing below our fourth floor apartment. But there was something strange about the vibrations, and before the pictures had stopped swinging on their hooks we said, "It's an earthquake." Later in the day the newspapers confirmed our opinion. But the quake was so petty that it has not passed into the traditions of the town. The year was 1908, at a guess.

* * *

That period also enjoyed a false earthquake which caused more excitement. Buildings shook, windows rattled, screens fell out, doors flew open for no reason, and the citizens registered a mild degree of alarm. The cause was the explosion of a powder factory in the northern hinterland, perhaps across the Wisconsin state line, at a place called Pleasant Prairie.

* * *

Once upon an Easter Sunday afternoon, maybe 1915 or 1920, we strolled down to the lake to learn what the wild waves were saying. The wind was blowing great guns from the west, but a heavy surf was rolling up the beach against it. We observed that the wind was whipping off the crest of the waves and driving the spume out to sea. "Odd behavior on the part of wind and wave," we said, "and apparently contrary to nature." . . . A few hours later we learned that the Chicago area had suffered its first taste of a cyclone, which made its dying slash thru a portion of the village of Wilmette. The following June, in a wooded region above Fox Lake, we discovered a perfect cyclone path thru heavy timber.

* * *

Chicago's meanest weather trick is the rain that turns into snow and is followed by a quick freeze. This January began with such a glazing of the streets and ended with another. It has been a winter for Alpine equipment.

Report from a Squirrel Watcher.

Linemaster: It's a lot more fun bein' on the sick-list out in the country than it would be in the city. Lyin' here one mornin' after the big thaw I watched the antics of a passel of fox squirrels that came gallopin' out of the big woods back of the house. There's several red oaks in the yard and there must be somep'n special about the big acorns so thick on the grass beneath 'em.

Outside of one pair of squirrels, each picked him a tree and stayed with it. He'd find him an acorn, stow it in his cheek, an' then streak up his tree to a favorite twig, where he'd sit with his back an' tail against the trunk while he hulled the acorn and ate the meat. Take him mebbe two-three minutes an' then back down for 'nuthern.

But that one pair worked a special stunt. They picked a tree alright but the he-squirrel would dash about a hundred feet from it to a tree near the road, dig an acorn out of the ice and dash back to put it on the grass under their tree. Over and over he did this, only once in a while stoppin' to eat one.

Meanwhile the she was pickin' 'em up, carryin' 'em about 30 feet toward the house, and buryin' 'em in what was left of a snowdrift. Buried 'em deep, and patted the snow down with her front paws goin' like mad. She didn't eat many, neither, tho they kept that up for an hour. Mebbe they'll come back for 'em tomorrow.

Here man commands, and space and time obey!
The boundless universe in stately flight
Moves at our will, and all the vast array
Of planets wheel in chartless paths of night.
As seconds toll long centuries, and move
The drama of the heavens in the spheres,
The timeless and the endless meet to prove
Our fleeting moment in the span of years.
We learn the tidings of the world of space
But thru light's laggard speed; and only here
May searching minds find comfort as we trace
Strange stars, born ages since, whose rays austere
Shall not shine on this earth until our eyes,
Fallen on sleep, may no more seek the skies.

The wear, wrinkles, and shrivel came from treading the bottoms of trout and bass streams devastated by carp.

Take these to your club chef. Ask him to prepare them with the same loving care and expensive wine sauce as the carp. You will find them of better flavor and far more edible. M. O. S.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

THE INTENSIVE TREATMENT OF SYPHILIS.

WHEN Paul Erlich discovered arsenic [salvarsan] for the treatment of syphilis, he believed that the drug could be prescribed in massive doses. Unfortunately the preparation, called "606," proved poisonous to many victims. Subsequently various modifications were withstood far better. In other words the patient could take large quantities at more frequent intervals without embarrassment.

About 10 years ago physicians at Mount Sinai hospital [New York] suggested that slow but continuous administration might be more effective than the weekly injections previously advised. Twenty-five persons, with symptoms of a recent infection, were selected. Within five days they were supplied as much organic arsenic as had been used in as many weeks. Hospitalization was required.

Eighty-six per cent were clinically cured. Despite every precaution, however, toxic manifestations were exhibited, such as nerve irritation followed by paralysis. There was one death.

An effort was then made to find a less harmful form, and mapharsen answered the requirement. Bad after-effects were practically eliminated, altho now and then a case of encephalitis would be observed. These investigators concluded that the most advantageous plan would not permit the employment of huge portions of the medicine within a few days. An acceptable regimen was hit upon, in which 20 injections of mapharsen were given in a period of approximately 28 days. This management has been adhered to by many clinics with excellent results. About the only unwelcome symptom is a slight headache and an occasional attack of nausea and vomiting.

Approximately 87 per cent of the acute cases were pronounced well. The percentage was not as high, however, in those who had suffered from the disease for from a few weeks to several months. For them, additional courses were demanded. In this latter group particularly there were a number of relapses.

There is reason to believe that improvements are in prospect, utilizing more of the parasite-destroying chemicals over a shorter time. But success can be looked for only with individuals whose lesions are detected in the primary stage. The responsible organism apparently has the ability to lurk in regions of the body which are not bathed freely by the circulation. This means that the drug must exist in high concentration over an interval sufficiently prolonged to catch the "bugs" when they venture forth from their hiding places.

The theory that a fever of 106 or 107 degrees F. will be helpful has not been demonstrated conclusively. It is entirely possible, however, that the greater flow of blood thru enlarged capillaries will open up new areas. Furthermore, the increase in oxygen may neutralize some of the toxin produced by the spirochetes.

At the present time it would seem that a month of intensive care will catch most of our early cases. But prolonged and continued watchfulness, with appropriate remedies, will be needed if the ailment has secured a fair start. The day may come when we can, with impunity, resort to such an overwhelming dose that not a single wiggler will escape.

AN ORIENTAL INVASION.

F. G. writes: A young friend, serving in the marine corps in the Solomons, writes us that he is ill with paragonimiasis. What is this disease?

REPLY.

The cause is a parasite [a fluke] which enters the lung. The worms are swallowed with contaminated food or water. The malady is well known in China and Japan. Everything is done to build up the patient and sustain his strength. After a time, the invaders die. This is followed by recovery.

NOT A SEQUEL.

V. H. E. writes: Does chronic bronchitis eventually develop into tuberculosis?

REPLY.

While sufferers from bronchitis may develop tuberculosis, this is not the rule. The two diseases differ widely.

STRATEGY VS. IMPERIAL INTERESTS

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Ambassador Grew and other authorities agree that the Japanese can only be beaten by the conquest of their homeland. Military authorities such as Gen. MacArthur and Eddie Rickenbacker agree that this can be done by blows struck from the air. Australia is now amply protected. This seems to be the time to start.

Foreign influences not interested in the welfare of our boys undoubtedly will advocate rolling back the Japs island by island, as this is the only way the British and the Dutch will regain their possessions in the far east. In this manner, as each area is reconquered, it will be turned over to the country heretofore possessing it. If Japan is defeated at home and its military machine is thereby made to collapse, the natives in these areas will take over, and the likelihood of the great powers regaining possession of these colonies is very small. It would provide an excellent opportunity for the four freedoms to assert themselves, but, as we are already told, these empires do not intend to be liquidated.

FRED RUTH.

HIS MOTHER'S BOY.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—"College Student's" reply to "Over 50" regarding the enlisted reserve is all wet. A boy does not have to be above the "middle" section to go to college. My son was 458th out of a class of 500 and was admitted to a Big Ten college commercial course. Later he changed his course to engineering so that he could be draft deferred and finish his education. I protested, but he said the other students were doing this.

Later, when he reached 20 and heard from his draft board, he immediately joined the enlisted reserve, as did several of his companions. I am heartily ashamed of his attitude, but it meets the complete approval of his mother and his aunts. Incidentally, my son's average is "C" and it is unlikely that he will ever be a successful engineer if he studies for 20 years. Don't print my name. I have enough troubles as it is.

A FIRST WAR VET.

FRAMED HIS TIRE CHECK.

Dwight, Ill., Jan. 28.—Carroll S. Shaw need not feel too badly about his government check for 80 cents for four tires, as there are evidently thousands who got the same deal. I received 60 cents for three perfectly good tires, two of which had only 600 miles of service. The current value of these tires as estimated by an experienced tireman was $35. If they had really been junk I would have tossed them on the scrap pile. I have framed my check as a reminder that "it can happen here." C. T. ADMIRE.

INJUSTICE TO OLDER SOLDIERS.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—In pledging allegiance to the flag, we say, "One nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Do you think it is justice that men not yet drafted should be exempt at 38 and other poor devils drafted only a couple of weeks before this law went into effect, 43 to 45 years of age, should still be trained for active combat duty by the army? All military men admit these men will never make soldiers.

AS FASCISM FACES DOOM.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Italian apologists are beginning to float certain theories in the hope of salvaging whatever possible from the impending wreck. Some of these theories are rather presumptuous.

First, they assume that the Italian troops are anti-Fascist, which has not been proven; indeed, when stationed in prostrate countries that the Germans have taken they have exhibited all the arrogance and barbarism of any Fascist. Second, they tell us that if "certain assurances" are not made to Italy the Italian troops will resist any allied invasion with unparalleled ferocity—a conclusion which is rather wishful since we have Caporetto on record, and at that time the Italians were facing their hereditary enemy. Third, they tell us that if we treat the Italians right they will lead us over the Alps. I rather think we have the necessary leadership for that within our own ranks. And, fourth, they tell us that the Italian trooper has no ambition to be known as a fighter. This serves as a good explanation in lieu of the poor current showings.

If any pre-invasion promises are to be made they should be to the effect that Italy is guaranteed her independence after the war, at the same time telling the Italians that their empire will be no more. LOUIS SIGALOS.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Jan. 19.—My pal and I are most anxious to have the pennant of your state. We want it to remind us of the marvelous time your people gave us as we passed thru on active service with the royal air force. Is it possible that a reader could send two of the Chicago pennants to us here?

I wish to say that we greatly appreciate the swell time the people of your state gave us, and it will live in our memory.

USE TRIBUNE MAPS IN PACIFIC.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—My brother, who is with the army on an island base in the South Pacific, told me that he wrote you how greatly he enjoys The Tribune maps which I send him.

I thought you might perhaps be interested, however, in this further comment about them that he made in a letter which I received today. He says: "Some of the maps which you sent me are being used constantly by the 'big shots' here, for they are the best maps by far that are available." ATHENA ROBBINS.

CHAPLAIN LIKED RICKENBACKER STORIES.

Independence, Kas., Jan. 29.—The story of Capt. Rickenbacker and his companions adrift on the Pacific has been read with great interest. I read it in the Kansas City Star, and have saved the story to pass on to other men of this air base. It has real value and you have done a good service in giving it to the public.

THE FARM LABOR SHORTAGE.

Scandinavia, Wis., Jan. 29. — Even into this little burgh THE TRIBUNE finds its way, and how it cheers us in this era of turmoil and anxiety. This is a dairy and potato country. Last year's potato crop was a total failure. Pray tell us what will we poor farmers do this year? The edict is: "Raise more crops." How can we? Every available man and woman has packed off to the city where higher wages are to be had. Older men, tho ablebodied and capable of cutting wood, doing chores, milking and the like prefer sitting in easy chairs and drawing a nice fat pension check from the mail box.

It's not alone the man behind the gun that is fighting this war. It's the farmer as well. Everything is rationed except work. Local papers are filled with auction sales. We are hunting high and low for help. Must we sacrifice our precious pedigreed herds, representing arduous toil and frugal savings of a lifetime? I bring my baby along to the stable, milking and doing chores twice daily—long tedious hours. We are about to give up in despair. Great edict—strip us of our man power and equipment and then direct "larger crops." It does not jell. DAIRY MATRON.

FARM AND FACTORY COMPARISON.

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 30.—I get quite a kick out of reading your Voice of the People, especially of some of the city folks' opinions of "easy farm life," as witness "Ex-Farmer Tired of City."

I've worked on ranches, grain, and dairy farms the last 10 years, and now I work in the factory and what a soft life I now have. I work eight hours a day, six days a week, and get paid time and a half for the sixth day.

On the farm I worked from 4 a. m. to 8 p. m., seven days a week, and no double or time and a half for overtime.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

ICY PORCH.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Is the landlord liable for a doctor's bill incurred because a tenant fell on a porch which had not been cleared of ice and snow? The fall resulted in a split collar bone and torn shoulder muscles besides numerous cuts and bruises. There is janitor service but the porches are neglected. M. H.

It depends on whether the landlord had expressly or impliedly undertaken to remove the snow and ice in question.

CHURCHILL VISITS CYPRUS; RENEWS PLEDGE TO TURKS

Assures Islanders Allies Are Strong in Unity.

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill's flying trip to Turkey included a stopover at the Isle of Cyprus. There he announced his pledge to aid to the Turks' "defensive security" and promised eventual deliverance of Greece "from foul bondage and tyranny."

Russian interest was noted in the fact that Moscow broadcast today the full text of the British communique on the prime minister's trip. It was sent over the air at dictation speed for the soviet press and thus was made available for publication thruout Russia.

Renews Promise of Aid.

The ministry of information disclosed that Churchill had stopped at Cyprus to renew his promises of arms and assistance against the axis. For an audience he chose a people whose mixed nationalities and history typify in many ways the whole Balkan problem.

In a brief speech to the people who combine Greek and Turkish heritage with membership in the British empire he significantly referred both to the security of Turkey, which has held fast to her alliance with Britain under severe German pressure, and to the future of the Greek member of the Anglo-Balkan bloc.

Coming directly from the defense conferences in Turkey, where British and Russian interests have been in conflict at times in the past, he also assured the people of Cyprus that the allies were strong not only in arms and men but also in "unity of purpose" and "comradeship" as well.

Speaks of Talks in Turkey.

"I have had a most agreeable meeting with President Inonu and with the chiefs of the Turkish state and I am glad to tell you our relations with the Turks are of the most friendly character," Churchill said. "Their views are very much like our own and we intend to help their own general defensive security in every way in our power."

Churchill's visit to Cyprus, which after the fall of Crete in May, 1941, became the last island barrier in the eastern Mediterranean to Germany's expansion, was regarded here as a mark of recognition of the strategic importance of the island.

WPA EQUIPMENT WASTAGE RIPPED BY BUSINESS MAN

Pressure to force the war production board to release several thousand work projects administration wheelbarrows for use on midwestern farms was begun yesterday when T. M. Dunlap, head of Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s hardware division, placed the problem in the lap of the WPB property utilization head, F. P. Donaldson.

Dunlap said that in a letter sent to Donaldson he not only advised the WPB official of the need for such equipment on midwestern farms, but he sent along a picture clipped from THE TRIBUNE. The picture, printed Monday, showed a huge pile of snow laden, rusting wheelbarrows stacked in a vacant 10 acre field at 31st street and Hoyne avenue.

"I told him, plainly, I am a business man thinking of my business, but even more I am a patriot citizen thinking of the huge food crops the farmers must raise this year to feed the army and the nation," Dunlap said. "I'll press this thing to a showdown."

Dunlap also called on William O. Hursey, assistant regional property officer, who has charge of the wheelbarrows. He said Hursey failed to produce any plan to make immediate use of the wheelbarrows possible.

THE QUESTION.

Have you ever worked hard at something and found your effort wasted?

WHERE ASKED.

Michigan avenue and Madison street.

THE ANSWERS.

E. W. Cole, milk route supervisor, 5334 Crystal street—Fishing wasn't so good that day, but I kept at it patiently. Each time I'd catch a fish I'd slip it on a string and let it dangle in the water. I discovered too late that there was no knot on the end of the string.

Mavis Lourie, Elgin—I thought my Nylon hose were too valuable to discard just because they had big holes in the heel and toe. I spent an hour darning the holes before I discovered that other parts were in such a bad condition that I could never hope to make adequate repairs.

Adith Blockwitz, student, 5155 Addison street—While on the farm father asked us to round up all the little geese. Geese run swiftly and we were plenty tired when the job was finished. The next thing we knew they were scattered all over again. We had forgotten to close both doors of the pen.

Arthur T. Sencik, woolen salesman, 6214 North Oakley avenue—After losing an hour because I had forgotten the oars. I loaded my boat, climbed in, and shoved off. The waves had carried the boat pretty far out before I noticed the oars had been left ashore. It was hard work paddling back by hand.

Gladys Thomas, typist-phone operator, 1041 South Austin boulevard—I had several pages of difficult notes to transcribe and was supposed to make several carbon copies. I typed away for a long time but when I took the papers from the typewriter I discovered all the carbons were reversed. I had to start all over again.

AURORA MARINE KILLED IN BRAWL IN NEW ZEALAND

Dispatches from Wellington, N. Z., last night said Sergt. Elmer W. Geil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Geil, 610 Monroe street, Aurora, and another marine, Sidney E. Sparrow of Memphis, Tenn., died of gunshot wounds they received in a shooting affray in an apartment house. A 19 year old girl was seriously wounded.

Wellington police arrested John Sidney Crawford, a South African seaman, who they charged did the shooting with an automatic pistol. They said the South African had been in Wellington for three months and recently was fined for bootlegging. Geil, according to the advices, was shot thru the heart.

Mr. and Mrs. Geil said last night they received word their son was wounded in a telegram from Lt. Gen. T. Holcomb, commandant. They said the letter which followed merely repeated this information and that they assumed their son had been killed in action. A few days later they received a postal card mailed by Elmer on Christmas, signed "Elmer and Marie." They assumed "Marie" was a girl with whom he was keeping company.

B, C, E and R Gas Cards Can Be Renewed by Mail

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—Holders of B, C, E, and R gasoline rations were provided today with a method of renewing expired ration books by mail. The office of price administration said local boards will mail out application forms to persons whose rations are expiring, and permit answers by mail.

M'KIBBIN TERMS SPRING ELECTION KELLY NEMESIS

Says Vote Will Overturn Democrat Machine.

Republican strength is growing steadily thruout the city and by April 6 will gain enough to beat the Kelly-Nash machine, George B. McKibbin, regular G. O. P. candidate for mayor, said last night at meetings in three wards.

McKibbin spoke at 1802 West 103d street in the 19th ward, 2519 South Pulaski road in the 23d, and 2343 Lake street in the 28th. Morgan L. Fitch, candidate for city treasurer, spoke at the latter meeting also, and Fitch addressed a meeting in the 32d ward at 1227 Milwaukee avenue, while Henry D. Lindblad, candidate for the G. O. P. nomination for city clerk, was speaking to a 9th ward meeting at 11145 Michigan avenue.

Says Machine Is Fearful.

"Don't be deceived by the whispers you hear," McKibbin told his followers. "They tell you that the Kelly machine is unbeatable. The very reason for that talk is that the machine is fearful. The leaders and all their henchmen know the people are demanding a change and therefore they are spreading such reports to discourage the opposition that is going to confront them.

"This campaign is growing by leaps and bounds. It will swell every day from now to April 6. Before we get thru the machine will use every trick in its bag. But the people are determined. This is their year of victory and they're going to win on the home front too."

The candidate said letters from voters in every ward of the city are pouring into his office in La Salle hotel.

"These," he continued, "come from the plain people who see that now is the opportunity to give Chicago a change from the intolerable conditions which have prevailed for the last 10 years."

Speaks Tonight on Radio.

McKibbin will deliver his second radio address in a series tonight. He will speak over station WIND at 7:05 p. m. and at 8:15 over station WCFL. His subject will be "Protection for the People, Not the Gangs."

Meanwhile Ald. John S. Boyle [16th], opposing Mayor Kelly for the Democratic mayoral nomination, issued a blast against the Kelly-Nash administration's domination of the city's schools. At a meeting with Mrs. Paul Douglas, wife of the former alderman who now is a captain in the marines; Mrs. George Bogert, former president of the Illinois League of Women Voters, and Mrs. William Bryant, past president of the Cook County League of Women Voters, Boyle said:

Calls It Educational Rickets.

"Under the régime of William H. Johnson, hand picked Kelly-Nash superintendent of schools, the children are suffering from educational rickets. Johnson is completely dominated by the political machine. He has eliminated all independent thought and criticism from the Principals' club and the teachers are under a reign of terror based on a system of temporary appointments, demotions, and transfers."

Boyle pledged he will restore pre-depression wages of the teachers and still economize in running the school board. He said a school superintendent of high educational qualifications, free of political subservience, should be appointed.

Radio speeches were delivered last night by Arthur F. Albert, former alderman, who opposes McKibbin in the primary, and his campaign manager, William C. Boyden. The former spoke on the traction issue over station WLS at 6:45 p. m. and the latter at 10:30 with WMAQ.

SCHUETZ ABSENT AS CONTEST OF ELECTION OPENS

Rep. Leonard W. Schuetz of the 7th congressional district was absent from the opening hearing of the election contest brought by his Republican rival in the November election, James C. Moreland, when it was held here yesterday.

Horace H. Brock, commissioner for the national house of representatives appointed to take testimony in the case, was informed by Moreland that more than a week's effort to find the congressman had been unavailing.

After a futile search for Schuetz both in Chicago and in Washington, to serve him with notice of the hearing, the document was left at Schuetz' Chicago home, Moreland reported.

The hearing, held in the office of Atty. Harry S. Ditchburne, who is representing Moreland in the proceedings, was adjourned to next Monday, when it is expected the Chicago election board will be asked to produce the poll records of 400 precincts in which voting or vote counting irregularities were alleged.

Last year, Moreland, in his fifth race to win the 7th district congressional seat from Schuetz, came within 1,975 votes of success.

HODES TO RULE ON M'CORMICK'S RETRIAL TODAY

Commission's Action to Hinge on Opinion.

Legal points on the right of the city civil service commission to sit in judgment once more on Police Capt. Martin E. McCormick and three police sergeants of anti-handbook fame were summed up yesterday for Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes. Today Hodes' opinion will be given to the commission, which two weeks ago was advised by McCormick's lawyer that the city may not legally fire McCormick now.

Carl H. Lundquist and Fred V. McGuire, assistant corporation counsels, prepared the citations of legal authority.

The commission, itself, must decide the point, the lawyers ventured to guess, pending release of the opinion by Hodes. On the commission are John P. Harding, restaurant owner; Walter L. Gregory, hotel manager, and James Cashin, Negro lawyer.

McCormick and the three sergeants, Tom Lee, Fred L. Trauth, and James E. Kehoe, were suspended two months ago after a committee headed by Federal Judge William J. Campbell charged the first trial, in which they were acquitted of charges of misconduct, was a whitewash.

MRS. MORDOFF FILES ANOTHER DIVORCE ACTION

The stormy romance of Gordon E. Mordoff, 29 years old, and his wife, the former Ruth Middendorf, 25, struck the rocks again yesterday when Mrs. Mordoff, living at 2119 Birchwood avenue, Wilmette, filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court.

The bill, filed by Atty. Joseph A. Heinzen, charged Mordoff with misconduct with a Mary Roe last Dec. 28, the date of separation, and asked alimony and custody of three children, Gordon Jr., 4 years old; Ronald, 18 months, and Geraldine, 4 weeks. Mrs. Mordoff sued for divorce in July, 1940, but dropped the action, and in August, 1941, charged Mordoff with non-support.

The couple were married in May, 1937, after they were arrested while living together. Only a year earlier Mordoff's father, Dr. Gordon E. Mordoff, lost a sensational court fight for custody of a 3 year old boy, called Sonny Boy, whom he claimed to be his son. In 1939 Dr. Mordoff was shot and killed by his brother-in-law, John Quinn, who later was sentenced to 14 years in prison for the crime.

SUBURBAN ARMY CAPTAIN PILOTS RESCUE PLANE

Capt. John D. Treher of the army air forces, former United Air Lines pilot, who lived in Western Springs, piloted a rescue plane which brought Sergt. Philip G. Bockman of the royal Canadian air force back to civilization after he had been lost for five days in Newfoundland, the air line was informed here yesterday. It was Capt. Treher's second rescue flight. While on the Chicago-New York flight for the air line two years ago he helped to rescue four persons stranded on a disabled cabin cruiser in Lake Erie.

Proposes Traffic Court Transfer to City Hall

Chief Justice Edward S. Scheffler of the Municipal court said yesterday that he may transfer the Traffic court from police headquarters at 1121 South State street to the city hall. The new location would be more convenient for traffic violators, he said, and would segregate them from usual police court offenders, including criminals. If the change is made, Judge Scheffler added, judges will be assigned in turn to the court. Judge John Gutknecht has presided in the court several years.

Mass to Be Offered Today for Pvt. Richard W. Graff

A memorial mass for Pvt. Richard W. Graff, the first Tribune employé to be killed in action during the present war, will be celebrated at 7:15 a. m. today in St. Cecilia's church, 45th and Wells street. Pvt. Graff, a radio operator and tank driver, was killed Feb. 3, 1942, during the Japanese invasion of the Philippines. Until he enlisted in 1941, Pvt. Graff was an advertising order clerk in the public service department of the Tribune.

FAMOUS NO-SUGAR ALL-BRAN MUFFINS EASY! DELICIOUS!

They really are the most delicious muffins that ever melted a pat of butter! Made with crisp, toasted shreds of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, they have a texture and flavor that have made them famous all over America.

Kellogg's All-Bran Muffins

2 tablespoons shortening	½ cup milk
¼ cup corn syrup	1 cup flour
1 egg	½ teaspoon salt
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and corn syrup thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk, let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 8 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2¼ inches in diameter.

JURY TO STUDY NEW CHARGES AGAINST TOUHY

The Will county grand jury will begin consideration today of charges against Roger Touhy and his convict pals who escaped from Stateville penitentiary Oct. 9. State's Attorney James E. Burke is seeking indictments against them for aiding in each other's escape under a statute which might add an additional 199 year term to the 99 years Touhy is serving for the kidnaping of John [Jake the Barber] Factor. The gang was rounded up here Dec. 28 by federal bureau of investigation agents. Two of the seven convicts were killed.

Casimer Darlak, who was lodged in the Will county jail yesterday, charged with smuggling guns to the Touhy gang in the penitentiary, will come up for grand jury consideration next week, after the Touhy case is finished, Burke said. The jury will not call witnesses in the Touhy case, but will consider written statements of the convicts.

Burke said an indictment also will be sought against Percy Campbell, Negro convict accused of accepting the guns from Darlak. Campbell escaped last summer and is still a fugitive.

S. G. M'CAUSLAND KILLED IN STEEL PLANT ACCIDENT

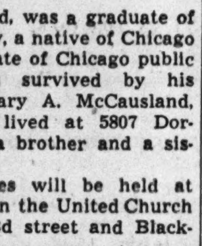

Samuel G. McCausland, 42 years old, a construction engineer for the Inland Steel company, was killed yesterday while working inside a new blast furnace at a defense plant corporation project at the company's Indiana Harbor works. He was taking measurements on the floor of the blast furnace when a wooden platform workmen were moving at the top of the furnace fell 200 feet and struck him.

Mr. McCausland, was a graduate of Cornell university, a native of Chicago and was a graduate of Chicago public schools. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary A. McCausland, with whom he lived at 5807 Dorchester avenue, a brother and a sister.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in the United Church of Hyde Park, 53d street and Blackstone avenue.

SEA HERO TELLS MAYOR OF 16 DAY ORDEAL ON RAFT

Ensign Donald E. Kralovec, 23 years old, of La Grange, visited Mayor Kelly yesterday and told how he had drifted for 16 days on a raft after the ship on which he was gun captain had been torpedoed in the South Atlantic. But his biggest thrill, he said, came after his return to Chicago when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kralovec of 210 South La Grange road, took him to a restaurant and ordered "the biggest meal on the menu" for him.

TRIAL ORDERED FOR CAB DRIVERS REFUSING FARES

Two taxicab chauffeurs, Leonard Present, 30 years old, 4423 Sheridan road, and Walter Langer, 38, of 3906 Altgeld street, charged with refusing to pick up passengers, were ordered yesterday by Judge Cecil Smith to appear for trial tomorrow in South State street court.

They were arrested by Sergt. Rocco R. Filetti of the department of vehicles, who said he would produce witnesses to support his evidence that he saw the drivers refuse passengers in the loop.

Present said he was driving to his garage and Langer asserted that his mileage quota had been exceeded. The taxicab companies Monday directed their chauffeurs to carry passengers to their destinations in Chicago regardless of the length of the trip.

CALL SHOWDOWN OVER DEFICIENCY BILLS FOR TODAY

G. O. P. Decides to Force Vote in Senate.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—Senate Republicans tomorrow will call for passage of all deficiency bills now on third reading in that house of the legislature in the face of stubborn Democratic resistance which caused sudden adjournment this afternoon.

Sen. Richard J. Daley [Chicago], minority floor leader, announced after a Democratic caucus that members of his party would lend no votes for the two-thirds majority required for emergency approval of the appropriations.

Arnold P. Benson [R., Batavia], president pro tem of the senate, countered with a surprise adjournment move, and immediately called a Republican caucus. Emerging from the caucus he said bills would be called tomorrow morning to be voted "up or down."

Challenge to Democrats.

"We are going ahead with the business of the senate tomorrow," Benson said, "and the order of business calls for senate bills on third reading. Five of those bills are emergency appropriations, and if the Democrats want to go on record and vote them down, they will be voted down."

His statement bore out predictions that administration forces would attempt to move the bills this week and break the legislative stalemate which stems from Democratic interest in election contests filed with the senate.

Daley in announcing the results of the Democratic caucus said the party seeks two things: First, "More time to study the deficiency appropriations," and second, "expeditious disposal of the election contests now on file in the senate."

Calls Election Committee.

T. Mac Downing [R., Macomb], chairman of the senate election committee, has called an organization meeting of the committee tomorrow morning.

Downing's committee will study contests filed by Hobart E. Neff against Lawrence E. Dowd in the 1st district; by William C. Boyden against William J. Connors in the 29th district; by Emerson C. Whitney against Milton D. Smith in the 31st district, and by John T. Thomas against Louis J. Menges in the 49th district. All members whose seats are challenged are Democrats.

Connors said today that the contest against him is being withdrawn by Boyden.

Tied up by the Democrats' attempt to bargain have been appropriations of $1,059,502 for operation of state prisons; $5,650,041 for operation of welfare institutions; $45,058 for the operation of the state treasurer's office, and $24,000 for the office of public instruction.

DEATH RULED ACCIDENT.

A coroner's jury yesterday held accidental the death of Frieda Michaels, 55 years old, 403 West 118th street, who was fatally burned when a hot water boiler in her home set fire to her clothing.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

A. P. writes: "My brother was captured at Wake Island, and he has been a prisoner of the Japs ever since. Will his pay go on while he is prisoner and will he receive all pay increases payable to men in the marines? He has been in service for over four years."

ANSWER: the pay and allowances of a Yank who is reported missing in action or in the hands of the enemy will accumulate to his credit and his allowances to dependents, if any, will continue to be paid for 12 months. He also would be eligible for any pay increases occurring during his period of service.

A. B. P. writes: "I can't seem to find any branch of service where my training and experience as a draftsman is wanted. I have a high school education and two years' experience as a machine draftsman."

ANSWER: Drafting experience is one of the skills that has seemed rather difficult to place in the services but we have received word from the headquarters of the engineering section of the army air forces that they can use draftsmen of any type and there is a definite shortage. In addition, they can currently use surveyors and instrument men, and practically any skill utilized in reproduction work, such as lithographers, laboratory technicians, rotary pressmen, etc. They suggest that when men report to the induction station they will be told the exact date they are to report to the reception center and also to what reception center. They will be given their army serial number. If the men will request their induction furlough and send their name, serial number, date of reporting to the reception center [and what reception center] in a letter to Engineer, Army Air Forces, Directorate of Base Services, Engineer Section, Washington, D. C., the inductees will be assigned directly to the air corps unit.

F. O. A. writes: "Some time ago you said in your column the navy and marines would waive nonorganic physical defects in officer candidates. I made several trips and have not gotten any information. What about it? Will the army be doing the same thing?"

ANSWER: Identical bills, H. R. 1363 and H. R. 1355, were introduced into the house of representatives the week of Jan. 15 to provide that persons with other than organic physical defects which will not interfere with the performance of general or special duties, and if the candidate is qualified to perform those duties, he may be appointed in the army reserve corps and ordered to active duty. The same will apply to reserve army officers who may be ordered to active duty upon waiver of physical disability. The navy office of officer procurement has received their directives covering the acceptability of officer candidates under this new revision. Unless the candidate has some specific skill they are in need of, the navy will not waiver defects. The army probably will not receive instructions for at least a month after the bill passes.

HEROISM PLEA FAILS, ROBBER GOES TO PRISON

Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court sentenced Robert C. Mangan, 19 years old, to 1 to 10 years imprisonment for three robberies yesterday after overruling a plea for probation based on Mangan's service in the merchant marine and the scars he carries as a result of the torpedoing of his vessel at sea. The judge was inclined to be lenient until Mangan's record disclosed he had been placed on probation several years ago for tampering with an automobile. Frank Belcher, 19, who participated in all three robberies, also was sentenced to 1 to 10 years.

PLAN EMERGENCY BILL TO SPEED UP AURORA AIRPORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—Possibility that proposed aviation legislation may be introduced in the legislature as an emergency measure in order to help the city of Aurora immediately was broached at a meeting today of the Illinois aviation conference. The conference is comprised of mayors and other representatives of cities interested in aviation development.

Aurora at the present time has available $1,200,000 in federal funds for airport development, but needs enabling state legislation, such as that proposed before today's conference. Ben Regan, chairman of the Illinois aeronautics commission, termed the Aurora problem one of the most pressing in the state at the present time.

Regan also pointed to a need for an airport at the University of Illinois as another topic for the conference.

The proposed bill sets up a method of creating an authority, provides rules for the governing of the bodies, and lists bonding and taxation powers. It is designed for cities of from 5,000 to 500,000 population.

DRAFT SUSPECTS' CASES POSTPONED.

Charges of failure to carry draft classification cards, entered against Allen Angelo Rovere, 26 years old, 1039 North La Salle street, and Frank Hearns, 20, of 1822 Roosevelt road, were continued yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker until Feb. 8. The men said they registered in Pennsylvania.

SMALL BUSINESS RELIEF SOUGHT IN HOUSE MEASURE

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2 [Special].—A bill to create a commission to study the plight of the small business man was introduced in the Illinois house today by Representatives Frederick A. Virkus [R., La Grange], George S. Brydia [R., Prophetstown], and William Vicars, [D., Pontiac]. Virkus is a leader of the National Association of Small Business Men and Vicars is floor leader of the Democratic minority.

The commission would hold public hearings and report to the general assembly a program to check the reported increase in small business failures.

Other bills introduced today would put state highway police under civil service, and establish a state wage and hour bill with a minimum of 30 cents an hour for 40 hours and time and a half for overtime.

BURGLARS LOOT HOME.

Mrs. Blanche Katz of 4362 Shields avenue reported to police yesterday that burglars had entered her home and had stolen a phonograph, valued at $17, and a watch.

Cadillac

Now it can be told!

After the hard-hitting American forces landed in North Africa, there was a tremendous roar of gunfire from a weapon no army had ever faced before—and a bewildered enemy gave ground hastily.

It was the baptismal day for the Cadillac-built M-5 tank—a brilliant new weapon built in complete secrecy in the Cadillac plants.

Even yet, the entire story cannot be told. But we can tell you that Cadillac engineers and craftsmen have worked heroically for more than a year, behind sealed doors, to create one of the really new and bewildering weapons in the Allied arsenal. The British call it the "Honey". The American boys say it is precisely the sort of tank they would expect from Cadillac.

We are not yet in position to tell you the details, because this new tank has two innovations which are wholly new in tank warfare.

Tank production, of course, is but a part of Cadillac's work in the task of arming America. We also produce a major percentage of the precision parts for a famous airplane engine. And we have done so from the day this engine moved into volume production.

When the time comes for a full revelation of Cadillac's war effort, we are sure the American public will feel that its faith in Cadillac has again been justified.

HEAD OF COLLEGE INDICTED; INTENT TO RAPE CHARGED

Foreign Relief Aid Seized on Complaint of Girl, 7.

Toledo, O., Feb. 2 [Special].—Walter S. Kilpatrick, 29 year old college president and international leader in the field of foreign student relief, was indicted here today on charges of assault with intent to rape and felonious assault.

Kilpatrick took a 7 year old girl to his hotel room here Jan. 11 and disrobed her on a pretense of taking photographs, according to the true bills. The prosecutor's office said his camera contained no film.

The youthful educator last fall started a two year leave of absence from Cedarville college, Cedarville, O., which he has headed since 1940, according to Ira D. Vayhinger, acting president during his absence.

Does Relief Work.

Kilpatrick was given the leave to devote all his time to work for the World Christian Student Relief fund, an organization maintaining offices in New York and having its headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. The organization does educational work in European refugee and war prisoner camps.

Vayhinger said he had no idea what Kilpatrick was doing in Toledo.

"He enjoyed the confidence of religious leaders here and abroad," Vayhinger said, adding that his brilliance had won wide respect.

Denies Molesting Girl.

The prosecutor's office said Kilpatrick admitted taking the girl to his hotel room after encountering her playing in the snow in the courthouse park, but denied molesting her. Confronted with the girl's story that he photographed her in the nude getting into and out of bed, he said, "If she says so, it must be so," altho he admitted he had no film.

Officials said Kilpatrick gave an assumed name when taken into custody on the girl's complaint. His real name was found on papers in his room, but police at first doubted he was the person named in these papers. Vayhinger was summoned here and identified him.

Released on $2,500 Bond.

Kilpatrick has been released on $2,500 bond and placed in a private sanitarium.

He is an ordained Presbyterian minister and a contributor to religious journals. He is a graduate of Cedarville college and took his theological studies at Western Theological seminary.

He received a master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1938 and studied for two years at Westminster college, Cambridge, England.

NEIGHBORS TELL OF REVOLVER IN PUCKETT HOME

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 2 [Special].—Chicago neighbors of Mrs. Eva May Puckett, 67 years old, whose husband, Will R. Puckett, 64, is on trial on Circuit court here on a charge of first degree murder in her death, were called by the state to testify this afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Claus, 7839 Kimbark avenue, Chicago, close friend of Mrs. Puckett, said she knew there was a .38 caliber revolver in the Puckett home less than three years ago. It was a revolver of this caliber which killed Mrs. Puckett.

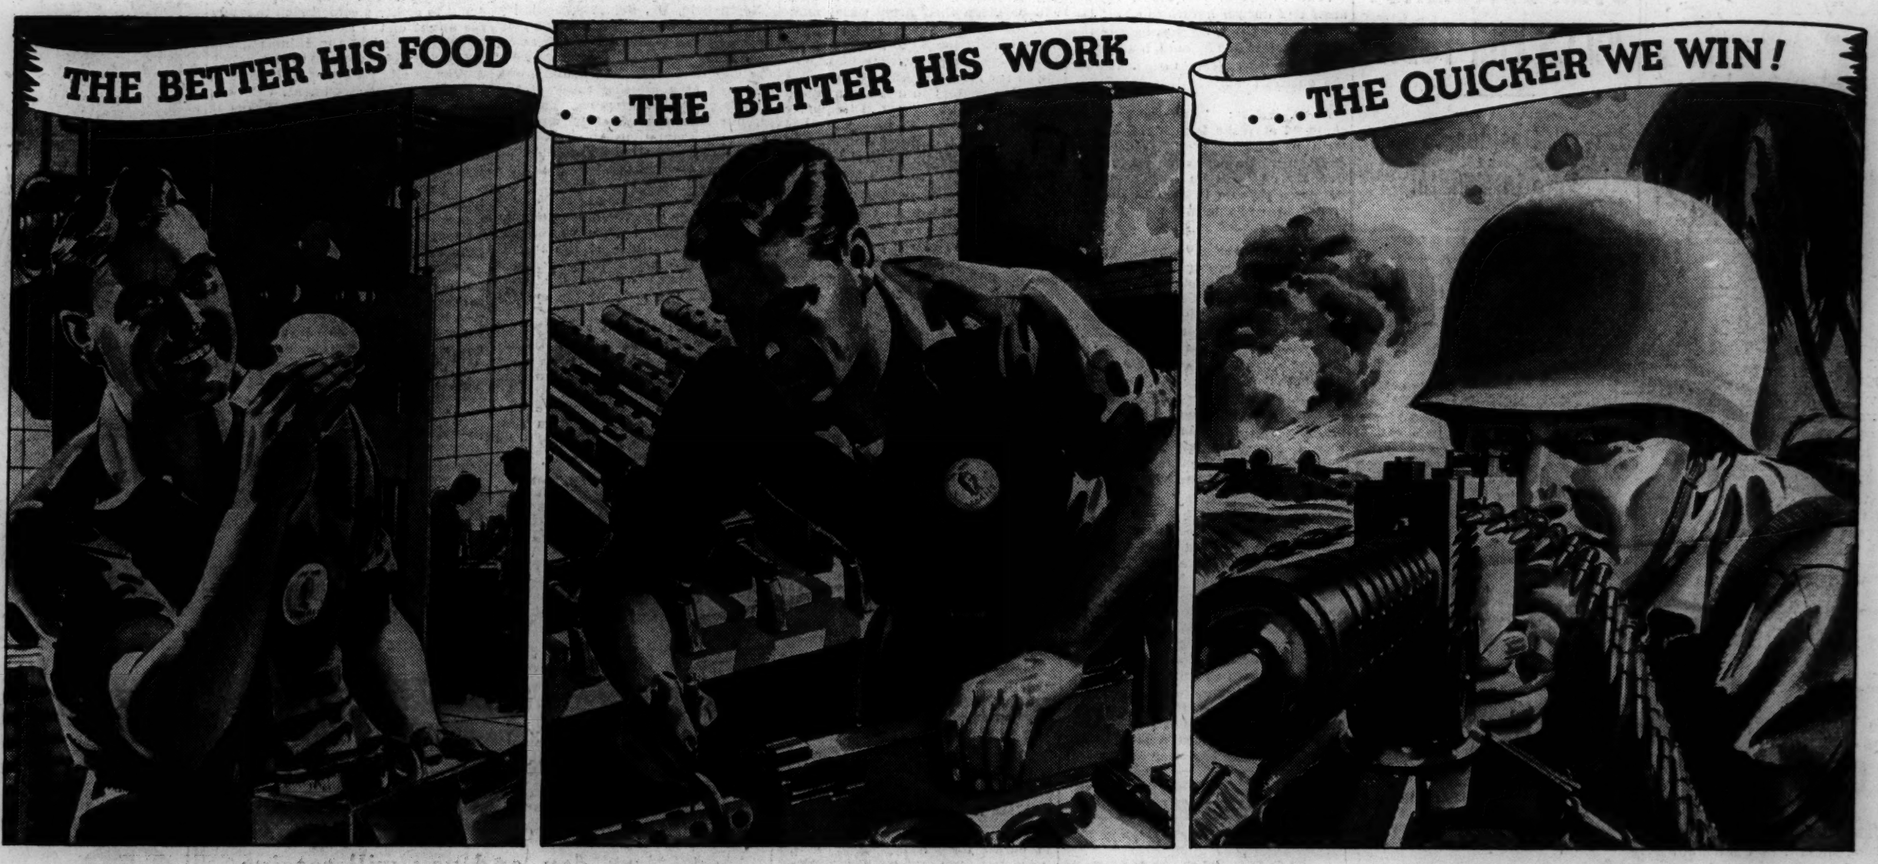

Joseph P. Renaud, 3708 South Wells street, Chicago, told of purchasing a .38 caliber revolver for Mrs. Puckett's first husband some 35 years ago. The two families lived on Wells street near 31st street at that time. A revolver state police found near the slaying scene was the make and caliber Renaud mentioned.

Damages Awarded to Girl Band Leader Cut to $1,750

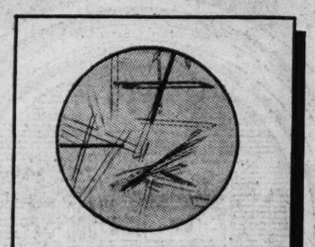

A judgment of $2,500 for personal injury was reduced to $1,750 yesterday by Judge John F. Haas of the Superior court, in the damage suit of Miss Mary Marshall, 26 years old, an orchestra leader, against Leo Solomon, a theater owner. She had sued for $25,000 for injuries suffered Feb. 4, 1940, when Solomon's car hit a post. She charged he was attempting to embrace her at the time. A jury awarded her $2,500. Miss Marshall's lawyer, Michael Zlatnik, said the reduced award was acceptable.

SCIENCE DISCOVERS VITAMIN B_1 NECESSARY TO HELP TRANSFORM BREAD INTO ENERGY

Photomicrograph of Vitamin B_1 Magnified 1000 Times. In One Year An Adult Needs 121,545 Units Of Vitamin B_1

Yet Of The Millions Who Rely Upon Bread For Up To 35% Of Their Daily Energy—3 Out Of 4 Fail To Get A Good Diet, U.S. Officials Say. Thus, Can Fail To Get Enough Vitamin B_1

New Wonder Bread Thrills Thousands Everywhere Because:
(1) Contains Vitamin B_1 (2) Slo-Baked For Lasting Freshness
(3) Tastes Better (4) Proves Easier-To-Slice

WHAT everybody knows is that millions rely upon bread for up to 35% of their daily energy.

What you may not know is that you must have Vitamin B_1 to help transform the bread you eat into energy you need.

Science proves conclusively that it takes Vitamin B_1 to unlock bread's energy.

Now—according to U. S. Government Health Officials, 3 out of 4 people fail to get a good diet; thus, can fail to get enough Vitamin B_1 naturally.

This does not mean you lack Vitamin B_1 so badly the bread you eat does you no good. It does mean your body cannot properly transform bread into energy unless you get sufficient Vitamin B_1.

A New Kind Of Bread

Wise Mother Nature put Vitamin B_1 into wheat. But—in making bread whiter—man took it out. Then Theodore Earle patented a way to retain more natural vitamins and minerals in flour. And mass production by American industry made possible further additions of the Vitamin B_1 needed in the bread.

A bread now better for flavor and better for health than before.

It's Doubly Fresh

Then, too, this new Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it; fresh when you eat it.

Because it is slo-baked for lasting freshness—baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds.

See how much longer it stays fresh on the table and in your family's lunch box.

In addition, Wonder's slo-baking method gives you bread with a richer flavor now.

And—a firmer, tenderer texture. You'll find it easy to slice—and it leaves no crumbs.

Get new Wonder Bread at your grocer's today. You'll be glad you did!

Only Wonder Bread is made this way from Earle Patented Process Flour—U. S. Pat. Nos. 2143306, 2232697, 2155219, 2232696.

3 out of every 4 people fail to get a good diet, say United States Government Health Officials! Thus, can fail to get enough Vitamin B_1 naturally.

Doubly Fresh Wonder Bread provides energy to tide children and workers over. Be sure the bread your family eats contains Vitamin B_1, and stays fresh so they'll eat more of it—you'll find it an adventure in deliciousness.

John B. Davis Brings Bride Home Today

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVANSTON friends of the Carl B. Davis family are planning a hearty welcome today to the bride of Dr. Davis' younger son, Ensign John B. Davis, who was married in Texas on Monday. She is the former Aline Craig of Kingsville, Tex.

Dr. Carl B. Davis Jr. accompanied his brother to Corpus Christi last Sunday and acted as best man at the ceremony, which was performed in the Episcopal church there by the bishop of San Antonio, who is a friend of the bride's family. Ensign Davis and his bride met in Texas when he was a naval air cadet. Before going south he leased an apartment in Evanston where they will be at home while he serves as an instructor at the Glenview air base.

Ensign Davis was graduated from Williams college in 1937 and from the Harvard business school two years later. He enlisted in the naval air corps in 1941. Dr. Davis Jr., a resident at the Presbyterian hospital, and his brother have one sister, Mrs. Roderick W. McKinnon Jr., who accompanied her husband to Washington, D. C., when he went east on government business.

Guy Murchie and Bride to Live on Nearby Farm.

Within a few months Guy Murchie hopes to bring his bride of Dec. 23 to a little farm west of Chicago to start housekeeping. Mr. Murchie and the former Barbara Cooney, daughter of the Russell S. Cooneys of Plandome, N. Y., were married in Des Moines, Ia., where she is stationed in the public relations office of the WAACs.

The new Mrs. Murchie is well known as the author and illustrator of children's books, among them "The King of Wreck Island," "The Kellyhorns," and "Narrow Gauge," which will be published this spring. She is a graduate of Smith college. Mr. Murchie, who shares his wife's enthusiasm for writing and illustrating, is serving with the army air transport command as a navigator and teaches navigation while in Chicago between trips to South America, Africa, Mexico, and other parts of the world. He is a Harvard graduate and was wounded at Dover, England, in September, 1940, while covering the battle of Britain as a correspondent for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. He is the author of "Men on the Horizon" and "Soldiers of Darkness," the latter with Col. Thomas B. Gowenlock, and of "Hell Came to London," which was illustrated with photographs.

Russian Trio's Musical Draws Large Audience.

Every last little gilt chair in the Arts club was pressed into service yesterday to accommodate the large audience that gathered to hear one of the Russian Trio's popular morning musicals. On duty in the lobby selling recordings by the trio was Miss Carol Fox, and busy welcoming members of the Russian Trio association and their guests was the president, Mrs. John R. Nicholson, who later took a seat in the back of the club's big living room and worked busily at her Red Cross knitting during the program.

One of the most stunning women present was Mrs. Eugene Raymondeaud, tall and slender, dressed in a mink coat and tiny navy hat trimmed with mink. Her long, copper colored hair, graying at the temples, is worn in a smooth, heavy coil at the nape of her neck. Others in the audience, many of whom remained for luncheon, were Mrs. Moise Dreyfus, Mrs. Rudloph Ganz, Mrs. James H. Winston, Mrs. Merrill Meigs, Mrs. Welch Dickinson, and Mrs. Louis K. Boysen.

Eighty pictures that have won prizes in American exhibitions last year will go on view at the Arts club today. Mrs. Arthur Cable and Mrs. Chauncey McCormick will be hostesses at the tea from 4 to 6 o'clock that will open the exhibit. As the exhibit is expected to draw a large crowd only one guest will be permitted to accompany each member.

Cordon Galleries Opens Exhibit with Tea Today.

The Cordon galleries is giving a tea from 3 to 6 o'clock today to open an exhibition of paintings by May Hardman Gilruth. Francis Chapin, Chicago artist, will be the special guest. Pouring tea will be Jean Crawford Adams, Mrs. Frances Farrand Jones, and Mrs. Phyllis Fergus Hoyt.

Dr. Esson M. Gale's talk on "Innermost China and the Airway to It" will draw members of the American Friends of China and their guests to the Tavern at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The talk will be illustrated by colored slides. Tea will be served.

The Friends of Drama will entertain members of the casts of "Lady in the Dark" and "The Eve of St. Mark" at a matinée breakfast today at the Chicago Athletic club. Gertrude Lawrence, star of the former play, has been made an honorary member of the organization, for which Mrs. Frederick Minkler will serve as hostess.

The Cercle Français program this afternoon will be given by Mrs. Winfield Scott Brainerd, Mrs. Edgar J. Cook, Mrs. M. I. Meyer, Mrs. Lee Simon, and Mrs. Joseph Allworthy. The guest speaker will be Henri David. Tea will be served.

Mrs. William J. Hoppe will be hostess at the weekly causerie of the Alliance Française at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Menorah Society to Hear Official of Belgium Sunday

Dr. Frans Van Cauwelaert, Belgian minister of state and chairman of the commons, will be in Chicago Sunday to address the Menorah society of Northwestern university on "Belgium's Action and Resistance in the Present Conflict." He will speak at 3 o'clock in the Midland hotel, and the society is opening the meeting to the public.

How to Prepare, Serve, and Eat Artichokes Is Set Forth in This Series of Pictures

1. When the leaves of an artichoke fit closely together and squeak at the touch, you can be sure it is fresh. Cut off the stems so the vegetables will sit attractively on the plates. Save the stems for soup. Pull off any dry or discolored leaves.

2. A steamer is convenient for cooking. Steam until the heart is tender when pierced with a fork. Have a sauce ready—lemon flavored mayonnaise is good. Also tasty is plain melted butter or Hollandaise.

[TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]

3. Artichokes usually are served as a separate course, on a plate large enough to accommodate the leaves after removal. One leaf is pulled off at a time and dipped into sauce. There's just one succulent bite at the base.

4. When you've eaten the outer leaves the thistly "choke" is exposed. It is removed with knife or spoon and set aside. There remains the choice part of the vegetables, the heart, which should be eaten with a fork. (Prepared by Mary Meade.)

That Man Again.

If there is any question in any one's mind about whether spring will come this year, it was settled Sunday when the man on Lake Park avenue made his annual appearance in white shoes, a straw hat, and an overcoat. He was shoveling snow.

Impervious to Weather.

At least one postoffice. in the United States has postmen who make their weary rounds year in, year out, storm, rain, or snow, without rubbers. This is the postoffice in the Merchandise Mart here, whose postmen never venture out of the building.

Brothers, Skin and All.

Jack Finlay, Chicago advertising man, met him for the first time in the Adventurers' club. A tall, distinguished man with a high bridged nose, jutting cheek bones, beetling brows, and a skin like stretched leather, the whole a cross between an Egyptian mummy and a Cambridge savant. He was introduced as John Platt of the British foreign office, but somehow his face seemed extremely familiar. Mr. Finlay studied it again and again; finally, hesitantly, he said, "Did anyone ever tell you you look like Boris Karloff?" "I should," came the reply. "He's my younger brother."

This Is America—VI.

On the shores of the Delaware river
Grew the city of brotherly love
Where the founder believed in the precept
That the Father, in ruling above,
Would have all men praise God as their wisdom
Had inclined both their eyes and their ears;
Here the commonwealth named Pennsylvania
Grew in beauty and thrived thru the years.
William Penn saw the growth of our freedom
Thru his church, and our right to command;
Thus the charter of seventeen hundred
Bears the mark of his heart and his hand.

—Martha Wendt.

It Doesn't.

An army nurse stationed in North Africa recently wrote her mother asking for warm pajamas and underwear. The mother sent them on, but was worried for fear she had not sent enough. The nurse reassured her by return mail, saying she was well supplied as an officer had given her "some long handled drawers, and now," she added, "I am cooking with gas." The mother forwarded the letter to another daughter here, Ettamay E. Elliott, with the dismayed query, "She may mean long underwear, but if that's it I can't for the life of me understand what that has to do with cooking with gas."

An Easy Inch.

Letter from an air cadet:

"The little Chinese fellow who came with us sleeps next to me. He was real shy at first, but now has come around O. K. He is real cute, and we have lots of fun with him. His father owns a restaurant, and he has invited our squadron for a steak dinner after the war. When he took his physical, he was ¼ inch too short, but they told him to come back the next day, so that night one of the boys took his arms, and I took his legs, and we pulled and pulled. The next day he passed."

Exacting Genius Marks Playing of Miss Tureck

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

If Rosalyn Tureck were a sculptor instead of a pianist she would scorn to model in clay, preferring the bolder gamble of hewing at granite. The mistakes would show plainer, and people who like pretty things might ignore her efforts, but on the other hand some people might call it magnificent. There were people at Orchestra hall last night tempted to use that sizable word for some of Miss Tureck's playing on the Musical Arts Piano series, and I was one of them.

I should hesitate to use a more niggardly one, for instance, for her performance of Scriabine's Etude in D sharp minor, which had boldness, brilliance, and a kind of insistent splendor. Nor should I want to deny it to the best of her Bach, the adagio and fugue in D, which had power and focus, or to the Chopin Sonata in B flat minor, which for all its minor flaws had the structure, the scope, and most of all the passionate beauty of playing worth waiting a while to hear.

Altho Miss Tureck has been winning prizes since she was a little girl in Chicago she is not one of those prodigious pianists all flair and facility and fluent serenity. Actually much of her playing is blunt and some of her phrasing is awkward. She is reaching for the stars and sometimes she misses and, like all bold people, crashes in the process. Whatever she was born with in the way of pianistic gift, it has not satisfied her. She has worked—in fact it wouldn't surprise me if she has slaved—and she has within her grasp the chance to be a great pianist. Hearing her at her best last night, I think nothing short of that would satisfy her.

Her program got off to a rather mediocre start. She is a small and compact person and her playing was compact, tho small would be an unfair word for it. It was neat, tho sometimes baldly phrased, and it lacked temperament. Not until the Bach did the surge of power begin to demand recognition. Not until the Chopin did her full talent begin to reveal itself. This was exciting Chopin, flung out boldly, so that the bigness of the first movement startled the audience into unusual applause. The funeral march was deeply felt, and the finale opened with immaculate playing of those shadowy scales. When it was over it had been all of a piece, a mature, sustained performance.

Some of her Schubert was insipid, tho two of the moments musical indicated the voluptuousness that later was to give contour to her way with Granados' "The Lady and the Nightingale." But it was the Scriabine, full fledged virtuoso playing, that set the key for her glittering dance of Debussey's Puck, and her brilliance in Liszt's sixth Hungarian rhapsody, which had a pattern so clean it glistened.

Infant Aid Group Attains New Low in Mortality Rate

A new low infant mortality rate among children cared for by the Infant Welfare society of Chicago was set last year, according to a report to be made at noon today in the Hotel Sherman at the society's annual meeting. The report, to be presented by Dr. Heyworth N. Sanford, medical director of the society, places the rate at 2.2 deaths per 1,000 babies among the 6,743 babies cared for by the society in 1942.

For the second year there were no deaths from gastro-intestinal disturbances in the infant group, the report states, whereas in 1917, during the first World war, there were 114 deaths from such causes. The death rate at that time was 31 per 1,000 babies cared for. Respiratory disturbances, the present greatest cause of infant deaths, are declining, Dr. Sanford says.

Last year 6,743 infants, 7,786 preschool children, and 1,167 expectant mothers were cared for by the society's doctors, nurses, nutritionists, and mental hygiene supervisor. Doctors and nurses held 67,895 conferences with parents in the society's 20 stations, and the nurses and nutritionists made 98,394 home visits.

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Applesauce Cookies.
[Four to five dozen.]
[A good, moist cookie for lunchboxes.]

½ cup shortening
1 cup granulated suger
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup thick applesauce
2 to 2½ cups all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ *teaspoon cinnamon
½ *teaspoon cloves
½ *teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup chopped raisins
1 cup chopped nutmeats

*If desired the spices may be omitted and grated orange rind or lemon extract added for flavoring.

Cream shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add egg and blend well. Add applesauce. Sift 2 cups of flour with remaining dry ingredients and add. The dough should be soft enough to drop from a spoon but firm enough to hold up well. More flour may be necessary if applesauce is not sufficiently thick. Add raisins and nutmeats. Drop by spoonfuls on greased cooky sheet, allowing 2 inches between cookies. Bake in moderate [350 degrees] oven until browned, about 15 to 20 minutes.

Skirt-Blouse Effects Reach Fashion Peak

BY REA SEEGER.

Skirts and blouses are a new fashion theme played with plenty of variations! The skirts are short and pressed to simulate the creases in masculine trousers, and color contrasts are limitless.

There are skirts of heather tweed mixtures, skirts of chalk stripes, skirts of grass green, dark beige, light blue, and red. The contrast is achieved with blouses. Brand new shirtwaist blouses come in two models, with the long gathered sleeves anchored at the wrists with narrow band cuffs, and the very brief sleeves that end above the elbow, minus cuffs. Some have back yokes, with the remaining half of the back gathered full below the yoke. Others have the regulation shirt model style, simply tailored and fitted with a convertible turnover collar. Rows of stitching provide the only trim.

Green skirts are worn with red blouses, dark beige skirts with green or flesh colored blouses, blue skirts with pink blouses, and so on. . . . Try out all your pet color combinations.

These are the duets you wear now instead of the usual one piece day time dress, and later on in the year as a street costume with or without a box type short coat, or the long box coats that reach the hem of the skirt.

Soft flannels, gabardines, war time materials of 60-20-20 mixtures of wool, rayon, and cotton; men's wear flannels, and covert cloth are the most popular fabrics. The shirtwaist blouses are usually of rayon. Monotone colors are the smartest and newest. Huge floral designs are temporarily out of print. These new fashions, the duets of skirt and shirtwaist, are ideal outfits for the career girls and the busy war time workers, not only because of smart simplicity but the budget prices.

The baking powder ingredient in yesterday's muffin recipe was incorrectly given. The corrected recipe follows:

Plain Muffins.
[One dozen medium.]

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter or other fat

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt together several times. Beat egg until light and blend it with the milk. Make a well in center of dry ingredients and pour in liquids all at once. Stir about 10 strokes, then add melted fat. Stir 25 strokes altogether, or just enough to dampen dry ingredients. The batter should look lumpy, not smooth. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake at 400 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes.

Florenz Ames Is Bright Light of Comic Opera

"THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE." Comic opera in two acts. Book by W. S. Gilbert. Music by Sir Arthur Sullivan. Presented by the Boston Comic Opera company, R. H. Burnside, director, in the Studebaker theater, Tuesday evening, Feb. 2, 1943.

BY CECIL SMITH.

With all our faults, say the pirates, we love our queen. And with all its faults, I say with similar mellowness of spirit, I loved "The Pirates of Penzance" at the Studebaker last night. In fact I guess nothing will cause me to make any really damning utterances about the Boston Comic Opera company, because even their bargain counter Gilbert and Sullivan is so much better than none.

It was a pretty soggy first act last night until Florenz Ames arrived, as the major general, to pick things up with his introductory catalog song. Little Mr. Ames has a way about him. He is alive, and brightly fatuous; he wastes no effort trying to be funny, yet he is an adept at getting to the heart of a line or a rhyming couplet. The blitheness and neatness of his personality stand in happy contrast to the heavy witlessness of most of his companions in the company, and it takes his appearance on the stage, apparently, to bring each performance into some sort of stride.

Robert Pitkin is the only other member of the repertory group who seems able to bring any sort of a lilt to the goings-on. Last night he was the sergeant of police, leading his men in their "Tarantara" chorus with a Cockney twang, and generally escaping the atmosphere of middle class operetta routine that suffuses many of the other rôles with lethargy.

It would be idle to deny that "The Pirates of Penzance" provided a great deal of fun last night. It could not fail to, with a Gilbertian libretto that is workmanlike, if not inspired, and a Sullivan score bursting with amiable parodies of Donizetti and the Verdi of the "Traviata" and "Rigoletto" period. The choruses had energy and a good tonal ensemble, and that incredible passage in which the pirates kneel to sing an apostrophe to poetry was hurled forth in rafter rousing fashion.

Morton Bowe was still indisposed, and Phillip Tully again took over the tenor part, singing with an easy lyricism; but he certainly should take a few coaching lessons to learn the rudiments of delivering spoken dialog. June Winters had nice musical ideas about the soprano part, but what a biting edge that girl's voice has! Catherine Judah again was conscientious rather than forceful as Ruth, the contralto.

When I started this review I thought I could do a little pretending, but I see I haven't been able to. It is impossible not to wish this company had more abandon and life, and a higher percentage of interesting stage talents among its personnel. But I am willing to stand by my original observation, that in spite of its second rateness the company is pleasant to have in town, for these operas have remained unheard too long.

CHAPTER 13.
EAVESDROPPER.

Miss Silver contemplated Miss Fane with calm.

"The police——" she began, and heard an angry echo of the words.

"The police! Grinding their own axe and keeping their mouths shut! Keeping me in the dark—me! Have you seen the superintendent? Do you know what he came up here to tell me not half an hour ago? He came up to tell me that Jeffrey Hazelton is out of it. He was fool enough to suppose that it would be a relief to my mind."

Miss Silver said quietly, "If you think of the child, Agnes, it should be a relief."

The white face went rigid for a moment. There was some strong control. She said more quietly, "It leaves us in a terrible uncertainty. I wish you to work upon the case as my representative."

Miss Silver said very seriously indeed. "Agnes, this is a murder case. I cannot be any one's representative. I can only work to discover the truth."

"That is all I am asking you to do. I am asking you to find out who shot Tanis. And why. You may work with the police, or you may work separately. I lay no obligations on you. I ask neither fear nor favor. I ask that the murderer should be discovered — and punished."

Miss Silver looked at her.

"Have you considered that the murderer may be some one whom you know, with whom you are on terms of friendship, relationship even—a family connection, a member of your household?"

"I am not a fool. I make no reservations. The murderer is to be discovered. Do you accept?"

Miss Silver inclined her head.

"On those terms—yes."

Agnes Fane relaxed slightly. That same ironic smile just touched her lips.

"If it is Perry, I shall have to find a new maid. It would be incredibly tiresome."

"Agnes!" Miss Silver permitted herself a shade of reproof.

"And if it is I," said Agnes Fane, still smiling, "then Perry will have to find herself a new mistress, which will be almost equally tiresome for her."

The curtains were drawn in Miss Fane's study. They were of a handsome golden brown damask, a shade lighter than the woodwork. In combination with the glowing fire—the police are always handy with a fire—they made the room a good many degrees less bleak. Light came from a bowl in the ceiling. It showed Supt. March, pleasant but official, at the writing table, and Carey Desborough facing him across it in as easy an attitude as a hard and upright chair allowed. March had just said,

"I believe you and Miss Lyle were engaged."

The statement was a little disingenuous. Or perhaps that is putting it too politely, since he believed no such thing. He merely wished to observe Mr. Desborough's reactions. They were displayed in a lifted eyebrow and a faint stiffening of manner as he replied to what he chose to regard as a question.

"O, no — that's a mistake. There was no engagement."

"You would prefer to call it an understanding?"

This time Mr. Desborough frowned. He said, "I don't know where you got your information. We were not engaged, and we had no understanding. We were merely friends."

March moved some papers which lay at his right hand, bringing one of them to the top and leaving it there.

"My information comes from Miss Fane. She tells me that there was an understanding, and that the engagement would have been announced very shortly."

Carey frowned. He was aware of delicate ground under his feet. He wanted to tell the truth, and he wanted to eliminate Laura.

He did the best he could, saying after no more than a momentary pause, "Miss Fane was very keen on our marrying. She hated the idea of a film career. She wanted her to settle down here and have a family. Tanis was dependent on her. She didn't want to offend her, but she definitely didn't want to marry me or any one else. If she had told Miss Fane it would have upset her very much."

March put out his hand to the paper he had extracted. This time he put it down in front of him on the blotting pad.

He said, "I don't think you are telling me very much. You haven't, for instance, said anything about a quarrel with Miss Lyle on Wednesday evening."

"A quarrel?"

"On Wednesday evening at about a quarter to 6 you left the drawing room together and went to Miss Lyle's sitting room, where, I am informed, you had a violent quarrel."

Under the pressure of a considerable self-restraint Carey's dark skin flushed a little. He said with quite a good effect of nonchalance:

"Violent is a bit strong. I wanted her to tell Miss Fane, and she didn't want to—for reasons I have just given. We both lost our tempers a bit, but I shouldn't have called it a violent quarrel."

"No?" March touched the paper before him. "This statement does."

The flush deepened.

"Some one listening in? Who was it?"

"Miss Fane's maid, Perry. She came down in the lift, meaning to go out thru Miss Lyle's sitting room to the hall on her way to fetch something or other from the kitchen wing. She says the door was ajar, and she doesn't deny that she listened. Would you like to add anything to your account of your relations with Miss Lyle?" The superintendent's tone robbed the words of as much offense as was possible.

Carey pushed back his chair and stood up. There is a time to speak and a time to be silent. The voice of common sense became insistent that this was a time to speak.

He said, "All right, I'll tell you the whole thing. There's nothing in it, but when it comes to eavesdroppers you never know how things are going to be twisted. You can have the facts. My people and the Fanes were old friends. My mother used to bring me here when I was 8 or 9. Tanis and I were about the same age. My mother died, and I didn't come here any more. I didn't see Tanis again till last summer; then I saw a lot of her. I came down here once or twice when I had leave. Miss Fane was very kind to me. It ended in my asking Tanis to marry me."

"And she accepted you?"

This was the difficult bit, because he had believed himself to be accepted. It was Tanis who had, a good deal later on, dealt summarily with that belief.

He said, "I thought we were engaged. Afterward she told me I had been mistaken—she only wanted to be friends with me."

"How long afterward?"

"I crashed in October—I was in the hospital for a couple of months. It was after I came out."

"And while you were in the hospital did she come to see you?"

"No."

"Write?"

"No."

"I see . . . And after you came out of the hospital was there any quarrel?"

"No. We went on seeing each other."

Weddings Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Richardson of Oak Park have returned from Albany, N. Y., where they attended the marriage on Jan. 8 of their daughter, Alice Josephine, to Dr. Theodore R. Dakin, son of Mrs. Marion Dakin of Storrs, Conn. Both Dr. Dakin and his bride were graduated in 1942 from the Northwestern university medical school and are interning at the Albany hospital, where he is assistant resident physician. The bride attended Knox college, and Dr. Dakin is a graduate of Dartmouth.

Following their marriage on Dec. 28 in the Fourth Presbyterian church, Miss Claire Frances Bransky, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Bransky of East End avenue, and Army Air Corps Cadet Richard Harlow Spencer left on a wedding trip to Arizona. The bride attended Miss Porter's school at Farmington, Conn.; Dana Hall, and Northwestern university. Mr. Spencer, a nephew of Miss Ethel Harlow of Cleveland, O., attended Culver Military academy and Yale university.

The marriage on Jan. 3 of Miss Marjorie Brooks to Lt. Donald E. Shrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shrader of Quincy, Mass., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Norris Brooks of Hyde Park boulevard. The bride is a graduate of the Faulkner School for Girls and of Oberlin college. Lt. Shrader was graduated from Ohio State university. He is stationed at Patterson field in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. O'Brien of San Jose, Cal., announce the marriage on Jan. 22 of their daughter, Betty, to Capt. John Walsh, son of Mrs. Lambert K. Hayes of Chicago and of the late J. J. Walsh. The bride attended Leland Stanford university. Capt. Walsh attended Northwestern university and was graduated from Santa Clara university before entering the army. He is stationed in Jacksonville, Fla.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

Saves Big Dollars. No Cooking.

This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective medicine for coughs due to colds. It is so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of cough medicine, very effective and quick-acting, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be amazed by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving quick relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Loop's Screens Present Variety of Movie Fare

"LONDON BLACK-OUT MURDERS."

Directed by George Sherman.
Presented at the Oriental.
Featuring John Abbott and Mary McLeod.

Good Morning!

The loop has plenty to offer this week in the war of variety.

"London Black-out Murders" is a good counter-espionage mystery stressing the nice point made by the law between mass killing [as on the battlefield] and the doing away with individuals by an individual—even tho patriotism is the common cause. . . . The piece is aptly staged, photographed, and directed. The main character is subtly and memorably portrayed by John Abbott. He and most of the supporting cast are unknowns with whom I, for one, hope to become better acquainted.

Then there is "JACARE." This is the story of a "Bring 'Em Back Alive" expedition in which Frank Buck only narrates the adventures of North American James M. Dannaldson and South American Miguel Rojinsky in the Brazilian wilds. . . . Their object is to capture something horrible in the way of a murdering alligator, called by the natives—"Jacare." . . . Before the fearsome killer is hog-tied, the two have many experiences, both thrilling and amusing. . . . You'll enjoy them and also Mr. Buck's easy, entertaining commentary. . . . Hal Roach's comedy, "The Devil with Hitler," which features that smooth Alan Mowbray, also is pleasing to the customers at the Grand.

"NATIVE LAND," at the World Playhouse, is rather more than faintly "pink," I thought. . . . It has narration and some singing by Paul Robeson, whose speaking voice has all the rich, buttery charm of his singing one.

See you soon.

Pass	Pass

"West opened the jack of hearts, East signaled with the eight, and declarer won. After studying the situation for a few moments, he laid down the club king, then led the club deuce and, when West played low, put in dummy's nine-spot! Now the diamond jack was led thru and passed by East and South. West won and played another heart. Declarer won, led a club to the ace, and took another diamond finesse. This time the ten-spot held, and declarer was 'home,' with one spade trick, two hearts, two diamonds, and four clubs 'in the bag.'

"As we subsequently analyzed the deal, the contract would certainly have been lost if declarer had played any way but the way he did. If, after taking the first trick, declarer leads a low diamond, West can duck. East wins and returns a heart, and declarer's goose is cooked.

"I thought that the finesse of the club nine to secure two entries to dummy for diamond finesses was pretty cute."

There is no denying that declarer's play of the hand was indeed "cute" and that he fully deserved his success. There is just one point, however, that was probably overlooked: If West had put in the club ten on declarer's lead of the deuce toward dummy, the second entry would have faded into the night. Admittedly, this play required unusual alertness and imagination on West's part, but in any case, it is worth mentioning as evidence of the potentialities of defense.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 2.—"Hitler's Children" deserves the success it's getting everywhere. It's done simply, but beautifully. Its director didn't hesitate to use some of the ideas Orson Welles started in "Magnificent Ambersons" by letting the action run without words, and a narrator's voice telling the story. I was delighted with Bonita Granville's performance. Bonita, as you remember, was the brat who got slapped in "These Three." She's grown into a lovely young lady. Both she and Tim Holt are shot in this, which was the logical ending for the story which ran as "Education for Death." It's brutal, gripping, and what's even more horrible, true.

That Pidgeon's Here Again.

Hugh Walpole's story, "Blind Man's House," will be done by Twentieth with, they hope, Walter Pidgeon, when he's allowed to shave off that beard after playing Mme. Curie's husband. If Walter does it, he'll again have Maureen O'Hara for his leading lady. . . . After being at Universal 17 long years, Andy Devine finally got a good part, but it took Visiting Producer Howard Hawks to give it to him. Andy, who has no family, hires a newsboy to wave good-by to him as he goes off into the North Atlantic in "Corvettes in Action," where he goes down with his ship. Randy Scott's also in it. . . . Soon as Erskine Caldwell finishes "Grand Street Boys," he's off again to parts unknown as a foreign correspondent.

Never Lets Up.

After Bing Crosby won the championship for the third time at the Lakeside Golf club, his pal Hope took care of him by giving his private telephone number to 200 people, asking them to phone Crosby and offer their services as instructor. . . . Charles Laughton wasn't acting, as he stood on what was left of his lawn after the rest of it did a landslide down to the edge of the Pacific. . . . Wonder if you've noticed how much Lionel Barrymore looks like President Roosevelt in certain poses. . . . Wait till the Hays office gets a load of Betty Hutton's song "Fuddy-Duddy Watchmaker" in "Happy Go Lucky." . . . I hear reason army was so anxious to get Alan Ladd after reclassifying him 4-F to 1-A was he's needed badly for propaganda pictures.

Busy as Bees.

Pine and Thomas off for Washington to get an O. K. on "Aerial Gunner" and "Alaska Highway." On the way back, they'll pick up Thomas Pearson from Topeka, Kas., to act as technical adviser on their next, "Black Tornado." . . . Al Busel gave a nice welcome home party at Mocambo for Gayle Mellott, which included Adm. and Mrs. Ike Johnson, Kay Kyser, Georgia Carroll, Verbena Hebbard, Mrs. Jules Stein, and many others. . . . Peggy Ryan sent out invitations for a sweetheart party this coming Saturday in honor of her fiancé, Marine Sergt. Ray Hirsch. That could be an invitation to disaster. . . . Ben Blue, hearing Maxie Rosenbloom's car had been stolen, flipped, "Too bad the thieves didn't steal your cauliflower ear instead! Now, now, Ben, how would he ever act without that ear? Think of the laughs he gets trying to fit into a telephone receiver.

Our Silly Ways.

"Heaven Couldn't Wait" for Simone Simon to make up her mind whether part was big enough for her in Lubitch's picture, so the studio signed Signe Hasso, who was under contract to R. K. O. for a whole year without making a picture, while she learned to speak English without an accent. In this she'll speak with a French accent. Don't we do the darndest things? . . . Bette Davis and Olivia De Havilland joined Kay Kyser and his band at Camp Hueneme. When Bette was called upon to entertain, she said, "I'll sing, Kay, if you'll go dramatic." He did. When finished said, "It's all yours, Bette." Bette turned to his band and said, "Give me 'Dinah' in the key of G," and I'll be darned if she didn't sing it. Livvy was pretty cute, too. She did an unrehearsed comedy spot. Now the girls are begging for more camp shows.

Tale of the Bath and Hinky Dink Is a Gaudy One

"Lords of the Levee," by Lloyd Wendt and Herman Kogan. [Bobbs-Merrill, $3.] Published Monday.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

The gayest, gaudiest, grimmest book ever written about Chicago is this "story of Bathhouse John and Hinky Dink," the two fabulous aldermen of Chicago's fabulous 1st ward. Two young newspaper men, Lloyd Wendt of the staff of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, now a lieutenant [j. g.] on active duty in the navy, and Herman Kogan, have managed to make a brilliant animated cartoon on one part of Chicago's lurid past and at the same time to do a solid and comprehensive piece of political-historical research.

"Lords of the Levee" is much more exciting than a novel about the period and these two characters could possibly be, because truth puts a burnish on recorded events which no amount of skilful fictionizing can rival. And certainly the events are as gaudy as a circus performer's sequins.

No writers have ever had more sensational material to use, and these two young men have made, it seems to me, the very best possible use of it. They themselves obviously had as good a time as the reader, but they never take their eyes off the real business of the book, which is to give a minutely detailed panorama of Chicago politics during the great boodle age. They have managed to make even the politics amusing. There are 358 pages in this history, but the zestful literary can-can of the authors makes them seem neither serious nor lengthy. The book is as wild, as roistering, as fantastic, and as full of bravado as Bathhouse John, who won national fame for his mountebank dress reform, and as politically canny as Hinky Dink, who delivered the votes of the 1st ward for almost a lifetime.

Even the days of the Capone gang and the alky cookers are rivaled in "Lords of the Levee." It's not a pretty story, but the patina of time disguises some of the ugliness, and Mr. Wendt's and Mr. Kogan's sly humor absorb much of the shock. However, many solid Chicago citizens will have their eyes pried wide open by the minute inquiry into methods of politics which they, in their simple honesty, never knew existed.

New Yorkers probably will chortle with glee at this exposé but will be secretly jealous over its rivaling of the gaudy tales of their own Tammany hall.

Incidentally, more than one person who has read this fantastic chronicle feels that Wallace Beery might easily find one of his greatest rôles in "The Bath."

Note: When you finish this give it to the Victory Book campaign. Men in service would whoop with joy over it.

Old Technique Skilfully Used in First Novel

"The Whole Heart," by Helen Howe. [Simon & Schuster, $2.50.] Published last Friday.

A first novel of real distinction is Helen Howe's "The Whole Heart." With a technique as out of use as a pile of WPA shovels, she has fashioned a novel as shiningly fresh as a design for some new, super post-war living. Letters and a diary as a means of story telling were more popular when my almost white editorial hair was angora-gold before time turned it, at the ripe age of 6, to brown. They have been shunned recently as if they were the true essence of literary poison. And now comes Helen Howe, who picks them out of the scrap pile and puts them to brilliant work.

"The Whole Heart," like Mary McCarthy's brilliant first novel, "The Company She Keeps," is a portrait of a person [in this case a man, in Mary McCarthy's book, a woman] made from the oblique angles of intimates' eye views.

But, unlike Miss McCarthy's heroine, who was a different person with each of her intimates, the hero of "The Whole Heart" only looks different to the four women who loved him. He is, thruout the years, the same little boy with a New England conscience and an eagerness to be mothered when he is a man nearing 50 and the foremost radio commentator of America [after a spectacularly successful career as a novelist], as he was when his mother died while he was a soldier in France and he wrote his first novel in a burst of eagerness to tell the world something it should know. In the years between came every kind of fame and fortune and the love of four women, each a much more dynamic character than he was but dominated by him.

Altho it undoubtedly was the author's intent to paint the portrait of her hero, it really is the cameos of the women which she has carved imperishably—of three rather than four. The fourth is more like a chalk portrait—caricature without fixative. It rubs a little with handling. The New England second cousin whom he did not marry, the new-rich New York girl whom he did, and the half-Jewish intellectual who picked up the pieces of him from his first marriage and made him whole for his second marriage—ironically, because she could not mend her own broken heart to face life—are delicately, beautifully carved from the wholly unlike but equally precious stones of their individualities. Priestley Tries His Hand at Spy and Mystery Thriller

"Blackout in Gretley," by J. B. Priestley. [Harpers, $2.50.] Published today.

J. B. Priestley, who has won his vast audiences in the past with a happy blend of Yorkshire dryness of humor and whimsical reality, has written in "Blackout in Gretley" a book which has little trace of anything that he has ever done before.

It is a counter-espionage story about a village in the midlands of England, with a Canadian engineer as hero and two murders to give a fillip to his counter-spying. The characters are not, it seems to me, very convincing, either as characters or as agents of good or evil, and their movements might have been made much more disturbing—and therefore exciting—to the reader by any one of 20 "mere" mystery writers (as many readers are wont to look upon them).

Mr. Priestley is a good and a skilled story teller, and it isn't in the telling that the reader feels his lack of distinction but in the carpentering of the plot. However, "Blackout in Gretley" will help black-out a dull evening for any one, even if it does not put another jewel in Mr. Priestley's already shining literary crown. F. B.

Children Like Some Relatives, Disdain Others

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

She was 9 and came bouncing into her favorite aunt's house one winter day after school. Enthusiastic hugs given and returned, greetings to the pup over with, she wandered, as if drawn by a magnet, into the kitchen, from which she emerged with a cookie in each hand.

Contentedly she roamed the place, talking about school and the holidays. Both cookies gone, she went back for more, and appeared this time with a cluster of them in one hand and a glass of milk in the other. She tucked herself up on the big davenport near her aunt who was sewing, and began in a now-let's-have-a-good-talk voice:

"I never, never thought I'd have an aunt whose house I would go to and then be able to have anything I wanted; go to the kitchen and look in the breadbox and icebox; eat cookies and get milk, and do almost anything I wanted to."

"Of course I adore having the children come here," said their aunt to me later, "and they seem to like to come. I don't know why; I don't do anything special to amuse them. We usually talk about everything under the sun when they come, and I'm always glad to see them. I'm interested in them, and we sort of pal around, and I always have cookies in the jar; I don't criticize them, altho a few times I've had some serious sessions with Patsy."

"They're funny kids," she went on. "Two of the girls love to pad around indoors with their shoes off, just why, I don't know. Their mother objects, but if we don't have guests I don't say a word. They help if I need it, and they're really sweet and thoughtful. At the same time they're full of spirits and nonsense. You know, I feel uncomfortable sometimes, because they never go of their own free will to see the other two aunts who, for some foolish reason, blame it all on me."

I suppose all of us who are now grownup can look back and remember having had favorite uncles and aunts, and others we didn't really care about at all. And as I reminisce over it sometimes, I realize that the relatives who "left me cold" were the ones who ignored me and children in general. Or, if they talked to us at all, they talked down and corrected and criticized, that is, as much as they dared when our mother wasn't around.

It's nice to have a favorite aunt. It's nice to be a favorite aunt. And, let me say it in an "aside," some mothers would do well to copy the ways of a favorite relative such as the one we've described today.

Woman's Club of Wilmette Will Hear Reading of Play

A reading of Lisbeth Kinnear's play, "Love Is Eternal," written in appreciation of Mary Todd Lincoln, will be given by Helen Hembree Coburn at 2 o'clock today at the Woman's club in Wilmette. The play took first prize in a literature contest conducted by the 10th district of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Present at the reading as the playwright's guest will be Nathan Hall Todd.

Thru the Looking Glass

There is, as every woman should certainly know by now, no such thing among beauty aids as a "wrinkle remover." And among wrinkle preventives we don't know of anything better than the kind of a lubricant that oil-moistens the parched skin and helps to supplement the natural oils that are depleted by a number of causes as we progress from the cradle to the grave.

Dry skin is the fertile field for wrinkles and anything that helps to correct dryness is a big contribution to the cause of wrinkle prevention. What you need, then, if you want to ward off wrinkles and yours is the kind of thin skin that flakes and crinkles, is the best emollient you can find.

If a stubbornly parched quality is your pet complexion peeve you might consider one rich cream we're particularly fond of. It isn't a cleanser, nor a foundation nor one of those things that tries to be all things to all women. It's a rich, rich lubricant that serves just one purpose. It's as pure and oily as can be, and if you use it as you should, you'll be surprised and pleased at the way your dry skin laps it up.

It's not to be massaged in. It's to be worked in with gentle fingers. "Nibbled in" is the phrase its maker uses and it's a good one.

Winter's bad work on thin skin is satisfyingly corrected by this cream, we found, but its great virtue lies in the fact that its regular use keeps your skin as you like it to be, soft and smooth and properly dewy.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Over the teacups Thursday, Feb. 11, guests of Mrs. Ernest S. Ballard, Mrs. Walther Buchen, Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, Mrs. Stanley Harris, and Mrs. John Stuart will hear an informal discussion of the war service program of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Lilace Reid Barnes, president of the Y. W. C. A. of Chicago, and Mrs. Howard Goodman, chairman of the association's war services coördinating committee, will speak to the women informally at 3 o'clock at the Winnetka Woman's club.

The Y. W. C. A.'s program since Pearl Harbor has been varied and active, and Mrs. Goodman will tell of it. It includes U. S. O. service, nutrition education, and coöperation with the government relocation board to find homes and jobs for loyal Americans of Japanese ancestry. Miss Barnes is expected to present the larger picture of the Y. W. C. A. as a world-wide organization. The five women arranging the tea are actively interested in the program of the Chicago Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Buchen and Mrs. Butler are members of its board of directors.

An author, an amateur photographer, and a radio announcer were among the 47 young women enrolled in the WAAC yesterday. The author is Miss Jean Brooks, 158 West North avenue, who said she has just completed a book about life. It's called "Bread Crumbs Moldy," and Miss Brooks said that it's now in the lap of the publishers. She would have enrolled sooner, she added, but she wanted to finish her book. Miss Ruth P. O'Neill, 7634 North Marshfield avenue, is the amateur photographer. Miss Monica Zlotow, 5151 Warwick avenue, who has dabbled in radio announcing, follows her twin brother into the military services. She is one of 12 children and has three brothers already in the army.

It was announced that the WAAC's recruiting office, 166 West Van Buren street, would remain open each Monday night until 9 o'clock to accommodate business women unable to call during the day time for information. The regular weekday hours are from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5:30 o'clock in the evening.

Volunteers at the U. S. O. club at 1122 South Wabash avenue serve in more ways than as dancing partners, according to one of the club's bulletins. A few days ago two girls, Betty Conrad and Betty Gleason, were volunteering their usual afternoon hours, stamping envelopes, taking attendance records, running errands—in short doing whatever was needed. Late in the afternoon a young out of town soldier and his wife and 9 months old daughter appeared and asked for information as to where they could check the baby while they went sightseeing. The two Bettys volunteered to take care of her, and did a very creditable job, up to time for the 10 o'clock feeding. Finding themselves uncertain as to the correct temperature of the milk, the girls enlisted the aid of a sailor visiting the club. Expertly he flicked a few drops of milk on his inner arm and, satisfied with the temperature, returned the bottle with the comment that he had six little sisters.

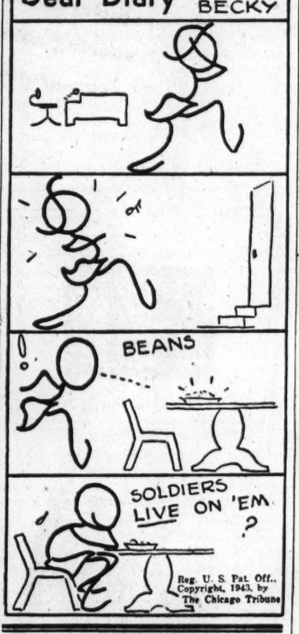

Twenty-five of the 350 WAVES who were graduated as storekeepers from Indiana university Monday will be assigned to duty soon within the metropolitan Chicago area. Fifteen of the young accountants and bookkeepers who completed the four months' course will be assigned to Great Lakes. The other 10 will be divided between Abbott hall and the naval unit at the University of Chicago.

Program Auditions.

Mrs. Charles C. Wells will hold program auditions at 10:30 o'clock today at Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs headquarters, 30 West Washington street.

Dear Diary BY BECKY

Diocese Honors Pioneer Church Publicity Chief

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Angus S. Hibbard, inventor and former telephone executive, yesterday was pointed out at the convention of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago as the man who made secular printing presses go to work for religion. His long time leadership in the field of church publicity was praised by Bishop Wallace E. Conkling at convention sessions at St. James church.

Carrying over to the church his publicity achievements with the American Telephone and Telegraph company, for which he designed the famous blue bell displayed on all long distance telephone booths, Mr. Hibbard appealed to the late Bishop Charles P. Anderson for professional publicity aid and editorial leadership. In those days a professional church publicity representative was virtually unknown, at least in Chicago.

Heeding Mr. Hibbard's appeal as coming from his first publicity chairman of his newly formed diocesan council, Bishop Anderson approved the call to the diocese of Joseph E. Boyle, Associated Press correspondent at Madison, Wis. In the year before Mr. Boyle's call, Mr. Hibbard had edited the diocesan magazine, the Diocese, now the Advance, and initiated press services to metropolitan newspapers. Mr. Boyle now directs national publicity of the Episcopal church from New York.

Other communions observing the value of these press services begun by Mr. Hibbard and Mr. Boyle, also set up publicity departments. Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist church appointed Dr. Miron E. Morrill, former Minneapolis newspaper man, to be in charge of newspaper relationships. Dr. Morrill, in turn, developed the department of Methodist information on a national scale, with headquarters in key cities. The Lutheran publicity bureau, 82 West Washington street, maintains 24 hour a day newspaper service under the Rev. Louis J. Schwartzkopf.

Mr. Hibbard, who is credited with several important telephone inventions and who aided in developing the first air conditioned telephone operators' room, is now 83 years old, but he is retaining his chairmanship in diocesan publicity and his presidency of the board of Seabury Western Theological seminary, Evanston. He is retiring as chairman of Bishop's Pence, the penny bank method which is responsible for $200,000 for the church since he aided its founding in 1934, and from the presidency of the trustees of the diocesan endowment fund.

Reward.

"I wonder how many other early risers have been marveling at the magnificent sunrise it is now possible for Michigan avenue workers to see from the front windows?" Elsie Grawemeyer writes. "I do a lot of griping about getting up in the middle of the night—at 6 a. m.—fumbling my way down the front steps in the dark, sloshing thru slush or puddles which I can't see, going to work by moonlight, noticing how weird people look in the distance—like the sinister black shadows of mystery stories—appreciating daylight more than I ever have before in my life, and then, upon getting down to the office at 8 there is the reward. A flaming, brilliant ball of orange-rose color rises between the museum and the aquarium! And on a day that bids fair to be bright, the lake sparkles and gleams so that its very serenity calms the spirit as tho reassuring the world that the future holds other things than air blitzes, rationing, and war."

Animal Kingdom.

As a rule
Kicks like a mule,
Yet he am
Such a lamb.

Feminine Firsts.

The first woman employé of the United States treasury was Jennie Douglas. Gen. Francis E. Spinner was given permission by President Lincoln to hire her to cut paper currency. Other appointments followed and brought to Washington the forerunners of the present day government clerks. . . . It was Gen. Spinner who, as a congressman, voted for one of the first women ministers, Antoinette Brown, for chaplain of the house of representatives. . . . The first woman to be proposed as a member of the American Bar association was Rosalie Loew in 1903, but her name was withdrawn upon the request of the executive committee of the association. Another woman's name was proposed in 1906 [Jessie Ashley], but her name also was withdrawn because of opposition. Florence Sabin, scientist, was the discoverer of the lymphatic system; her work has been called "monumental." . . . And the Dick test for scarlet fever is a woman's discovery, Gladys Dick. . . . The chief American Red Cross nurse in France in 1918 was Julia Stimson. . . . The first woman to write a detailed [two volume] history of an American industry was Ida Tarbell. . . . The first educational course combined with factory work was known as the Lowell system in the early eighties. According to Donald Laird, it "attracted a splendid type of middle class girl and continued successfully for some 15 years."

MISS LORAINE CARROLL.

The war may have separated lots of families and friends, says Miss Loraine Carroll, manager of the Daily News Bldg. Book Shop, but it certainly hasn't interfered with their celebration of days like St. Valentine's. Right now the mails are full of valentines bound for the far corners of the globe, and many more will be on their way before February 14. Miss Carroll suggests that all valentines, especially those for service men, be mailed early this year. She has on hand a fresh, new collection of valentines designed for Mother, Dad and other members of the family; sweethearts; members of the armed forces. Choose gay ones, humorous ones, serious heart-to-heart ones to suit your desire. It takes only a few minutes to pick them out at the Daily News Bldg. Book Shop, or any of these other conveniently located Handy Book & Gift Shops: Field Bldg.; Board of Trade; Palmer House; Merchandise Mart; Post Office News (37 W. Monroe); Chimes (29 N. Clark); Hyde Park (1457 E. Hyde Park).

GOLDEN GLOVERS FIGHT AT LOYOLA TONIGHT

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

PITCHER Joe Haynes of the White Sox, who was born in Washington, Ga., now makes his home in Washington, D. C. . . . A friendly fraternity house scuffle has proved costly to the Michigan State swimming team. . . . The Spartans' No. 1 breaststroke man—Chuck Bigelow—suffered a fractured elbow, which not only will keep him out of competition, but has disqualified him temporarily from the army air corps training course he had planned. . . . In a recent race at New Orleans' Fair Grounds, Reaper's Blade broke down while leading the field and was destroyed. . . . The winner of the race was Tragic Ending. . . . Beryl S. Taylor, former Iowa State college athletic trainer, has received a captain's commission in the army. . . . He is stationed at Fort Riley [Kansas]. . . . The entire net profits of Cleveland's 15th annual Golden Gloves tournament will go to an American Legion post and will be used for the relief of needy families of war veterans. . . . Says Yano Di Giacomo, trainer of Omaha Golden Gloves fighters: "There is a new spirit this year; you don't have to drive any of the boys to their training stunts. . . . On the contrary, my biggest task is to keep them from overdoing. Practically every one of them expects to be in uniform within the next few months and they know there is no better conditioning program than boxing."

The trade by which the New York Yanks sent First Baseman Ed Levy and Pitcher Allen Gettel of their Kansas City farm to the Phils for Nick Etten will have no effect on the Blues' plans for 1943. . . . The American association club did not expect either to report anyway. . . . Alex Carrasquel, the Senators' big pitcher from Venezuela, was a second baseman in his home country. . . . An American soldier—Melchor Fayosal—writes Clark Griffith from a German prison camp, asking baseballs, bats, and gloves be sent him thru the Red Cross. . . . President Will Harridge, L. C. McEvoy, and Earl Hilligan of the American league offices will attend a dinner honoring 80 year old Connie Mack in Philadelphia Friday night. . . . After the New York baseball writers' dinner Sunday night, Mr. Harridge and Mrs. Harridge will leave for a short visit with their son, Lt. William Harridge, at Miami Beach.

They are able to see the beauty of mud
And trace there the footprints of God. —W. J. Griffith.

Marquette Is Notre Dame Victim, 50-45

Notre Dame, Ind., Feb. 2 [Special].—Notre Dame scored its ninth basketball victory in 10 starts, 50 to 45, against a battling Marquette five tonight before 3,500.

Marquette took the lead after seven minutes of play and held it for seven more minutes, but the combined efforts of Tom Brennan, center, and Frank Curran, forward, both subs, who got 12 points each, proved to be too much and the Irish went into a 29 to 21 advantage at the half.

Penalties—Guidolin [minor and 10 minute misconduct], Dahlstrom.

Referee—Bill Chadwick. Linesmen—Ag. Smith and Bill Cleary.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 2 (AP).—Bill Cowley was an accurate fellow tonight, shooting three goals past Goalie Bert Gardiner of the Chicago Blackhawks as the Boston Bruins, National Hockey league leaders, scored a 5 to 3 victory. It was the Hawks' third defeat here this season. A fourth game ended in a tie. Cowley boosted his league leading point scoring total to 54. He also had an assist tonight for four points.

Only at one stage did the Chicago team lead. This was when the Hawks fired in two goals in the first period after the Bruins had taken a 1 to 0 lead. Then the Bruins came back with two more goals and a 3 to 2 first period advantage.

Dahlstrom Penalty Costly.

Boston added one each in the next two periods, while the Hawks' subsequent scoring was limited to a goal late in the final period.

They made this one less than three minutes from the finish when Bep Guidolin drew a 10 minute penalty for slashing and misconduct, Cully Dahlstrom clicking on a 35 footer. Then, with the Chicagoans desperately trying to rush across the tying tally, Dahlstrom drew a penalty for hooking. Boston came back with its fifth goal with little more than a minute remaining.

Cowley Drives 'Em In.

Cowley scored twice in the first period to erase the 2 to 1 Chicago lead. He made both shots while Aud Tuten was serving a 2 minute penalty for cross-checking. Chicago's two first period scores came within a minute and a half's time. The scorers were Bill Thoms and George Allen.

SOLDIER TAKES SUDDEN TRIP

BASEBALL MEN STILL DEFERRED IN DRAFT SETUP

Baseball players yesterday were omitted from the nondeferrable list included in the new order of the war man power commission. They still can submit claims of family dependency, but how long they will hold their present deferments was a question that got no answer in official Washington.

[McNutt explains work or fight order to 3-A draftees. Story on page 6.]

While the order was a sweeping one, it did not include professional athletes of any classification. It was indicated, however, that the list of professions which are deemed nonessential may be augmented on the order of the commission at any time, possibly before the scheduled start of the curtailed spring training season. If baseball is rated a nonessential industry before yesterday's ruling becomes operative on April 1, the organized game would immediately abandon efforts to operate for the duration of the war, it was indicated.

Cubs to Play Until—

General Manager James T. Gallagher of the Cubs was one of the first baseball officials to be interviewed on the man power order as issued by Commissioner Paul V. McNutt. Said Gallagher: "If baseball is placed on the list of nonessentials, there will be only one thing to do—close the gates. There aren't 30 over-age ball players capable of playing in organized baseball, and not more than three or four that can play major league ball. However, we are going on with our plans for the 1943 season until the authorities demand otherwise."

President Will Harridge of the American league noted the absence of baseball on yesterday's list. He said he had no formal comment, but added that baseball was facing all problems as they arose, with patriotic coöperation foremost at all times.

No Comment: Landis.

Commissioner K. M. Landis withheld comment. He indicated that he saw no need of another trip to Washington, such as he made a month ago to learn the desires of Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation.

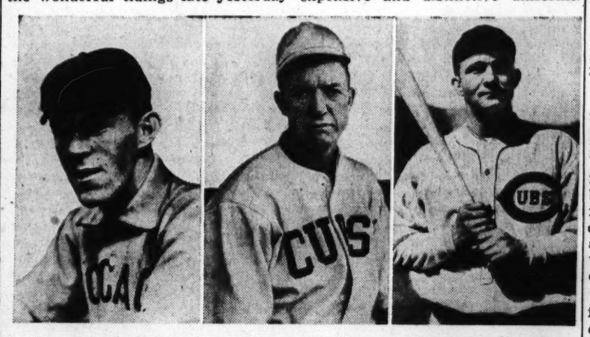

Cubs Liquidate Those Fancy Uniforms to Humor Players

BY EDWARD BURNS.

General Manager James T. Gallagher has relented. The 1943 Cubs will wear orthodox baseball uniforms.

The great news was suspected when Paul Derringer, Cub pitcher of recent acquisition from the Cincinnati Reds, was posed Monday in a windbreaker instead of being submitted to the embarrassment of donning one of the crocheted specials of the type that has made the Cubs pliteously conspicuous sartorially these last three summers. Then followed the wonderful tidings late yesterday uniforms made of materials that have not been rationed, and, frankly, are not likely to be. Some of the players did not appreciate our expenditure and effort to give them a cool and attractive uniform.

"I never gave any ear to the claims that the uniforms the Cubs have worn for the last three years gave the players an inferiority complex. I held all along that there were other reasons why they finished fifth, sixth, and sixth the seasons they wore the expensive and distinctive uniforms.

Johnny Evers, 1906. Grover Alexander, 1918. Riggs Stephenson, 1931.
Here are uniforms worn by Cubs of the past.

—Mr. G.'s confirmation that the Cubs are going to standard equipment this year.

Derringer is scheduled to retreat to his tropical nest in Sarasota, Fla., leaving Chicago tonight. It is presumed he will go home very happy over salary terms and his chance to help the Cubs to a pennant.

Mr. Gallagher Acts.

Thruout yesterday General Manager Gallagher and Manager Jim Wilson scarcely allowed the big right-hander to get out of their sight. Pessimists noted this and spread the rumor they were afraid some wicked photographer would conspire with Trainer Andy Lotshaw and get Paul into one of the Cubs' erstwhile costume creations. It was figured that if Paul had seen himself in one of the getups before signing, he would have asked twice as much dough.

Well, Gallagher put a crimp in this base canard. His statement after he had heard these spiteful hints was forthright. He said:

"The 1943 Cubs will wear old type uniforms. Anyhow, we'll have no more talk of inferiority complexes, unless some of the players get downcast over the fact they are wearing wartime materials."

They Hid Manly Figures.

The fact of the matter probably is that Cub players would be delighted with uniforms made of abandoned flour sacks so long as the cut turned out to be along standard lines. Some of the Cubs, fellows who rarely complain, were bitter about the giddy raiment just now discarded.

It was averred that in some instances the knitted ensembles were downright indecent, but this, perhaps, was a prudish outlook. After one or two wearings the crocheting stretched horribly and it was impossible for even the more muscular of the Cubs to show their best lines while dressed in the suits.

Of course, the Cubs have other problems. Like watching for Mr. Paul McNutt to add baseball to his new list of nonessential industries, for instance.

CHAMPIONS CROWNED IN TWO DIVISIONS IN SOUTH SIDE FINALS

Winners to Battle for City Titles on Feb. 11.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Eight novices and eight open division boxers fought their way to south side Golden Gloves championships last night in St. Sabina gymnasium. The north side boys wi'l take up the battle this evening in Loyola gymnasium. For three consecutive nights the struggle will continue, the sectional champions emerging from Friday's bouts.

The south side winners, who put on so spectacular a show last night in the concluding program of their sectional event, now will point for the city championship bouts which will be held a week from tomorrow in the armory at 16th street and Michigan avenue. Altho these titleholders vary quite a bit in boxing skill and experience, each one has put the real Golden Gloves spirit into his bouts. That spirit will assure another magnificent battle when the north and south side teams clash for the city titles.

Powerful Team in the Making.

The performances of the south side boxers have indicated that Chicago will have another one of its traditionally powerful teams to send into the Tournament of Champions this season. In these bouts, which will be held in the Stadium on Feb. 22, 23, and 24, the local representatives will compete in a field which will be drawn from all of the vast Golden Gloves territory. This extends from Ohio to Texas, from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico.

Alfred Wedge of the Catholic Youth organization, and Joe Motzi, army aviation technical training school, 41st and Drexel boulevard, opened last night's show in a semi-final match of the 126 pound novice division. Another packed house greeted them as they entered the ring.

Hammer Wins Over Jones.

For each of the three two minute rounds, these youngsters fought without cessation. Wedge knocked Motzi down twice in the first round and then, in the second round, Motzi dropped Wedge for a count. When the last punch had been flung, Wedge received the officials' decision and the crowd gave both a tremendous cheer as they shook hands and left the ring together.

Buck Hammer, novice lightweight, a teammate of Motzi, punched his way to a three round victory over James Jones, C. Y. O. lightweight. Hammer came on strongly in the third round to pile up points for victory. Hammer returned in his semi-final bout to outpoint George Boulware of the C. Y. O. The crowd was with Hammer as he rallied in the third round to win by vicious body punches.

Fight for Title Tomorrow.

Orland Easton, C. Y. O. 135 pounder, won the decision from Ray Adkins, unattached, in the other semi-final bracket in this class. Since Hammer fought his quarter-final and semi-final bouts last night—no boy may box more than twice in one evening—the championship battle between Hammer and Easton for the lightweight novice title will be held tomorrow night during the Loyola tournament.

Cliff Fossman, novice welterweight from Coulon's gymnasium, caught the crowd's fancy with his excellent infighting. His short punches to the body jolted Peter Strenkowski for an advantage in the first round. Strenkowski, one of the better boxers from the C. Y. O., rallied in the second round to even the match. In the final round Fossman again carried the attack and stepped inside his opponent's swings to gain the unanimous decision.

Fossman defeated James Egan of the C. Y. O. for the novice welterweight championship. The battle, from start to conclusion, was one of the finest in the history of Chicago's novice tournaments. While neither boy was knocked down, there wasn't a dull moment.

Evans Proves Hard Hitter.

Egan had the advantage of this exceedingly close match for the first round and half of the second. He led and scored with a left hook to the head. One of these blows dazed Fossman for a second along the ropes. After the middle of the second round the tide of the fight swung toward Fossman. Superior stamina and fine determination carried him to the championship.

Reedy Evans of the Savoy Athletic club proved to be one of the hardest hitters uncovered in the open division. Evans, a light heavyweight, landed a resounding series of lefts and rights on Lloyd Watson, an unattached boxer, ending the championship match by a technical knockout in the first round.

The heavyweight championship also went to the Savoy A. C. when Walter Moore stopped a teammate, George Wayward, in the first round.

Thruout the Golden Gloves area, fighting is going on steadily. Evansville and Fort Wayne, Ind., will hold third round bouts and quarter-finals, respectively, tomorrow night. Cleveland, which held its quarter-finals last night, will run off its semi-finals and finals on Friday.

Our Bouncing Boy

CAMP GRANT'S COACH MASTER OF BENCH ANTICS

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Piggy Lambert of Purdue, George Keogan of Notre Dame, and Dutch Lonborg of Northwestern are admittedly past masters in the art of basketball coaching hysterics, just to name three members of a profession in which swooning, bench beating, finger pointing, and other emotional didoes are required talents. Piggy and George and Dutch have trod the sideline boards well and often and played their rôles to the loss of voice, but they are now being confronted with a rival who already leads them by one technical foul in the current season.

This would be Lt. Robert [Bob] Harris, coach of the Camp Grant Warriors, who will be seeking their 20th straight victory and their 22d in 23 games Saturday evening when they come to the Chicago Stadium to battle De Paul's great Blue Demons.

There has been a deal of hurrahing for such teams from these parts as Illinois, Indiana, Notre Dame, Great Lakes, De Paul, and Northwestern, all of it well deserved, but it is just occurring to several local citizens that Camp Grant has been playing a spot of basketball, too, as witness those 21 triumphs. One of those victories was over Illinois, 41 to 31. Wisconsin inflicted the only defeat, 38 to 36.

A Technical Slows Him Down.

And no small part of the Warriors' record is the coaching work of the aforesaid Lt. Harris, a normally reticent young man who is reported to rise to dramatic heights in the heat of a contest. Latest example was the recent game in which the Warriors defeated the Selfridge field [Mich.] Flyers. Lt. Coach Harris was so moved by the goings-on of the officials that one of them charged him with a technical foul and awarded a free throw to the Flyers.

The lieutenant held still thereafter and played the unwilling part of the delivery boy who hustles across the stage at the first curtain and then exits with nary a word. But he always hustles, and the lieutenant was still hustling silently as the Warriors won another.

Has a Wisconsin Background.

A native of Madison, Wis., Lt. Bob received his bachelor of science degree and then took a postgraduate master of science diploma in physical education at the University of Wisconsin. In the course of his postgraduate work, the Warrior coach helped Harry Stuhldreher in football and Bud Foster in basketball. Nor was he starting from scratch here, for he won three varsity football letters as a Badger end, and two while working between forward and center with the Wisconsin five.

After gaining the postgraduate degree, he was offered a chance to remain with the Badger staff, but decided instead to accept a position as director of physical education in Madison high schools. He was drafted in 1941 and sent to Camp Grant for training. After nine months he rose to a sergeantcy, and while attaining that status, designed the camp's system of mass athletic training.

He then became a candidate for officers' training, and attended the school of medical administration at Carlisle, Pa., where he was graduated with a second lieutenancy.

MARSHALL HIGH JUNIORS WIN 72D STRAIGHT GAME

Defeat McKinley, 69 to 30; Wells, Tuley Climb.

The Marshall High school junior basketball team overwhelmed McKinley, 69 to 30, yesterday on the Marshall court for its fifth straight City league west section victory of the season and its 72d consecutive triumph since 1939. In five league games this season Marshall has scored 295 points to 139 by the opposition. Chicky Zomlefer, Marshall guard, made 23 points yesterday.

Wells and Tuley went into a second place tie in the west section junior race, each winning its third game in four starts. Wells trimmed Medill, 67 to 23 at Wells, and Tuley edged out Washburne, 47 to 41, on the latter's floor.

Crane Beats Austin.

Crane knocked Austin out of second place and tied the latter for fourth place with three victories and two defeats by defeating Austin, 54 to 24, on the loser's floor. Foreman chalked up its first west section junior victory by beating Kelvyn Park, 46 to 23, at Foreman.

Steinmetz scored 20 points in the fourth quarter and nosed out Waller, 45 to 44, in the senior game of a north section double header after Waller had won the junior contest, 50 to 30. Senn swept its north section double header from Taft at Senn, the juniors winning 59 to 15 and the seniors 40 to 39.

Vocational Loses Again.

South Shore handed Chicago Vocational its seventh straight south section double header defeat, the juniors winning 51 to 14 and the seniors 60 to 20. It was South Shore's fifth victory in six games in each division. Bowen invaded Hyde Park and dropped a south section double header, the juniors losing 44 to 28 and the seniors 37 to 22.

Riverside High school upset York of Elmhurst, 39 to 26, last night in a West Suburban league heavyweight game in Riverside. York remained in second place as Downers Grove lost to La Grange, 45 to 32. Glenbard defeated Maine, 35 to 24, in the other heavyweight contest. In the lightweight division Downers Grove routed La Grange, 28 to 4; Maine beat Glenbard, 26 to 23, and York trimmed Riverside, 32 to 15.

DUROCHER TAKES EXAMINATION FOR ARMY SERVICE

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 2 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers better start looking for a new manager right now, because Leo Durocher declared today he knew no reason why he should not pass draft board examinations for induction into the army.

"I never felt better in my life," Durocher said exuberantly before reporting for a physical examination by selective service physicians at the City hospital. Bubbling over with health, he came here after his annual check-up at Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., and a week of winter sports.

Phillip Regains Top Position in Big Ten Scoring

The quietus predicted for Andy Phillip's florid scoring streak upon the return of Ken Menke to condition has failed to materialize. The durable Illinois forward picked up Monday where he left off before semester exams to score 15 points and regain his Big Ten scoring lead with a total of 107.

Meanwhile, Indiana's Ralph Hamilton picked up 11 points over the week-end in his sixth game to run his figure to 98 and pass Tom Chapman of Iowa, last week's leader. Leading scorers:

MARSHALL FIELD ELECTS M'BAIN TO PRESIDENCY

Frederick D. Corley Gives Up Post.

Hughston M. McBain, for the last five years first vice president, yesterday was elected president of Marshall Field & Co. He succeeds Frederick D. Corley, who resigned as president and a member of the board of directors. Announcement of the changes was made by Stanley Field, chairman of the executive committee, following a meeting of the board of directors.

Later Percy Wilson announced his resignation as managing director of the Merchandise Mart and as a vice president of Marshall Field & Co. Wilson said his action had no connection with Mr. Corley's resignation. He explained that the loss of several key figures in his own company, Percy Wilson & Co., to the war had made his return necessary. He established his company, a realty firm, in 1926 and took charge of the Mart and other Field realty in 1936.

Other Officers Selected.

Mr. Field also announced the election by the board of directors of James L. Palmer as first vice president; John D. Anderson, corporate controler, and Robert F. Graham, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer.

McBain, who at 40 becomes president of one of the nation's largest merchandising establishments, started work with the company 20 years ago as a bill adjuster.

"The rise of McBain has been typical of American opportunity," said a statement issued by the company. "He is considered unusually well qualified for the new position as he has been general manager of all three of the principal divisions of the business."

McBain in 1932 was made general manager of the Merchandise Mart—world's largest building—and a year later he was appointed assistant to the president and assistant treasurer. In 1935 he became general manager of the wholesale and manufacturing division and in 1937 he was elected first vice president. In 1938 he was elected a member of the board of directors. In April, 1940, he was made general manager of the company's Chicago and suburban stores.

Palmer with Firm Since '36.

Palmer, the new first vice president, has been with Marshall Field since 1936 after having been for 10 years a business consultant for a number of other companies. In 1937 he was appointed director of sales promotion and research and in 1939 was made assistant to the president. In 1940 he became vice president and general operating manager of the retail store.

Palmer was for many years a member of the faculty of the school of business, University of Chicago.

Corley last night would make no statement regarding his future plans. He began with Marshall Field in 1900 as a $4 a week stock boy and was made president in 1936.

ASKS ICC TO PUT ERIE LOAN UP FOR COMPETITIVE BID

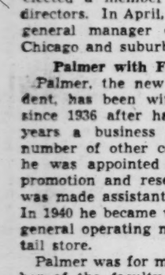

Cleveland, O., Feb. 2 (AP).—Cyrus S. Eaton of Otis & Co. today asked the interstate commerce commission "to require competitive bidding" on a proposed new 14 million dollar issue of 3½ per cent series D Erie railroad bonds "before the conventional excuse is made that a private sale has already been concluded and that competition therefore is not practicable."

Eaton's telegram to Claude R. Porter of the ICC said Otis; Halsey, Stuart & Co. of Chicago, and associates "are prepared to make a firm, unconditional bid."

An Erie official said no decision had yet been made on the bonds.

P. D. ARMOUR HEADS NEW CHICAGO UNIT OF ARMY AIR PRICE BOARD

Philip D. Armour, industrialist and member of the packing family, yesterday was appointed chairman of a special Chicago unit of the army air forces price adjustment section.

Philip D. Armour.

Associated with him in offices at 20 North Wacker drive will be Gaylord A. Freeman Jr., attorney on leave from the First National bank; Frank W. World Money System Urged in Parliament

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Creation of an international money system and the adoption of measures to prevent disastrous swings in prices after the war were recommended today by Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, at the start of two days' debate in the house of commons on Great Britain's economic policies.

Already there is some agreement among the allied nations "as to the main direction in which we can advance," said Wood, based on the belief that "the best future for mankind lies in the fullest coöperation and good understanding" between them.

A Check Upon Governments.

Nevertheless there will be intensive competition for world markets after the war, he said, and "inflationary tendencies will be even more potent than in war time. But [under a world money plan], if any government were tempted to move too far either in an inflationary or deflationary direction it would be subject to check."

Among other post-war needs of Britain, the chancellor mentioned colonial expansion, international trade, and reduction of tariff barriers. While Britain is unlikely to be able to make long term loans immediately after the war, he continued, there is "every reason to expect that we will take our place again when the difficulties of readjustment are overcome."

At present, he said, the economic disturbance is much greater in Great Britain than in the last war and the depletion of foreign assets means that the nation's economic position is "far from easy and can become dangerous." Furthermore, the British public faces after the war lower living standards with "a considerable measure of government control over its economic life," he warned.

Urges Allies as Partners.

Conservative Party Member Winterton, a former cabinet minister, told commons that the United States and Britain must treat Russia and China as equal partners in formulating post-war plans.

"On purely material grounds," this must be done, he said, even tho the United States is now admittedly the world's greatest industrial and financial power, for "she might not remain so and in the next 50, or even 25, years Russia or China might take her place."

SEC GETS PLAN FOR LIQUIDATING MIDLAND FIRMS

A plan for reorganization of the Midland United and Midland Utilities companies, which follows a plan of liquidation made public two months ago, was filed with the securities and exchange commission yesterday in Philadelphia.

It was proposed by Hugh M. Morris, trustee in bankruptcy for United, and his attorney, Max Swiren. They are among the trustees of the proposed Midland liquidating trust into which remaining assets of the companies would be placed after certain claims are paid.

Meanwhile Federal District Judge John Biggs Jr. at Wilmington, Del., called a hearing for Feb. 9 at which interests seeking to intervene in the bankruptcy proceedings will be heard. Former Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson of Chicago is among objectors to liquidation of the companies.

DECEMBER RISE IN ARMS OUTPUT IS NEW RECORD

Nelson Reveals First Plane Figures.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—American arms production rose 14 per cent in December, a record shattering increase, Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board, reported today. The gain in warplanes alone was 20 per cent and the increase in tanks, artillery and other ground ordnance 25 per cent.

In telling of the gain over November, Nelson said December output was nearly five times as large as in the month before Pearl Harbor.

For the first time since the start of the war, Nelson divulged an exact airplane production total, saying that 5,489 planes were delivered to the army, navy and this country's allies in December, a gain of 667 over the preceding month.

Best Month in History.

"The volume of planes, tanks, guns, ships and other campaign material which rolled off assembly lines in the United States' factories was the greatest ever produced in one month," Nelson's seventh such report said.

"The month's increase in physical volume of war material turned out also was the greatest."

Nelson cautioned, however, that the showing was "partly the result of a year-end drive to clear up odds and ends in many shops." Because of this effort, which stripped assembly lines of materials to some extent, January production was hurt in some areas, Nelson said.

Moreover, the WPB chief declared that "each increase in monthly production from now on will be harder to obtain." The 1943 objectives are set at approximately twice the volume of last year.

Warship Increase Slight.

December production showed these percentage gains over November in five big categories:

Aircraft, up 20 per cent; ground ordnance, up 25 per cent; navy and army vessels, up 1 per cent; merchant ships, up 9 per cent; miscellaneous munitions [vehicles, machine tools, and troop equipment and supplies], up 11 per cent.

The extra effort for a good December showing was noticeable in aircraft, and Nelson hinted that the gain was not quite as good as it looked. Several hundred of the planes classified as "delivered" actually went into the "so-called aircraft pool" on the last day of the year. The pool consists of planes which lack some part, and cannot be flown away, but are "delivered."

DPC ADDS 16.9 MILLION TO CHRYSLER DODGE CONTRACT AT CHICAGO

A $16,900,000 increase in its contract with the Chrysler corporation to cover increased expenses at the corporation's Illinois plant has been authorized by the Defense Plant corporation, Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, announced yesterday in Washington.

The plant concerned is the Dodge-Chicago aviation engine plant under construction on Chicago's southwest side. The increase will result in an overall commitment on the operation of approximately 173 million dollars.

The Dodge-Chicago plant is to be one of the world's largest manufacturing operations, exceeding in size, it is said, the Willow Run bomber plant, operated by the Ford Motor company.

Railway Profit 'Exhorbitant,' U. S. Charges

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—Government representatives told the interstate commerce commission today that earnings of American railroads in 1942 were "exorbitant" and that if a year old rate increase were withdrawn the savings in transportation charges would help lower living costs.

An I. C. C. panel was given this opinion by spokesmen for the office of economic stabilization and the office of price administration. They contended increases averaging approximately 10 per cent in passenger fares and 6 per cent on freight rates were unjustified. The rails contended then that additional revenue was needed to meet higher pay rolls.

"Railroads Out of Step."

"As the story of figures and facts unfold," said Max Swiren, special government counsel, "it will be abundantly clear that the railroads are out of step with the stabilization program. The rate increases and the magnitude of their [the rails'] profits are in direct violation of the national stabilization policy.

"The profit levels are so extreme that we ought soon to consider, in addition to immediate removal of the emergency increases, reductions in pre-war rates."

No matter how liberal wage increases might be obtained in response to current demands, he said, these could "readily be absorbed from the inflated profits of the railroads."

Interrupt OPA Representative.

Richard V. Gilbert, representing the OPA, was the first witness. Three ICC members — Commissioners Clyde B. Aitchison, Walter M. W. Splawn, and Charles D. Mahaffie—conducted the proceedings.

Gilbert, an economist, stated that OPA is opposed to price increases. Aitchison interrupted to ask "whether justified or not?" His reply was not audible. He frequently was interrupted by the ICC members, and once Aitchison told him: "Just say yes or no."

"I can't say yes or no," Gilbert replied, and Aitchison advised him: "Then say you can't say yes or no."

COLORADO HOUSE VOTES CURB ON INTEREST RATES

Denver, Colo., Feb. 2 (AP).—Legislation abolishing service charges on small loans and limiting interest rates was passed by the Colorado house of representatives today, then returned to the senate, which previously had approved it, for correction of a typographical error. Gov. John C. Vivian is expected to sign the bill.

Its passage ends a persistent fight of several years for small loan legislation in Colorado. It restricts interest rates to 3½ per cent monthly on loans up to $150 and 2½ per cent on parts of loans between $150 and $300.

[At the end of 1942 besides Colorado only Maine, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire did not have either constitutional or statutory restrictions on interest rates on small loans. Most of the states have enacted laws modeled after the uniform small loan law drafted by the Russell Sage Foundation, which led a nation-wide campaign against excessive interest charges.]

WHAT THEY EARNED

A slump in profit to $10,305,705 in 1942 from $16,124,401 in the preceding year was reported yesterday by Youngstown Sheet and Tube company. The earnings per common share dropped to $5.66 from $9.13.

Rising federal taxes accounted for part of the setback for the big steel producer, totaling $24,700,000, compared with $21,500,000 in 1941. Other earings reports issued yesterday included:

FARM MACHINE BOOST STYMIED; DENY MATERIAL

Int. Harvester Head Tells of Delays.

Despite recent statements by government officials that manufacture of farm machinery and repair parts would be accelerated, the materials to do this have not been delivered, and farmers will not get the additional machinery which they have been requesting. This statement on the farm equipment situation was made yesterday by Fowler McCormick president of the International Harvester company.

Fowler McCormick.

Farmers have been pleading for additional farm machinery to make up for the man power lost to the military and to war plants. They have warned that unless the labor problem is solved their ability to raise the foods required for the war will be seriously impaired.

Told None Is Available.

McCormick said that immediately after government officials had promised the accelerated program International Harvester applied to the government for the materials necessary to provide the additional machines and repair parts.

"We have been informed," he said, "that these materials for the accelerated program would not be available for manufacture for the first quarter of 1943," McCormick said. "For the present, therefore, the L-170 program [the original war production board program setting up steel quotas for the farm implement industry] cannot be accelerated, insofar as the International Harvester company is concerned, nor can any additional machines or repair parts be manufactured, unless and until materials are made available.

"We will apply again for those materials in the second quarter of 1943 and hope that prompt and favorable action will be taken at that time."

Hopes for Year's Program.

He said it is hoped that the government will work out a better balanced and more adequate farm machinery program soon, providing for operation by the industry over a period of at least 12 months.

"We consider that production of food is as vital to the winning of the war as is the production of weapons and material for the army, navy, and marine corps," McCormick said. "Farm machinery plays a most important part in the production of this food at any time, and particularly in war time when the man power supply is reduced. It is therefore essential that an adequate supply of machines must be provided, and on time."

Chicago and Detroit Provide 10th of High Paid Men to BEW

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—About 10 per cent of the business executives and lawyers with the board of economic warfare who formerly made more than $8,000 a year are from Chicago and Detroit, it was learned today.

In response to a request the BEW provided a list of high salaried men from the middle west who have become associated with the board, which controls exports and imports for war purposes.

The list shows 17 men from the middle west, 13 of them from Chicago and 4 from Detroit. These men were earning a combined total of $265,750 in their previous business jobs and are now working for the BEW at combined salaries of $101,100. The board could not disclose their individual earnings previously nor would it reveal their present individual earnings.

175 Earned Over $8,000.

The BEW has on its staff a total of 175 former business men whose annual earnings were above $8,000 each. Of this total, 27 are listed as "consultants" and the rest as full time salaried employés. The BEW said that the business earnings of these men before coming to the board totaled $2,964,282 and that their combined salaries with the government total $1,055,500.

Altho all of the 175 men previously made more than $8,000 a year, some of them were earning more than $25,000. Those in this latter category had a combined income of $1,259,672 in their private jobs, compared with combined salaries of $203,100 from government. Of the 175 men, those whose private earnings ranged between $8,000 and $25,000 received total salaries of $1,704,610 in business, compared with combined income of $852,400 from the BEW.

Middle West List

The list of men from Chicago and Detroit with the BEW follows, with name of former employer, nature of business and address:

Barnette, Larry, self-employed [steel], Chicago.

Dormitzer, Max R., self-employed [export], Chicago.

Dowler, Freeman, National Brands Sales Corp. [food sales], Chicago.

MOVE TO CUT OFF SILVER PURCHASE CASH ANNOUNCED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—Rep. Emanuel Celler [D., N. Y.] announced today he would offer an amendment tomorrow to the treasury appropriations bill to cut out all funds for government purchase of silver under the acts of 1934 and 1939.

"The government," he said, "has thus far purchased well nigh three billion ounces of silver. This enormous hoard is now hidden and stored away at West Point. This stock pile is now tarnishing. It serves no useful purpose, altho sorely needed by war industries."

TRACTION PLAN BACKERS CLING TO SLIM HOPES

Observers Expect Final Rejection.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

Proponents of the 179 million dollar Chicago traction unity plan still were hopeful yesterday that the Illinois commerce commission might be persuaded to overrule a report of two of its examiners, which condemned the scheme as "so basically unsound it should be disapproved." Most observers of the situation regarded the hope as a slim one.

William D. Sidley, chairman of a committee of lawyers who presented the evidence of the merger, said that "neither the commission nor the examiners have yet heard arguments from the petitioners and the entire matter is still in a preliminary stage."

Will File Exceptions.

"We will file exceptions to the report," Sidley added, "and assume we will then argue the case before the commission upon the evidence developed, the examiners' report, and the exceptions thereto. We have no doubt the commission will take a constructive attitude and that chaos in traction will be avoided."

Attorneys Thomas L. Marshall and William J. Friedman, who made most of the presentation for the committee of lawyers, said that this statement represented their views. The committee was appointed by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe to represent the surface and elevated lines and the proposed new company in the reorganization proceedings.

Ald. James R. Quinn, chairman of the council committee on local transportation, said he believed that the commission would be taking a "backward step" if it upheld the examiners' report.

Service "Not Satisfactory."

"The service of the companies has been under the ICC and it is not satisfactory," he said. "I think that the people of Chicago are greatly interested in a better service and that

Message No. 2—To Members of Unions Affiliated with Chicago and Cook County Building and Construction Trades Council

NOW THAT CONSTRUCTION JOBS ARE ENDING

Why Not Turn To The Vital War Task Of Keeping Plants and Equipment in Tip-Top Operating Condition?

CHICAGO has become one of the greatest arsenals of democracy in the entire country. New industries have been established to turn out vital war goods of every type — tanks, shells, guns, plane-parts, small ships, engines, instruments, small arms ammunition, and other supplies.

Enormous new plants have been built throughout the area, some of them the largest in the world. Others, still under construction, are rapidly nearing completion. Within a few months all of them will be operating in full production as one gigantic industrial Axis-smasher.

You men in the building trades have every right to feel proud of the part you have played in building and equipping these giant plants. The speed and efficiency with which you have worked have contributed mightily to turning the tide and putting the United Nations on the offensive on every battle front. You have been in a real sense "soldiers of the common good."

But now that the construction phase of the national war effort is rapidly drawing to a close, there remains the job of keeping all these giant plants in full and continuous operation.

That job is vital. It is especially the responsibility of those who care for the pulsating heart of the plant, the production machinery which, in many cases, represents up to 65% of the cost of the plant proper. Most of that machinery is irreplaceable. Due to priorities and other government restrictions, it is virtually impossible even to obtain spare parts.

Furthermore, you are the only large pool of workers now available who have the necessary skill, experience, and "know-how" to handle the job as it should be handled. That is because older plants, realizing that good maintenance of equipment men are indispensable, have been careful not to let their own equipment maintenance men go.

By planning now to shift from the purely building side of the industry to the maintenance of equipment side, you will not be caught short a few months hence when new construction stops in accordance with Washington's requirements.

What's more, you will have stabilized employment for the duration in a type of work which is absolutely essential to the successful carrying on of the war. You will not have to worry over the possibility of eventually being tied up in a job you don't like or for which you are not sufficiently rugged.

Then, too, you will be able to work 300 days a year instead of the 178 you have averaged only too often in the past, and you will enjoy a wage that will total larger on an annual basis than the wages you have been receiving, layoffs considered.

But remember, time is short. The situation calls for quick thinking and a bold follow through. Already men of less skill and experience have slipped into some of the most desirable jobs. Plant managers have had to take them, because abler men like yourselves have not been available. It's up to you.

Your fellow unionists are thinking about these things. So are the officers of your unions. But in order to turn thoughts into action that will provide steady work and good wages in days to come, it is necessary that the men of the building trades share their thoughts and pool their ideas by talking over the situation with each other and with officers of their unions.

STOCK MARKET TURNS IRREGULAR IN HEAVY TRADE

Registers Its Fifth Million Share Day of 1943.

New York, Feb. 2 (AP).—New highs for 14 months or longer were plentiful in the stock market today, and volume again was one of the largest in the last year, but many leaders were hesitant and the close was irregular.

A few rails did well from the start, along with some specialties. Some favorites that were up in the morning finished even or lower.

War optimism and investment buying served to bolster many issues, but further profit cashing on the long recovery was a restraining factor.

First Loss Since Jan. 20.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 0.1 to 44.1, its first decline since Jan. 20. A number of large blocks expanded volume, which amounted to 1,053,130 shares, against 1,086,750 yesterday.

The breadth of the market in this fifth million share day of 1943 was shown by the fact 882 individual issues were traded. Of these, 324 were up and 289 down and 269 unchanged.

Southern Pacific and Union Pacific responded to big increases in 1942 net income, with fractional improvement, but the rail group as a whole was held back to some extent by the opening of hearings on a government request for cancellation of last spring's rate increases. Santa Fe, Southern Railway, and Great Northern ended the New York close.

CHICAGO LIST RISES AGAIN.

Chicago stocks moved forward again yesterday, with 20 new highs established for the year. Chicago Corporation common was the trading leader, with a turnover of 2,400 shares, but closed unchanged at 2¾. New York Central reached a new high of 12⅞. Commonwealth Edison dropped ⅛ in the last half hour of trade after the New York close.

RAIL BONDS ACTIVE, HIGHER.

New York, Feb. 2 (AP).—A group of low priced railroad issues monopolized attention in today's bond market with gains of small fractions to more than a point in exceptionally heavy turnover. The main corporate list held steady. The Associated Press average of 20 rails attained a new 1942-'43 peak at 68.1.

Sales rose to $15,000,900 par value on large turnover in about a dozen low priced rails, including obligations of the St. Paul, North Western, Missouri Pacific, Yesterday's volume was $11,864,000.

United States government loans were steady and quiet. Foreign dollar bonds were about even.

GRAIN FUTURES RECOVER FROM EARLY DECLINES

Wheat prices recovered from early declines in late trading yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade to close with gains of ⅛ to ¼ cent a bushel. Short covering and a little buying attributed to mills disclosed a lack of selling pressure.

Rye broke about 1 cent early but rallied later with wheat to finish ⅛ to ⅜ cent lower. Corn held within a narrow price range and was closed unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Oats lost ⅛ to ¼ cent and soy beans finished ½ cent lower. Volume was relatively small.

New ceiling prices on cash corn will become effective today, the Board of Trade announced.

PERSONAL INCOME TAX—11.

The same storm that destroys a farmer's barn or fence, creating a fully deductible loss, may also destroy growing crops or grain held in storage, for which no losses can be claimed when the farmer files his income tax return.

The bureau of internal revenue has ruled that the destruction of a prospective crop by frost, storm, flood, or fire is not a deductible loss, since it represents only a loss of anticipated profits. This is consistent with the ruling that farmers report as income only money actually received when their crops or produce are sold. [This discussion is based on the assumption that the farmer keeps his records on a cash basis.]

If farm products are withheld from market by the farmer in the hope of realizing a better price, he is not allowed to take a deduction for any shrinkage in weight or any deterioration that takes place during the storage period.

No deduction is allowed when live stock raised on the farm perishes, but if the live stock has been purchased by the farmer and later perishes or is killed by order of the federal government or a state, the purchase price may be deducted as a loss unless the farmer has been compensated by the government, by insurance, or otherwise.

Should a state or the federal government reimburse the farmer in whole or in part for live stock killed or other property destroyed, the reimbursement must be reported as income for the year in which it is made.

Like any other taxpayer, the farmer is entitled to deduct from taxable income his property losses arising from fires, storms, shipwrecks, or other casualty, or from theft, provided, of course, there was no reimbursement from insurance. In determining the amount of deductible loss, however, allowance must be made for the condition of the property at the time the damage occurred, and its salvage value.

For example, the loss on an old barn destroyed by fire would not be equivalent to its full original cost; depreciation would have to be taken into account. The general rule with respect to property whose market value can be determined, such as an automobile, is that the loss is measured by the difference between market value before and immediately after the casualty.

Farms have become popular investments in recent years not only as revenue producing properties but also for recreation and pleasure. The individual who owns and operates a farm in addition to being engaged in another trade or occupation, and who suffers a loss on farming operations, may deduct this loss from his gross income from other sources. The owner who operates a farm for recreations or pleasure rather than as a commercial venture, is not entitled to deduct any losses, since they are considered personal expenses. However, if the farm expenses exceed its revenues, the entire receipts from the sale of the farm's products may be ignored in reporting the owner's income.

[Thursday's article will be on the subject of allowable deductions for contributions and gifts.]

Predicts '43 Machine Tool Output Near Total for 1942

New York, Feb. 2 (AP).—Machine tools production this year within 10 per cent of the record 1 billion 350 million dollar output of 1942 was forecast today by the American Machinist, a trade magazine.

BRUSHING WITH MAKESHIFT CLEANERS MAY RUIN FALSE TEETH

TOOTHPASTES AND TOOTH POWDERS and household cleansers are not intended for false teeth—dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Many of these "makeshift" cleansers are so abrasive that continued use may ruin costly dentures.

DO THIS EVERY DAY!

SOAK IN POLIDENT! No brushing, no scouring—simply put one capful of POLIDENT in ½ glass of lukewarm water. Stir briskly. Place plate or bridge in this solution for 15 min., or overnight if convenient. Then, rinse well and use.

PLAY SAFE... USE POLIDENT

Soaking plates and bridges regularly in Polident dissolves ugly stains and cloudy film that collect daily, cleans those hard-to-reach places without the dangers of brushing; maintains their original natural appearance.

Polident is recommended by many leading dentists and approved by leading makers of denture materials.

BEWARE OF "DENTURE BREATH"

You won't know you have "denture breath" but others will! Yet POLIDENT, used regularly, quickly dissolves the film that soaks up odors—leaves plates odor-free and sweet. Millions call POLIDENT a blessing.

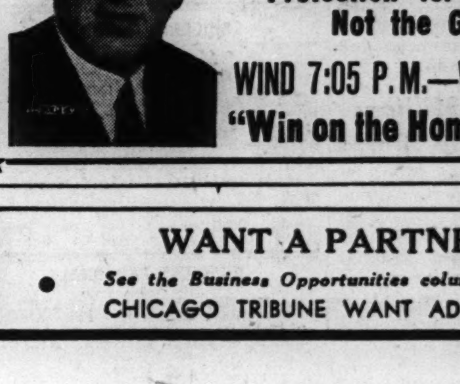

COSTS LESS THAN A PENNY A DAY

Generous 3 oz. size—30¢; economy 7 oz. size—60¢, at all drug stores. Your money back if not delighted. Today—play safe . . . get POLIDENT!

TRACTION PLAN BACKERS CLING TO SLIM HOPES

Observers Expect Final Rejection by State.

the plan and the city ordinance approving a new company would be effective in getting this."

Frank J. Durham, an official of the Citizens Transportation association, which worked to defeat the plan, commended the report.

"The conclusions by the examiners are based on hard facts," he said. "Some of these facts were presented to the commission by our association and were not refuted. The car riders are to be congratulated on having a regulatory body that will see they do not have to pay outrageous rates of fare."

Judge Igoe refused to comment.

Universal Transfers Proposed.

In substance the plan contemplates the issuance of 80 million dollars in bonds and about 100 million of stocks, which would be used to acquire the properties of the surface and elevated lines and operate them as a unit. The plan also promises universal transfers and a modernization program on which 102 million dollars would be spent in eight years.

The examiners, Leslie Salter and Fred Kleinman, held that the proposed company was promising far more than it could possibly deliver, that there was no safeguard against exorbitant fares and that as far as could be determined now, it was likely that the unified company, with a perpetual franchise, would be bankrupt in a short while.

Former Municipal Judge John H. Lyle, a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor, has filed with the commission a request that he be allowed to appear before it to argue against approval of the plan. His petition said there is a vast amount of "water" in securities of the present companies.

PRICES OF HOGS SLUMP; MONDAY GAINS CANCELED

Increased farm shipments of hogs that swelled the total sent to leading packing centers so far this week to 26 per cent above Monday and Tuesday last week brought prices down abruptly yesterday from the new winter peaks set Monday. Prices fell mostly 15 to 25 cents, with some sales down as much as 35 cents a hundred pounds at the Chicago stockyards.

Only one load sold at the $15.50 top price paid early in the day. The average price fell 20 cents, to $15.20, erasing all the Monday gains.

The largest cattle run for a Tuesday in four weeks failed to change most steer and yearling prices.

Receipts of 7,000 sheep and lambs were abnormally low, the second smallest for Tuesday since July, but prices held steady to 10 cents lower.

UNION PACIFIC'S EARNINGS EQUAL $28.14 PER SHARE

The Union Pacific railroad set aside 42½ million dollars for income taxes for 1942 and still had a net income of $62,083,985, a preliminary report made by the road showed yesterday. The profit, equal to $26.14 a common share, was more than double the $28,857,420, or $11.19 a share, earned in 1941. The tax bill in 1941 was $2,039,242.

Union Pacific's December net income was $11,432,823, compared with $6,986,288 in the last month of 1941.

DEFENDS HIGHER RENTS ON BASIS OF RENOVATION

A dismal description of the condition of the County Club apartment hotel, 6930 South Shore drive, before he became one of its owners was offered yesterday by Randolph Bohrer in opposing a proposal for rescinding rent increases granted on the property.

Testifying at an office of price administration hearing at 222 West Adams street, he said both the main and lobby roofs leaked so much that streams of water poured into guest rooms and the lobby.

Byron A. Cain of Byron A. Cain & Co., realtors, federal trustee for the Lott hotels, and president of the Shotwell Manufacturing company, testified that Bohrer had made a comprehensive rehabilitation of the property and was operating it competently.

U. S. to Lend 25 Millions for Uruguay Public Works

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Feb. 2 (AP). —Foreign Minister Alberto Guani today advised President Baldomir that the United States Export-Import bank had agreed to lend Uruguay $20,000,000 to finance public works. The loan would bear 4 per cent interest and be payable in 25 semi-annual instalments.

GASOLINE NEEDS PLACED 11 TO 15% BELOW YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2 (AP).—The bureau of mines estimated today that nation-wide demand for motor fuel this month would be 39,700,000 barrels, or 11 per cent below actual demand in February, 1942. It is estimated that stocks of gasoline, which were 73,216,000 barrels Nov. 30, would increase by 4,900,000 barrels during this month, partly because of the ban on pleasure driving in the east.

Revising its prior estimate, the bureau forecast that total demand for motor fuel in the first quarter of 1943 would decline about 15 per cent from demand in the first quarter of 1942, and that normal civilian consumption of gasoline might decline 30 per cent.

Placement Counselors
An employment agency is only as good as its placement counselors. Following along the same progressive line of offering, the services of a professional vocational analyst, Luella Canterbury, we now can boast of the most efficient, the best producing, and the most experienced team of placement men in town. Their combined time in the employment business total over 40 years. [They're still young men, as they both started their careers as youngsters.] They roughly estimate that they have placed upwards of 30,000 men on accounting, clerical, sales, and executive positions.
Come in and get acquainted with them if you are in the market for a position. It will be well worth your while.

Men! Women!
$25 for 30 Days Costs Only 75c
Now women as well as men may borrow from $10 to $300 on the strength of their jobs. Both office and factory workers are entitled to "while you wait" service if they phone ahead or come in with proper identification and evidence of employment. Even war workers on new jobs are eligible. Based on our monthly rate of 3% on balances of $150 or less and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance above $150, the cost on short term loans, as illustrated above, is quite reasonable.
